Plan of Defense.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 10.-After offering tes sort of a husband William J. Lemp, Jr., the millionaire brewer, was at home, the attorneys of his wife in her divorce suit today brought out his career as "a man about town," witnesses describing hap-penings in various sections of the city at

The deposition of Pearl Richey, of Chi-cago, was read. Her testimony had to do with the alleged presence of Lemp at various places where she had resided in

The deposition of Jacob Rosenstein, of Chicago, was read. He is a woman's tallor. He testified that since the marriage of Lemp he had met Lemp in various houses in St. Louis. He said he knew Lemp well and had made Miss Handlan's trousseau when she was married to the eau when she was married to the defendant.

The plan of the defense contemplates the establishment of the fact that most of Mr. Lemp's absences from home were occasioned by business requirements. In support of this contention, many of his employes will be called, and it is said that Gustavus Pabsi, of Milwaukee, who married a sister of Mr. Lemp, will testify in his brother-in-law's behalf.

The reading of the 600-page deposition

The reading of the 600-page deposition of Mr. Lemp was begun today. The first quarrel he remembered occurred in 1904, when he spoke to his wife about her son. He denied that he struck her then, but thought he might have shoved her. He admitted he carried a revolver, but denied aiming it at his wife.

Johnson Stands By Guns. Johnson repeated his defiance of the President and called upon the Assembly to "atand by its gunn." He was shawered by Transue and Melrose, every phase of the question being reviewed. Transue suddenly withdrew his resolution and the fight centered on the recon sideration motion by Walter Leeds, Les Angeles. This was finally forced to s vote and it was carried, 43 to 34. The roll call on the bill itself immediately followed, and it was rejected by a vote ef 41 to 37. Johnson was at once on his feet with a motion again to reconsider, which was put to a vote, which resulted 38 to 38, and the motion was lost.

"Under the agreement between Japan and our Government, said the Gover-nor, "the former is pledged to restrict emigration so much as possible. If Japan had grounds for abrogating this measure and decided, in view of unfriendly acts upon the part of the California Legis lature, to remove these restrictions upon the emigration of her people, all our ports would be open to the latter. If then we went before Congress and asked the East for support for a general Asiatic exclusion law, the latter might advance the adverse argument that we had the situation well in hand at one time, through Federal negotiations, and lost our advantage by the acts of our Legis-lature against the wishes of the President and Secretary of State."

In the Senate a long resolution by Marc Anthony, of San Francisco, in-lorsing United States Senator George Parkins' attitude in the Japanese controversy, was quickly disposed of by reference to the committee on judiciary.

New York Merchants Want Other States Stirred Up.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.-The Board of Trade & Transportation today considered the Japanese question.

After a warm debate in which much opposition was expressed by Thomas Nixon and others, a resolution was adopted which declared that, "while realizing that the autonomy of every state should be zealously guarded, appeals should be made to the merchants and manufacturers of other states to co-operate with them in impressing upon the citizens of the Pacific Coast the unwisdom of attempting to nullify by state action the treaty entered into between the United States and Japan, whose people have proved themselves to be an independent factor in the world's work and whose trade is of great value to this

TOKIO, Feb. 10.-James Hamilton Lewis, of Chicago, and former member of Congress from the State of Washington is at present in Tokio. He has pre-sented letters from the State Depart-ment to Ambassador O'Brien and the Foreign Office.

Questioned regarding the present situa-tion on the Pacific Coast, Mr. Lewis said that the Democratic party in America was thoroughly in accord with President Roosevelt in his efforts to maintain the treaty understanding with Japan.

He declared that America was unani-mous in desiring peace and harmony in the Orient, and that all legislation passed by any state in conflict with the treaty obligations and the Constitution would be annulled by the courts.

Roosevelt Says Action Obliges Nation to Safeguard Interests.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—On receipt of tured by each. a telegram from Governor J. N. Gillett, of California, teday, announcing that the Japanese school segregation bill had been killed in the Assembly, President Roosevelt sent the following reply:

"Accept my heartlest congratulations. All good Americans appreciate what you have done. Pray extend my congratulations individually to all who have aided you. I feel that the way in which California has done what was right for the Nation makes it more than ever obligatory on the Nation in every way to safeguard the interests of California. All that I personally can do towards this end, whether in public or in private life, shall most certainly be done."

In reply to a similar measure from Speaker V. A. Stanton of the California Assembly, the President telegraphed:

"Accept my heartlest thanks and congratulations for the great service you have rendered. On behalf of the people of the United States, I thank the people of California and their representatives in the Legislature."

Owing to the limited capacity of the House, but few persons other than the families and relatives of the members of the two houses witnessed the ceremony.

Long before the appointed hour for counting the electoral votes the galleries were filled to overflowing, even the steps of the aisles being utilized for seats. None was admitted without card, so Solemn Procession of Senators.

Vice-President-elect Sherman, in his Vice-Fresident-elect Sperman, in his capacity as a Representative from New York, occupied his accustomed place on the floor. Deorkeeper Lyon announced at 1 o'clock the arrival of "the Vice-Fresident and the Senate of the United States." The procession moved slowly down the center also and the seats assured were at once occupied the Vicedown the center alse and the seats as-signed were at once occupied, the Vice-President mounting the rostrum and taking a position to the right of the Speaker. when Mr. Burrows announced that Alabama had cast her full vote of 11 for W. J. Bryan and John W. Kern, applause broke out on the Democratic side. Instantly Mr. Fairbanks arose and admonished the House.

Says Applause Undignified. "The chair is obliged to suggest," said he, "that all manifestations of applause or approval are in contravention of the proprieties of the occasion. They offend against the dignity and decorum of the great transaction now proceeding in the ferees. presence of the chosen representatives of the American people. The chair is confident that a repetition of this admonition will be unnecessary."

But the announcement that California had cast her vote for Taft and Sherman, thus mentioning for the first time the names of the successful candidates, caused some applause on the Republican

The Republicans again applauded when Mr. Rucker, one of the tellers, himself a Democrat, and from Missouri, an-nounced that Missouri cast her 18 votes for Taft and Sherman.

Burrows Causes Laugh.

Several times there was applause as the votes were announced and Vice-President Fairbanks had to admonish the House against such manifestations. The whole House laughed aloud when Senator Burrows misread the vote of Nebraska and put that state in the Revolution of the contract of the c publican column. With some embarrass-ment he corrected his mistake and in a loud voice stated that the eight votes had been cast for Bryan and Kern. The Democrats applauded, but a sharp rap of the gavel by the Vice-President immediately restored order.

When Mr. Balley called attention to the fact that the certificate of Wisconsin read that the vote of that state was for "W. H. Taft, of New York, and James S. Sherman, of New York," Mr. Balley said that, "of course under the Constitution it is not permissible for a state to vote for a candidate for President and Vice-President from the same state, but your teller perfectly understands that this is a clerical error." He asked that the tellers be authorized to report the vote of Wisconsin as having been cast "for W. H. Taft, for whom all these other electoral votes were cast." There was no objection and the Vice-President directed that the vote be recorded for

Charcoal, the Greatest Gas

Absorber Known.

There is no necessity to suffer the humiliation, chagrin and discomfort of bad breath, biliousness, sour stomach, gastritis, sluggish liver, etc., when a little lozenge of charcoal will cleanse the stomach and make it pure and sweet. Do not drug yourself when a simple little natural charcoal made from fragrant willow branches, sweetened with honey, will add tone to your stomach, liver and intestines, rapidly absorb gases and stop foul odors of all kinds.

Charcoal will absorb one hundred times its own volume in gas. A box full of charcoal placed in a bedroom will keep the air of such a room pure and sweet.

A little charcoal lozenge dissolved on the tongue after meals will also keep the stomach fresh and clean. Charcoal is justiy called the scrubbing brush for the stomach. The old monks of medieval times cured bad cases of stomach rouble, cast out devils from the system of man by feeding such a man charcoal. Scientific men of today believe in the great strength of charcoal for the cure of human ills. Too much of it cannot harm one. The system craves it just like an animal needs and craves sait every so often. Charcoal goes fato the stomach gently and is welcome, it settles down through the action of the stomach, and filters through all the food, absorbing gas, alding in digestion and giving tone to the jul. ; so that when the food goes into the intestines, and there meets other digestive fluids, the charcoal holds the impurities and thus keeps them from the blood. the impurities and thus keeps them from the blood.

HISTORY OF A FAMOUS REMEDY

ITS SUCCESS DUE TO MERIT

ALONE.

Its Growth from the Start Was Simply Due to the Fact That It Would Invariably Effect a Cure.

Every industry has its pioneer days and it is during these struggling times that its worth and merit are tested. The early history of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy shows that, except in point of merit, it had no more hope of success than other similar preparations, which were started at about the same time, but were never known outside of their own locality and have long since ceased to be manufactured. Step by step each successive year as its superior excellence becomes more widely known it has been gradually gaining in favor. Taken first, perhaps, on trial by some family, who found it good, it was recommended by them to a neighbor; they in turn passed it on to other friends and for over thirty-five years its reputation has in this manner been spreadi until it has reached the utmost corners of the earth. Science and advanced medical authority during all this time have failed to produce a better remedy for coughs, colds and croup, and today Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is enjoying the largest sale of any similar preparation on the market. This success can be attributed to no other cause than its sterling worth. No matter how much prominence an article may receive through the medium of advertising, it must be trustworthy to hold the confidence of the public. In thousands of homes this remedy is the main reliance of parents in attacks of croup. Not only does it always give prompt relief, but it is so pleasant to take that children like it, and it contains nothing that is in any way injurious.

The answer to the question, "Are we a beef-eating nation?" to given in the fact that Swift & Co. sold $250,000,000 worth of beef in a year: Armour, $270,000,000, and others $250,000,000, bringing the total to $770,000,000 for beef alone.
