Rooms Are Set Aside in Hawthorne and Shaver Buildings to Accommodate the Children Promoted Until End of Year.

"Did you pass?" and "Are you going to High School?" were questions asked many thousands of times yesterday by public in the grammar grades of the Portland public schools. The Fall term having closed and examinations being completed and passed upon, each pupil was anxious to know the fate of the others in his or her room. In the morn-ing the children went for their exam-ination papers, and those who were suc-cessful waited only long enough to recelve the congratulations of their comanions, and then hurried home to tell

The grammar grades finished the term with 600 graduates, and as a re-sult the Board of Education is obliged to provide room for 75 per cent of the number. This has been done by fitting ip four rooms at the Hawthorne Sci and five at the Shaver School. furnishes enough accommodation for all who will enter High School. Last year there were only 389 graduates from the grades. An order from the Directors forbade the holding of any exercises in First and Yambill streets, was broken forbade the holding of any exercises in connection with the graduations, which caused considerable heartache among those affected

THUGS AND THIEVES BUSY

SEVERAL ROBBERIES REPORT-ED, BUT LOOT IS SMALL.

Showcase Is Broken, House Ransacked, Citizen Held Up and Residents Disturbed by Prowlers.

Thieves and prowlers were abroad in Portland last night and several rob-beries were attempted. One hold-up was frustrated by the timely arrival of a streetear crowded with passengers which stopped at the corner where the victim had been held up at the point of a revolver. A burglar was scared out of a house by the return of the family and two susplcious characters when discovered prowling about residences, used in-adent language to the householders and went calmly on their way apparently into by thieves and a quantity of under-wear abstracted. The noise of breaking wenr abstracted. The noise of breaking giass attracted the attention of passersby giass attracted the attention of passersby and the thief made his escape just as Patrolman Ruppert ran to the scene. No trace of the fugitive was found.

W. A. Jones, who lives at the home of C. H. Gilbert, 302 Vista avenue, was held up by two thugs armed with revolvers at the north end of the Ford street bridge. They were unmasked and were evidently beginners at the business. While Mr. Jones was standing with his hands in the air, a streetcar stopped hands in the air, a streetcar stopped nearby. The two robbers ran without having rifled the pockets of their victim. C. H. Still of $51 East Madison street returned home late last night to find that burglars had broken into his house and ransacked it from top to bottom. The return of Mr. Still and his family must have disturbed the burglar at his work as sounds were heard on their entrance. The thief must have made his escape one way while the family came in through way while the family came in through another. Nothing was missing.

Rev. Benjamin Young, 221 Eleventh street, paster of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, found a suspicious character prowling outside his house after the clock and when he asked the man Prank Healy's popular San Francisco Opera Company is packing the Baker titis week, and Teddy Webb, Amy Lelessier, Evelyn Frances Kellogg and all the rest so well known in this city continue to receive ovations at every performance. The bill is "The Strollers," a scream of fun and laughter and a gorgeous picture of girls, costume and scenery.

COMING ATTRACTIONS. "The Jap" Next Week, Howard Russell's play. "The Jap," so much talked about just now, will be presented for the first time on any stage at the Bungalow all next week, starting Founday matinee. The plot has not been given out as yet, but it is said many surprises are in store for patrons of the Baker Stock Company next week.

"The Burgomaster" Great as Ever, Some theater parties are being arranged in honor of Harry Hermsen, who will be welcomed to town heat Sunday mathee and night at the Baker, along with dainty Ruth White and other favorites who will be seen in Pixley & Luders' dainty different comin opera triumph, "The Burgomaster."

"Thirty Dollars" at the Orpheum.

Next weeke at the Orpheum Frank Nelson & Co will present the one-act classic by Newell Collina, the well-known artist, called "Thirty Dollara." The part of Philip, a young wayward chap and racetrack devotes, is one that fits Mr. Nelson exceptionally well, and the sketch is a complete, intense and ambilious production.

Luken's Lions. Trained lions will perform at the Grand next week in a steel cage. This is the first lion act that has been seen in vaudeville in some time, and it is considered the best in the world. There will be a half dozen other specialties on the new half dozen other specialties on the new programme, each one a decided feature.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS. "Marcelous" Imro Fox at Orpheu

Imro Fox, the comic conjuror and decep-tionist, who is now at the Ornheum, is really one of the most unique characters in his particular line of work. He is different and is refreshing, and he works in enough comedy to turn the tricks of legerdemain into a happy pastime.

Barnoid's dog and monkey actors at Paniages Theater this week are the great-est drawing cards in vandeville, as the Fourth-street house is packed to its full scating capacity at every performance. "A Hot Time in Dogville" is a comedy scream from start to finish, which no one can afford to miss.

Brilliant Sword Duel.

The most sensational sword due; that has been seen on a local stage occurs in "The Man's the Thing," the Readline act at the Grand this week Carries Moore, the popular romantic actor, is appearing in this playlet and his swordsmanship is seen at its best. It is a thrilling duel, most realistically presented.

Seven for Ten.

Seven valueville acts for a dime is a bargain in anusement which is presented at the Star Theater this week. The Star is offering some excellent specialties, which run principally to fun. The feature is the clasic posing of the Leonders, who are considered the greatest in their line.

Herman Wittenberg, chairman of the Board of Education, before presenting the diplomas, apologized for the small class this year by saying that a portion of the students have been taken by the East Side High School, and that all the courses now cover four years. A practical address to the class of the value of courses now cover four years. A practical address to the class on the value of a purpose in life, of the cultivation of the imagination, of courage, and of self-control, was delivered by Dr. Benjamin Young, of the Taylor-Street Methodist Church. Mr. Wittenberg referred to it, however, as theoretical, remarking that he had always had to do with the practical side of life.

Mr. Wittenberg said self-control is

It was a shocking surprise to Sollers. Of course it did become more or less clear during the course of the trial that Mrs. Noyes had learned to care more for her affinity than for her husband. But it was made clear, too, that only being thrown constantly together did their fondness for each other grow. This fact didn't seem to impress the jury, however, which summed the case up thus: Noyes had a wife, seven children and a boarder. He went out of town for a few months on business. When he got back the boarder had a corner on the affections of the family. These affections were easily worth

DOESN'T THIS SEEM REASONABLE?

Bold Claims Sometimes Appear Different When Confronted With Fact.

"We have no reason for offering a $400 piano for $290," says a yesterday's piano advertisement. "Our $400 pianos are worth $400!!!" etc., etc. It is a significant fact, and has for many reasts have a worth say of the say years been a matter of much comment that whenever one firm or another has found itself utterly unable openly and fairly to compete with Ellers Plano House and its money-saving methods and high-class instruments, that frantic endeavor is made to take refuge in ndo and abuse

INNUENDO AND ABUSE HAVE NEVER YET SOLD A PIANO.

"If a dealer or salesman runs down a competitor, distrust him." says John C. Freund, in the Pinno and Organ Pur-chasers Guide. "The man," he con-tinues, "who cannot make sales by commending his own wares, is un-worthy of confidence." JUST A SUGGESTION.

If the same makes of planos were sold by all firms, and, for example, one firm charged $500 for a new style Colonial Kimball Plano for which another firm charged only $350, and Ellers Plano House charged only $372 for the same plano, then no purchaser would waste time in deciding where to trade. There could be no doubt about it—Ellers Plano House would surely sell the plano.

But, unfortunately, each house carries a different make, and for each make the broadest claims are made. Hence the difficulty in proving, off-hand, the claim of Ellers Plano House BEFTER FIANOS FOR LESS MONEY THAN ELSEWHERE:

above church with a very interesting recital of ensemble planoforte playing, given in aid of one of the church's social guilds. The excellent programme, which opened with one of Mozart's sonatas (the second planoforte part added by Grieg) embraced other exacting works for two planos, such as the andante and variations of Schumann, op. 49, and Arensky's suite op. 15, including also a dainty country dance by Nevin and a brilliant concert waits by Von Wilno.

In order to maintain our low pricepolicy we must sell many planes. And if because of bur selling so many planes it turns little idle branch concerns green with envy, it must be beene in mind that it cannot be otherwise. If consignment dealers, instead of securing instruments from factories direct, are compelled to pay an intermediate or jobbing profit of even as little as $20 or $25 (and we know of cases where as much as $50 per piano, plus a percentage, is exacted from a Portland branch house), how can such concerns compete in an open and above-board manner with the facilities and advantages enjoyed by Ellers Plane House? Is it not a wonder that they dare attempt to do it at all?
There is no sentiment in commerce.
The buyer owes it to himself to patroalize the concern where he can do the best. This concern at the present writing is unquestionably Ellers Plane House, as it has been during the past ten years.

Bear in mind that all of our planes

Bear in mind that all of our planes are sold on a money-saving basis, among them the greatest and foremost of all, the Chickering, of Beston, and the Genuine Planela Piane.

OUR BIG CLEARANCE NOW!

Should you possess a fine old Chickering. Weber. Sohmer or other plane of reliable make, that is much worn by long and faithful service, don't throw it away or sacrifice it for less than its value in exchange for a new one. We can restore all its original qualities—you retain the old sentiment and associations, besides having practically a new instrument again—at very small comparative cost. We are enlarging our factory and will make a specialty of rebuilding work.

Call us over the phone and we will have an expert visit you at your residence to estimate cost of complete repairs on any such work you might desire. Eliers Plane House, 253 Washington street, Portland, Or.

CHILDREN'S COLDS AND THEIR RESULTS

COLDS NOT SO HARMLESS AS MANY PRESUME.

Some of the Most Serious Diseases Have Their Origin in a Common Cold.

Children are particularly susceptible to solds and often serious diseases of after life have their foundation in early colds. A child catches cold but unless it is very severe no attention is given the matter. It has had colds before and always recovered and it is not until the little one slarms the household in the dead of night and scares its mother into hysterics by having croup, that serious consequences are feared.

Another child catches cold and before it fully recovers takes another cold and perhaps before that is over contracts a fresh one. This succession of colds or even the neglect of the first attack causes inflammation of the mucous membrane, which was at first acute, to become chronic and the doctor will tell you that the child has chronic catarrh from which he will never fully recover. Another child catches cold, which could easily have been cured by proper treatment, but being neglected develops the most fatal malady of childhood, pneumonia. The doctor is called and pronounces it lung fever, and if the child is lucky enough to live it has developed weak have been contained. developed weak lungs, making it susceptible to all lung diseases, Still another child catches cold, a stubborn cough is developed which lasts all winter, sapping the vitality and weakening the system, thereby paving the way for the germs of other diseases. Diphtheria, whooping cough, scarlet fever and similar diseases could often be avoided if each cold received proper attention. Every one of these children could have been cured by the prompt use of Chamber-lain's Cough Remedy. A few doses and the child's cold is gone. It is a certain cure for croup and has never been known to fail. When given as soon as the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It also counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, quickly dispelling all fear of that dangerous disease. Don't wait until the child is sick and then send to the drug store for this remedy but keep it on hand ready for instant use when needed. It is perfectly harmless and should be kept in every home where there are young
