ROSE FESTIVAL-June 7-12. '09.

PROPLE'S FORUM SUNDAY .- Richard W. Montague will be the speaker at the Peo-ple's Forum Sunday night. The subject of his address will be "The New Char-ter." Mr. Montague is considered peculiarly fitted to speak upon the subject, not only because of being a member of the Charter Revision Commission, but also because he was a member of the Commission that framed the present charter, and is thoroughly acquainted with all of the differences between the two charters. The Forum has devoted it-self lately almost entirely to the discussion of the new charter because of its importance to the people of Portland at the present time. The meeting will be held at the Hirsch-Selling Building at 8 P. M. Everybody is invited.

Big Fill PROGRESSING.—Work on the fill across Stephen's Slough, on East Ninth street, is prograssing rapidly, and has already reached the treate which carries the dump trains. The embankment will be three blocks in length and about 20 feet high. When completed it will connect the Brooklyn district with Stephen's Addition and form the connect ing link in East Ninth, which will then be a long street extending through East Portland. At present the elevated roadway on East Eighth street across Stephen's Slough is worn out and will soon have to be condemned, but with East Ninth street filled there will be a per

Woman SENTENCED TO JAIL-Mary Bell appeared in Justice Olson's court yesterday on the charge of larceny by balles theft of a raincoat from her mistress. The young woman had been employed as at the residence a domestic at the Florence Wells, in Fast Portland, and is charged with having stolen the raincoat when Mrs. Wells had gone down town. She pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to 20 days' imprisonment in the County Juli. She explained that she thought any one was justified in stealing either a raincoat or umbrella in Port-

Bio Care on Show,—There is on exhibition in the windows of the North Pacific ticket office one of the most elaborate confections ever seen in Portland. An immense cake 2½ feet in diameter at its base carries on the top a reproduction of the three figures used in the official emblem of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exhibition. These figures are made of Icing and are remarkably well executed. The whole group, with the base, stands about five feet high. The big cake and embellishment were done at the Seattle bakeshop of the company's dining department and arrived last night on train No. 2. The cake is to remain on exhibition for several days.

Valenting Lunch.—A special valenting hoard.

At police headquarters the woman was overcome with grief, and refused to talk. She was sent to the Young Women's Christian Association, where she is being cared for. De Limesay is confined in a cell in the City Jail. He also refused to talk, though he says he will be able today to clear up the matter. He is said to be a member of a wealthy and prominent family of Dayton, O.

The couple were elegantly attired, the woman wearing an imposing array of diamonds and other gems. However, these were not sufficient to ransom her husband or secure his release, for he is held without bonds, awaiting further instructions from Vancouver. He says he will have ample funds today.

De Limesay and wife arrived in Portland a week ago. They were guests of the Portland Hotel until Tuesday, when they moved to the Buckingham, directly across Yamilil street. Yesterday morning the man presented a draft for $500 to the clerk of the Portland, giving numerous references in New York City. The draft was drawn upon the Second National Bank of New York and telegrams were sent by the hotel management to the persons given as references. Up to a late hour last night no reply had been received.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—A conference on lumber questions was held today be-tween the board of governors of the Na-tional Lumber Manufacturers' Associational Lamber Manufacturers' Associa-tion and representatives of organized labor who have been attending the Na-tional council of labor at the Depart-ment of Commerce and Labor. They discussed the cost of production in this country, in comparison with Canada where Japanese, Hindus and Chinese labor is largely employed in forests and in the lumber mills; the likelihood of a reduction of wages in the lumber districts if Congress reduced the duty on Canadasa lumber, and means for the tricts if Congress reduced the duty on Canadian lumber; and means for the conservation of the lumber supply of America. No definite conclusions were reached. The discussion being informal, manufacturers asserted that between 60 and 70 per cent of the cost of lumber was labor, and that the demand for labor by American lumbering interests would b increased materially by the admissi lumber free from Canada.

OREGON DRY DOCK COMPANY

PORTLAND, OREGON

W. H. CORBETT.

WM. L. BREWSTER, Vice President ALVIN BOODY. Sec'y and Treas.

Now Building a One-Piece Floating Dry Dock With Capacity for Vessels 375 Feet Long and of 4000 Tons Weight.

Because of its decision to construct a larger dock than originally planned for, this Company announces that it offers for sale at $100 per share, all the unsubscribed-for portion, amounting to $35,000, of its authorized capital stock of $100,000.

This dry Dock, which will adjoin the Willamette Iron & Steel Works, at the foot of North Nineteenth Street, will be the most modern and up-to-date plant of its kind on the Pacific Coast, and will compare favorably in point of completeness of equipment with any of its size to be found in any of the ports of the world.

Shares of this Company offer a means for as sound an investment as may be found anywhere in a strictly industrial project. It is an exceptionally clean-cut, conservative business proposition, having the added feature of tending to materially promote the development and prestige of this port.

It will be more than a mere docking plant, for the reason that it will be completely equipped for handling every variety of ship repair and alteration at reasonable charges and with the greatest dispatch.

It will draw to this port business that is now being done elsewhere.

It will cause this port to be known among shipowners and managers the world over as one which has seriously entered the race for its share of the world's commerce.

Those who are the first to anticipate the industrial needs of a community destined to be the distributing center for a vast and immensely productive territory, not only are assured of a substantial, permanent and increasing return on their investment therein, but will experience the satisfaction of having contributed to the commercial upbuilding of the port.

Construction of the dock and the preparation of its berth are now under way and the plant will be ready for business not later than July 1st, next.

The balance of this stock will be sold at its par value of $100 per share and subscriptions thereto must be accompanied by 60 per cent of the amount subscribed for.

A representative of the company will receive subscriptions and give all further information desired at Room 222, Commercial Club Building, between the hours of 2 and 4 P. M. All written communications should be addressed to the office of the company, foot of North Nineteenth street, Portland, Oregon.
