for it passes through lands that are in a high state of cultivation, and on account of the many small towns through which the roads pass in the White and Puyallup River Valleys. Some of the lands alone through which the Milwaukes has built cost the road $16,000 for a quarter acre. By its acquirement of this right-of-way the Union Pacife practically has closed the gap between here and Ta-coms, where the Twohy Bros. who have the tunnel contract, are preparing to rush their work as fast as possible, owing to the heavy penalty that will be forced in case the big bore is not completed within one year. What makes the purchase of interest in the Milwankee right-of-way of unusual interest is the big change of values in the White River Valley in the last 25

The Indian fighters of 1855 have been pared down $50,000 by the House, and the Board of Forestry, $12,-000. The normal trimming is yet to take place. By the one-normal plan the state would save 2000,000.

House Turns Clock Back.

The Senate today finished up all its bills early in the afternoon, but the liouse worked on its bills until past midnight, with the clock stopped at fly minutes before 3 in the afternoon-this for the reason that, by resolution, exchange of bills was shut off at 3 P. M. The Senate allowed the House to keep up the grind. President Bowerman and Speaker McArthur called for return of all bills to their respective houses from committees, and the cleanup is said to be complete in both bodies.

Only eight votes were cast in the House against Representative Bonebrake's bill, providing $210,000 to be expended during the ensuing two years | night. for additional equipment and new buildings at the State Agricultural College. During the 30-minute debate that preceded the vote on this bill. the Corvallis school was praised as the foremost and most practical educational institution in the state and entirely deserving of every cent of the approprintion that had been recommended by the ways and means committee.

Dimick and Farrell, while professing friendship for the school and belleving that its actual necessary wants should be supplied, considered that $210,000 was too much to be voted at this ses-Farrell submitted an amendment cutting the appropriation in two but in supporting the bill, McCus remarked that the Legislature seemed perfectly willing to provide abundantly for its public school, State University and Agricultural College and demanded that the friends of higher education in the House should transfer their energies to the Senate and see to it that the normal schools also should receive recognition commensurate with their worth to the state. The bill was supported cordially in the debate by Ronebrake, Beals, Buchanan and Carter. Those voting against it were: Brandon, Dimick, Farrell, Hatteberg, Jones (Douglas), Libby, Munkers and Orton. The bill provides that the $210,000 final. shall be expended for the following purposes: Additional equipment, $60 .-000; central heating plant, $35,000; armory or drill hall, $35,000; central agricultural building, $55,000; green-house, $5000; purchase of additional
