

LIBERALS FAIL TO REPEAL PROHIBITION BILL

Efforts to Amend Abandoned After Three Ineffectual Attempts.

FRIENDS OF LABOR LOSE

Yakima Asks Deficiency Appropriation for District Fair—Resolution Received for Vancouver Bridge.

OLEMPIA, Wash., Feb. 8.—(Special.)—In spite of strong efforts made by the liberals to break up the local option strength during the week-end adjournment, the forces of the latter were intact today when the House reconvened. Every effort to amend the bill failed. The advocates of the McMaster bill, however, did not have the necessary two-thirds to amend the rules and place the bill on final passage, so the bill was simply advanced to third reading, but beyond reasonable probability of amendment.

Attempts to Alter Bill Fail.

Reports were circulated last night and this morning that the local optionists had lost four amendments which material amendments would be put through this afternoon. An attempt was made to return to section 1, which embodies the county unit, but the motion was voted down, 59 to 45. Another amendment offered by the liberals to provide that liquor elections shall be held at the time of regular elections was also voted down, 51 to 41. Another attempt to strike out the section restricting physicians in the prescribing of alcoholic liquors was defeated, 48 to 45.

Score of Petitions Presented.

During the pendency of the bill the petition circulators have been busy and petitions are piling up on the chief clerk's desk in both houses, protesting against the incorporation in the bill of the county unit. These petitions are coming in from localities all over the state, a notable one being signed by 400 business men of Tacoma.

Friends of Labor Lose.

The labor men, led by Cotterill, of King, and Bryan, of Kitsap, were willing to concede that the labor responsibility for injuries received in operating a machine from which he removed the safety device himself, but wished to protect the employer from the acts of other employees. Cotterill declared that the millmen had rebuilt the "wooden horse of Troy to assail the provisions of the factory act." The labor amendments were lost and the bill, which is a Senate measure, carried by a vote of 28 to 9.

Yakima Has Excess Claim.

Comparison was made with the successful fair held at Puyallup, Spokane and Walla Walla, which receive no state aid, and it was suggested that if North Yakima, by reason of location or transportation facilities, cannot hold a successful fair with the appropriation allowed, it would be better to make the city a gift of the buildings and other equipment and let the fair become a local enterprise.

Hotel Inspection Provided.

The Senate has passed a Senate bill regulating hotels. The bill requires fire escapes on all structures of over two stories and the keeping on hand in each room of ropes in hotels of two stories. Sanitary conditions are regulated and the size of sheets prescribed at $1 by 50 inches. An attempt is made by requiring that sheets be nine feet long.

HOUSE LOOTED IN DAYTIME

Eugene Burglar Loads Shotgun and Prepares to Resist.

EUGENE, Or., Feb. 8.—(Special.)—The residence of Dr. O. E. Smith was entered some time between 1 and 4 o'clock this afternoon and a rifle, a gold locket and some money stolen. A shotgun, which had been stored in the basement for some time, was found standing against a post, loaded and cocked. This gun was not seen in use for several months and had been put away empty. It is supposed that the burglar had found the gun and loaded it as a means of protection against any one who might discover him in the house.

UMAPINE, NEWLY-ELECTED CHIEF OF THE CAYUSE INDIANS

REDMAN WHO SHOWED FRIENDSHIP FOR WHITES DURING WAR WITH BANNOCKS.

UMAPINE IS CHIEF

Succeeds Ta-Wi-Toy as Head of Cayuse Indians.

RULER OF NOBLE LINEAGE

Helped to Capture Chief Eagran of Bannocks and Thus Saved Pendleton From Attack by Warring Tribe.

Helped to Capture Chief Eagran of Bannocks and Thus Saved Pendleton From Attack by Warring Tribe.

UMAPINE, sub-chief of the Walla Walla and famed among local Indians as a mighty hunter, is now chief of the Cayuse tribe, he having been elected to that position at a joint meeting of the three tribes now on the Umatilla Indian reservation. The announcement is made today by the new chief. His selection was made to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Chief Ta-wi-toy, two years ago, rivalry for the chieftainship having prevented the filling of the vacancy sooner.

Umapine is a magnificent specimen of the Indian being of noble descent and one of the few remaining on the reservation who have not been debauched and deprived of use of the beloved firewater. Standing more than six feet in height, straight as an arrow, and lithe, despite his 52 years, characteristic sloping forehead and prominent cheek bones, make him the typical Indian.

He also boasts of noble lineage, as only an Indian can boast, for it was old Umapine, the father of the present chief, who kidnapped Chief Eagran, of the Bannocks, saved Pendleton from being captured by that hostile tribe in 1833 and broke up the Bannock War. While old Umapine betrayed Chief Eagran to accomplish his purpose, he thereby firmly established his friendship for the whites, and this had hitherto been questioned.

The capture and subsequent killing of Chief Eagran by Umapine and his small band of Cayuse and Umatilla Indians was an event of more than ordinary interest to the inhabitants of this city, for it is generally conceded that the then samlet of Pendleton would have been captured by the Bannocks but for the loss of their chief. The present Cayuse chief, then a young brave of some 20 summers, was a member of this party.

LEASES TO STATE $37,500

Idaho's Governor Will, However, Continue Inquiry Into Merits of Coal Land Lease to Lewiston Man.

BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 8.—(Special.)—Apparently fearful that Governor Brady will not sign his "iron-ore" lease on 8000 acres of land in Nez Perce County, Gaylord W. Thompson, the Lewiston capitalist-politician, has volunteered to accept a modified lease. He has offered to accept a lease containing the provision that after the first five years royalty shall be paid at the rate of 15 cents a ton on all over 500 tons from each 100-acre subdivision of the entire tract. He has also agreed that in case he does not develop a producing mine within five years, he shall forfeit his rights under the lease.

Governor Brady took the proposition under consideration. To a reporter he said he would continue his investigation, hearing in mind Thompson's new offer, but that he had decided to take until March 15, instead of acting tomorrow, as he originally intended.

"I find the subject is too comprehensive," said the Governor, "to investigate thoroughly within the time I first specified, and I have informed the interested parties that I would continue the inquiry until the 15th of March."

If the Thompson representations are to be carried out in good faith, and if any ore deposits are opened up, the state will profit materially by the revised terms made to the Governor. Under the lease as originally presented and voted on by the Land Board, it was proposed to pay a minimum of $30 a year for the first five years and not less than $750 a year thereafter, whether any ore was mined or not. The lease read that the 15-cent royalty was to be paid on not less than 1000 tons the first five years, and on not less than 1000 tons thereafter.

KIDNAPING TRIAL BEGINS

Leo Bezemer, Who Demanded Ransom, Will Plead Insanity.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 8.—(Special.)—The work of impounding a jury to try Leo Bezemer, charged with having kidnaped E. G. English, the millionaire timber land owner of Skagit County, began this morning, says a special from Mount Vernon, where the trial is being held.

The subsequent pursuit and capture of Bezemer, who is known as "Whistling Rufus," created a sensation at the time. English was held up at the point of a revolver in the dense woods near Mount Vernon. The wealthy lumberman was bound to a tree with a chain and was forced to write a note to his wife, asking that she give the bearer of the message $500 for a ransom.

WILL DISCUSS CHARTER

At the meeting of the Montavilla Board of Trade last night it was decided to hold a public meeting next Tuesday night to hear the charter for the Portland Postcard Company.

DICE-SHAKING COMES HIGH

Seattle Man Held Up and Imprisoned in Course of Game.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 8.—(Special.)—Field prisoners at hours $400 worth of diamonds taken away from him, and forced to sign a check for $200 was the experience of Sam Pinschower, former proprietor of a notorious resort in the Henderson area, now a sane keeper here on Saturday. Pinschower and Gideon Tupper, another saloon keeper arrived at the Georgetown resort late Friday night. The two, with a man named Henderson, proprietor of the house, began to shake dice at $20 to $100 a throw. Pinschower lost $200, and when asked to pay, said he did not have that much money with him. He was relieved of his diamonds including a $1000 locket and a $1500 ring. Then he was locked in a room and told he would stay there until he signed a check. He was given nothing to eat but a single sandwich until Saturday afternoon, when he signed the check. He was then locked up again to remain until this morning, when the check could be cashed, the others fearing he would stop payment. He managed to whisper to a musician at the place to telephone Henderson now a sane keeper here, who got a Deputy Sheriff and went to Georgetown. Tupper and Henderson returned the diamonds and the check. Pinschower says he will not prosecute, but the authorities may do so.

Smallpox at Camas.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Feb. 8.—(Special.)—Five cases of smallpox are reported at Camas. The Benson family, from Oregon City, was first to contract the disease. A McKee family was placed in quarantine, but refused to be restrained. He was then taken to the county pest-house by an officer this afternoon. It is feared that many people have been exposed.

Father of J. Thorburn Ross Dies.

ASTORIA, Feb. 8.—(Special.)—John Ross, father of J. Thorburn Ross, of Portland, died here last night after a long illness of cancer. The deceased was 83 years of age, a native of Scotland and had lived here for many years. He left three sons, J. T. and J. W. Ross, of Astoria, and J. Thorburn Ross, of Portland.

DOES BABY SUFFER?

Cruel Eczema Keeps Little Patient in Agony.

RELIEF FOR ITCHING TORTURE

First Application of Soap Lake Lather Soothes the Angry Skin—Steady Use Keeps Skin Healthy.

Something that relieves itching quickly is what mothers want for babies suffering from eczema, sores or other skin diseases.

Soap Lake Soap not only has this quick effect, but liberal use of it also makes a permanent cure. It dries up the angry sores and soon brings the skin back to a smooth, fresh condition.

A father who read one of our advertisements came into our office the other day to learn whether Soap Lake remedies would help his baby. He said its little head was actually covered with itches and masses of scabs. The tiny sufferer enjoyed no peace while awake and could sleep little. He told us the next day, after using Soap Lake Soap and Soap Lake Salts, that relief had come at once. We guaranteed to refund the purchase price if a complete cure was not effected shortly. There have been hundreds and hundreds of similar cases here in the Northwest.

No chemist has solved the mystery of why these Soap Lake Salts have this wonderful immediate effect upon skin diseases, but the fact is that they have. They are Nature's specific for skin troubles. The Salts in their heaviest form are so harmless that they can be used undiluted in the eyes without causing the slightest irritation or ill effect. The tenderest baby skin is soothed by bathing with Soap Lake Soap.

GREEK KILLED FOR MONEY

INQUEST SHOWS VICTIM HAD OVER $500.

Crime at Clifton, Near Astoria, Is Somewhat Cleared by Inquiry by Coroner.

ASTORIA, Feb. 8.—(Special.)—An inquest was held by Coroner Gilbaugh this afternoon over the remains of the crippled Greek who was murdered at Clifton Friday night. The testimony showed that the victim's name was Christ Konias, and that the name of his companion, whom the jury accuses of committing the murder, was Andrew Moricous. As near as could be learned, the two men came from Marysville, Cal., recently; and while in Portland Konias cashed a draft for $500, so that at the time he was murdered he is supposed to have had between $500 and $700 in cash.

HORSEMAN IS NOT GUILTY

Aged Defendant Was Accused of Killing Clarence McBroom.

PENDLETON, Or., Feb. 8.—(Special.)—After a trial of exactly seven days, George Horseman, on trial for manslaughter, was acquitted by the jury at 9:45 tonight. The 12 men retired at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The killing of Clarence McBroom, for which Horseman has been on trial this second time, occurred at Pott's schoolhouse, following a meeting of cattlemen, two years ago. As a climax to a quarrel of long standing, McBroom, a young man, administered a terrible beating to Horseman, aged nearly 60. The shooting occurred after the fight. The defense alleged that McBroom was about to attack Horseman the second time, and pleaded self-defense. The state held the murder was cold-blooded and premeditated, alleging that Horseman had armed himself

TEETH ARGUMENTS BY UNION DENTISTS

First—Because we will tell you the truth about your teeth and what ought to be done.
Second—Because we can do your dental work right.
Third—Because we claim we can do your work just as good and for less than a lot of so-called dentists.
Fourth—Because we have years of good, hard experience, and have been located in Portland for years and can give you references from some of the best people in Portland.
Fifth—Because everything known to modern dental science, that is of any account and worth having, is used by us.
Sixth—Because we give you the best and most sanitary dentistry for about one-half the cost of what other dentists would charge you.
Seventh—Because it does not cost you anything to have your teeth examined by us, and an estimate given you what it will cost.
Eighth—Because if you want a honest dentist at honest prices and the truth appeals to you, give us a trial check. The two, with a man named Henderson, proprietor of the house, began to shake dice at $20 to $100 a throw.
