Head of San Francisco Towboat Service Will Offer Several Tugboats for Sale-News of Waterfront

Bids for the acquisition of a number of tugboats which will be available for use at the mouth of the Columbia River when the Fort of Portland assumes control of the tugboat service between Portland and the sea, will be considered at the next regular meeting of the Port of Portland Thursday afternoon. The matter will be taken up at the regular meeting of the Commission and will be thoroughly threshed out.

thoroughly threshed out.

Captain W. J. Gray, superintendent of the tugboat service at San Francisco, was in Portland for a short time yesterday and was closeted with Engineer J. H. C. Lockwood for several hours. The result of the interview was not made public and will not be until the meeting tomorrow. Captain Gray left on the afternoon train for Seattle, where he will remain for one day.

Captain Gray represents the united interests of the Merchants Towboat Company and the Spreckels crowd. He will offer to the Port of Portland the choice of a number of tigs. There are for sale the tigs Hercules, Gelish and Fearless. The two former are new boats and very powerful. The Fearless is a duplicate of the Wallula, which is now in service on the bar.

During his visit to Astoria Mr. Lock-wood took occasion to inquire into the conditions on the bar. From pilots and tugboat masters he learned that the water had deepened to 27 feet at dead low water. In the opinion of bar men the water will show a depth of 30 feet when the annual survey is made by the Government in June. The width of the channel is fully 2000 feet, with a depth of 37 feet. my opinion, gave a plan that would pro-tect the game. But as it happened; the writer referred to was not a "sportsman." and his plan was so simple that none of our Legislatures adopted it. He is Judge Hall, of Marshfeld, and he said: "Limit the amount killed and see that the law is enforced."

the amount killed and see that the law is enforced."

Members of the present Legislature called a meeting of the sportsmen last week to discuss a new law for game protection. It appears to me that The Oregonian's plan, and that of the present Legislature calling on sportsmen for plans for game protection, is similar to what would happen were "crooks" at Salem called on to help make laws for the protection of property. Practically all of the game is killed by sportsmen, and naturally they wish to get all they can, like the "crooks." In The Oregonian's symposium of opinions from sportsmen published several years ago, was one from the sourciary of the Oregon Fish and Game Protective Association, asying he "Did not see how the present law could be improved," and at that time the limit on ducks was 100 per day. I think that is unfortunate, coming from the secretary of the association that has practically conrolled the game laws of the state, and of course he volced the opinion of the association.

if not another duck was killed they would not nest where they would be disturbed by passers.

In The Oregonian of January 21 another writer alleges that the scarcity of ducks is caused by their nests being robbed by the indians in Northern breeding grounds and who ship these birds eggs in large quantities. I heard that story a long time ago, and if I remember aright it was investigated and found to be incorrect, but it may be true at the present time. His estimate of the number killed by men belonging to clubs, along the Columbia River, I think is far too low. It would be nearer what each member gets.

I think it is a conservative estimate that inhorbenths of all the ducks killed in the state are taken along the Columbia River, and if the shooting season was from Sectional in the state are taken along the Columbia River, and if the shooting season was from Sectional and Columbia River counties and the Kismath Basin, and from November I to be last day of February for the balance of the state, and the bag limit put at five per day and not more than ten per week, which is as much as any two families need, then all the shooters will have an equal show and there will not be more than one duck killed where 20 are now. Indeer our present law the Pacific Coast and Columbia, River counties and the Kilamath Hasin set from five to seven months' shooting, and the balance of the state about two months. The reason for this is because the first flights of ducks come about September 1, and as there is plenty of water along the coast, Columbia and Klamath, there the ducks go, and the shooting commences. In the less-favored section of the site, where there is no extensive body of water, the ducks do not appear until the streames overflow and fill the shallow ponds, which is generally the latter part of November, and it is often December before there is water coough to bring ducks. I am for game protection.

It is a generally recognized truth that medicines made from vegetable ingredients are a great deal better adapted to the delicate human system, and safer in every way, than those composed of strong mineral mixtures and compounds. Mercury, potash, arsenic, etc., which are used in the manufacture of most blood medicines, are too violent in their action, and frequently derange the system by disturbing the stomach and digestion, affecting the bowels, and when used for a prolonged period often cause Rheumatism. S. S. S. is the only blood medicine guaranteed absolutely and purely vegetable. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, selected for their purifying and healing qualities. S. S. Asks Council to Revoke Three Saloon Licenses.

MAYOR OFFERS TO HELP

Councilman Who Made North End Raid Requests Auditor to Cite Blazier and Zetos to Appear for Hearing.

Councilman Wills called at the City Hall yesterday and instructed License Inspector Hutchinson to cite Ed Blazier the proprietor of Erickson's and Max Zetos to appear before the next meeting of the liquor license committee of the City Council to show cause why their licenses should not be revoked. This is following out his recently-announced poltoy of cleaning up some North End re-sorts that he says are too tough to be allowed to run.

Wills last Saturday night conducted a raid on Blazier's saioon, at Third and Burnside streets, when 35 men were found seated at a poker table, playing a game for money. They pleaded guilty in the Municipal Court Monday after-noon and were fined $5 each, which Ed Blazier paid.

Since securing a conviction of these men, Councilman Wills announces that he will follow up his action and endeavor to secure revocation of their licenses, as he says he does not consider such saloonkeepers worthy of a license. He also found what he declares are bad inditions at Erickson's, just across Burnside street from Blazier's, and at Zetos' saloon, 229 Sixth street, he caught the proprietor selling liquor to an intox-leated man, which is contrary to a city ordinance. Mr. Wills had Zetos arrested, and now proposes to have the license revoked, if possible, and says he has sufficient evidence to warrant such action

"I am glad to see Mr. Wills taking such an interest in city affairs," said Mayor Lane. "I will give him all the help I can. I have always held that the best way to straighten out a bad saloonkeeper is to take his license away; I have often asked the Council to do this in some cases, as there is no use in employing policemen to keep tab on saons where men are playing cards on the sly, when the players do not have money in sight when policemen enter. The way to do it is to revoke the license of any saloonkeeper where gambling is allowed, once it is established that he allowed, once it is established that he allowed it."

There was a rumor yesterday to the effect that Councilman Wills intended introducing a resolution into the Council today, calling for an investigation of the Police Department, but Mr. Wills denied
