FRANCHISES TO BE CONSIDERED.—The City Council will meet in adjourned ses-City Council will meet in adjourned ses-sion tomorrow morning at 3:30 o'clock, to consider the numerous franchises, sought by the Portland Rallway, Light & Power Company, in various sections of the city. City Attorney Kavanaugh is preparing data to be used by the Coun-cil, and it is anticipated that the session will be long and important. The grants asked are for extensions, sidings and one or two new lines, principally one to one or two new lines, principally one to the Swift Packing plant on the Penin-sula. There is great interest throughout the city in affected districts, as the resi-dents, in some instances, are clamoring for certain concessions. Some have filed complaints against the abandonment of certain tracks certain tracks.

DEATH OF O. A. C. STUDENT.—Many friends of Cameron C. Stuart, and his parents are extending sympathy to the latter over the sad death of the young man Wednesday from pneumonia. Young Cameron was only 16 years old and was a student at the Oregon Agricultural College, this being his first year. He received his early education in the Portland public and high school. He was slek only about one week, and was the year of the last Alexander Stuart and son of the late Alexander Suart and Mrs. M. R. Colby, of this city. He was widely known in Portland as a young man of much promise and his death is generally regretted. The funeral has not yet been arranged and will be private.

TEN - YEAR TERM VETOED AGAIN.— Mayor Lane has again vetoed ordinances providing for ten-year maintenance on hard-surface pavements at 2½ cents per square foot, and has asked the City Council to provide for a shorter term. He says he does not wish to be understood as antagonistic to the pavement, but believes the time has come when the expense of maintenance is too great to bd longer borne by the taxpayers. The vetoes apply to Yambill, from Stout to Eliz streets, with bitulithic: Jessup street, from Union to Vancouver aveoue, and Mallory avenue, from Killings-worth to Ainsworth avenue, with the North Albina Push Club to the United East Side Push Club to meet in United East Side Push Club to meet in the firehouse, on Albina avenue, near Killingsworth avenue, next Thursday night, was accepted yesterday afternoon. It is expected that H. H. Newhall, Dr. C. H. Chapman and other members of the Charter Commission will address this meeting. The intention is to make this meeting important to the North Albina district, the object being to bring the North and South East Side closer together. The federation will also hold meetings in other sections of the East Side.

MISSIONARY MEETING TODAY .- The Wo-Missionary Missionary Societies, of Taylor-Street Church, will meet in the church parlors, at 19:30 A. M. today. Devotional exercises and business of the Missionary League will be followed by luncheon and a social hour. At 1:30 P. M. the pro-gramme of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society will be given as follows: Rollcall, news from India, map talk, Mrs. E. S. Miller; quiz on branch report, Mrs. A. Thurlow; solo, Mrs. W. A. T. Bushong; recitation, Mrs. Gillespie's pupils.

BRIDGE COMMITTEE MEETS,-The bridge ommittee of the City Executive Board held a lengthy session yesterday after-noon behind closed doors in the private office of Mayor Lane, but made no progress in its efforts to show that the condition of the East Twenty-eighth-street reinforced concrete bridge across Sulltvan's Guich is poor of quality and workmanship. Another meeting will be held soon.

PARK APPRAISIRS NAMED .- Mayor Lane yesterday appointed David S. Stearns, Gus Bartman and J. H. Gibson to ap-praise the lo-acre tract of ground at Sellwood, wanted for park purposes. A similar board will be named soon to appraise a tract near the Steel bridge, known as the Montgomery estate site, which is also wanted for a park.

ORGANIZE MASONIC LODGE.—Tonight a meeting of members of the Masonic order will be held in Simola & Davis hall, at Laurelwood, on the Mount Scott railway, to take steps for the organiza-tion of a Masonic Lodge. Reports of committees will be heard and arrange-ments completed for organizing a lodge.

TARIS NORTH YARIMA POSITION.—Wil-liam A. Spence, of East Stark street, has left for North Yakima, Wash., to ac-cept a position with a dry goods firm there. Engagement of Rabbi Wise to Miss Rosenfeld Is Announced ROSENFELD N engagement which is bringing A many felicitations in its train is that of Rabbi Jonah B. Wise and Miss Helen Rosenfeld, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Rosenfeld, which was made known yesterday. Rabbi Wise, who is the head of the Beth Israel Temple, came West two years ago to succeed Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, now of New York. Since that time Rabbi Jonah Wise has been engrossed with the extensive duties of the Temple. s is not only an able and eloquent orator, but he is an earnest student of public and civic problems.

Miss Rosenfeld is a handsome and ac complished girl who is extremely popular in her set. She is a graduate of the Portland High School, the Portland Acad emy, and later attended the Benjamin Dean Finishing School, of New York.

Rabbi Wise is a son of the late Isaac
Wise, the founder of the Hebrew Union College, at Cincinnati.
The Rosenfelds are among the most prominent Jewish families of Portland,

BLOCKS STREET IMPROVEMENT.—Through the efforts of L. G. Carpenter, the street committee of the City Executive Board yesterday afternoon temporarily held up the bid for the improvement of East Stark street, taking the matter under ad-visement. Bitter feelings have been en-gendered between Mr. Carpenter and big neighbors over the proposition, he his neighbors over the proposition, he vowing that he will enjoin the city if the contract is awarded without a change of grade. He has fought the proceedings for three years at every turn. Some of those who appeared against him yesterday asserted that he does not want any Logger Shot Down in Saloon by Proprietor.

DRINK LEADS TO MURDER

Toney Moer Slain by Hans Goodager in North End - Latter Gloats Over His Deed When Placed Under Arrest.

During a North End saloon brawl, Toney Moer, a Norwegian logger, about 24 years old, was shot and almost instantly killed, at 6:30 o'clock last night, by Hans Goodager, proprietor of the Cosmopolitan Cafe, at 51 North 'Third by Hans Goodager, proprietor of the Cosmopolitan Cafe, at 51 North Third street. The murder occurred in Goodager's saloon. Moer had been drinking and was ill-tempered, while the murderer was also so far under the influence of drink that he boasted of the deed immediately after he had slain his victim. Goodager was arrested, confessed to the shooting and is now confined in the City Jail, charged with murder in the first degree. William Bensen, a fellow laborer of Moer, is being held as a witness and the police are searching for a newsboy and two other loggers said to have seen the shooting. Investigation indicates that Moer was killed without provocation.

According to stories told by the murderer and witness Benson, which agrees in most of their details, Benson and Moer entered the resort a few minutes before the killing. They asked for a drink, but Goodager, who says that he has known Moer for some time and that he has the reputation of a saloon brawler, refused to serve them. Two other loggers were at the bar drinking when Benson and Moer came in. They overheard part of the trouble, but disappeared immediately and have not been found.

Moer walked out to a rear room while Benson watched the players. Goodager, revolver in hand, ordered Benson and Moer to leave the place. Fearing that Goodager, who was unsteady from drink, might use the weapon, Benson hurried out of the saloon.

Goodsger again ordered Moer out. The latter knocked the weapon out of Goodager's hand. This infuriated the saloon man and he ran behind the bar, grabbed another revolver and again came at Moer, shooting him in the mouth, the bullet passing out the back of the head. Moer sank in his tracks and died before a doctor could reach him. He never doctor could reach him. He never loved after he fell. The first news of the shooting was conveyed to Benson who, by this time, had gone two blocks from the scene, by a newsboy who told him that the saonman had shot his companion. Benson ran back to the saloon door, looked in, was afraid to enter and then ran down Third street until he met Patrolmen Shaffer and Leavens. With Sergeant Kay they went to the saloon and arrested Goodager.

The Coroner was notified and the police officers took the intoxicated saloonkeeper to jail. Before leaving the saloon he walked to the side of the dead body and said: "Well, that's a REV. A. J. MONTGOMERY MAY good job; you'll never be able to fight with any more policemen or saloonkeepers." Goodager laughed and said that he had ordered Moer out of his place and, because he would not go, Will Announce His Decision as Soon

But, owing to the delay in the mail, I shall not do so until Sunday morning."
The local church does not wish to lose its pastor, and is doing everything possible to induce him to remain. He says Swanson says he was an eye-witness to the shooting and that Moer drew a revolver on Goodager before Goodager
