SHARPE VARIES TESTIMONY

State Lays Foundation for Its Later Efforts in Latter's Account of Details of Murder-Big Crowd Is Present.

"When did you telephone Mrs. Burch, our sister, to find your father?" "About 9:30 A. M."

"And you wanted your sister to keep him off the streets."
"Yes, sir."

Still your father had left you a mo-

"I don't know. The nickel-plated one looks like it. I only glanced at it." The state's object was to identify the revolver Colonel Cooper carried. Its contention is that the gun said to have been found near Carmack's body was, in reality, Colonel Cooper's, substituted for the one carried by Carmack. Young Cooper said the automatic re-volver with which he shot Carmack was the first one of its kind be ever held in his hand. He denied that he ever practiced with one.

It developed, too, that while looking for his father the day of the tragedy. Robin Cooper met Governor Patterson and walked through the arcade with him at the Governor's request.

"Were you armed at that time?"
"I was."

"Did you talk with the Governor about the trouble?"
"Yes, sir."
"How often had you talked to Gov-erner Patterson that day?"

"Twice. Once in front of the Tu-

"And were you armed then?"
"No, sir; I got the revolver after I saw the Governor that first time." "You suggested to your uncle, James Bradford, to arrange the difficulty?"

"You knew Bradford hated Car-"No. sir; I knew he did not admire him." "You know the newsboy, John Tyn-

"I do." Contradicts Witnesses.

"Do you know of any motive why he should perjure himself to harm you?" .
"I do not, but we made no remark to the effect that 'We will get him,' or 'He will catch it."
"Do you know whether there is any reason why Mrs. Eastman or Charles Warwick or Carrie Folk should perjure themselves to deprive you of your life

"So when Carrie Folk said, Let's go up here, and your father replied, No. let's wait here awhile, he is mistaken or swearing falsely?"

"Yes, he misunderstood the conversa-tion. I think."

"When you saw Senator Carmack over half a block away, you began to hurry your father away?"
"Yes, sie"

"Yes, sir. "Did your father stop?"

"Yes; turned around."
"And didn't your father say, There's that damned rascal now; we will go out and shoot it out with him?" "No, sir, he did not. He said, 'There's Senator Carmack', I want to talk to

"And you did not say 'Yes' to your father's statement as I have quoted it?" "No, sir; father went on over towards Carmack," despite my protests, and I steod still for a few seconds."

The Attorney-General led the witness on up to the time of the shooting, trying to get a contradiction, but the boy was careful and stuck to his story. Efforts to anger him were fruitless. "Was your attention exclusively on Senator Carmack from the time you saw

Carmack Concealed Gun.

"Will you say what Senator Carmack was doing with that pistol from the time you saw him draw until you got in his line of fire?" "He was holding it behind Mrs. East-"But he did not shoot until you got around the pole, did he?"

"What was Senator Carmack doing when you began to fire?"
"He was aiming his revolver directly at me."

The Attorney-General handed Robin a revolver, and had him stand as he stood when he opened fire. Next he had the witness represent Senator Carmack. The jury watched the pantomime intently, and the great crowd stood up and leaned

"There had been no unpleasantness, and you did not draw your revolver until you were shot?"
"I did not. I was shot before I opened

Would you object to showing the jury the wound in your shoulder?" No. sir."

The young defendant opened his collar, unbuttoned his shirt, and drawing the clothing away, walked slowly along the jury box. The jurous raised up curiously, and one of them pulled the boy's shirt further back in order to trace the direc-tion of the scar.

The witness admitted that the range of the bullet was upward, and was per-mitted to don his clothing.

"When did you see Robin Cooper?"
"I saw Bobin about 4 P. M. in the Arcade, near the alley that intersects it. I was on my way to the Talane when I met Representative Mathews. He wanted me to order a suit of clothes. While there talking the Coopers, Colonel Duncan and Robin came up."
"Was there any arrangements to meet."

Was there any arrangements to meet "There was not. Colonel Cooper asked me to go to the Governor's mansion and

I agreed."
"Did you know of any meetings in Bradford's office?"

"No, sir."

Mr. Sharpe here detailed the movements of the party up to the time they met Senator Carmack. Mr. Sharpe's testimony followed closely that given by Robin Cooper in the same relation, Mr. Sharpe saying when he saw Mr. Cooper crossing the street:

"Carmack shot twice."
"What did Robin do?"
"He jumped inside the pole, swur around it, and as he did so I saw weapon in his hand." "What did he do?"

Corroborates Young Cooper.

"He shot three times."

"Carmack fell after the third shot."
This answer pleased the State, for on yound was in the back of Senator Car mack's neck and must have been fired elilier from behind or as the Senator recled and fell.

"Where was Colonel Cooper?" "Standing near the pole."
"Were you armed that day?"
"No, sir."

"Did you expect any trouble?"

"Did you bear Senator Carmack any

"Did you, even in thought, consent to he killing of the Senator?"
"I did not, and on the other hand, I regretted it very much."

The witness denied specifically ever having said that Carmack should have been dead and in hell for 29 years. On cross-examination the witness declared that he never saw the revolver Robin Cooper used until the boy was using it, and had no knowledge of Robin Cooper or Robin Jones wanting to borrow a gun. The state's theory is that the automatic revolver is John Sharpe's. Hard fighting forced the witness to say that when he turned around just as the shooting was commenced, he feared there might be serious trouble. "You felt so apprehensive of trouble that you broke your promise to go with Colonel Cooper to the Governor's mansion and started home?"

"Those shots were fired very rapidly, were they not?"
"Yes, very rapidly, like this-bang, bang, bang, close together."

"I started home. I intended to tell my wife what had happened and return

Contradicts Woman's Evidence. The witness was closely pressed about his sight of Carmack's pistol despite the cloudy day and his conversation with Miss Skeffington. He denied emphatleally that he had used the language at-tributed to him by her, "That is Dunc Cooper shooting Carmack."

He said he told her that "There was shooting between Cooper and Carmack."

He insisted that he had not used the plural "Coopers," as the stenographer's notes caught it. He admitted that he had not turned back to the scene of the killing until he had met Miss Skeffington, who was the only living witness to prove he was not actually at the scene of the shooting the moment it occurred. He next went around down town and stopped at a number of places. He de-nied that he did this to establish an

to Fight Over.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Feb. 2.—John C, Young, private secretary to Senator Bourne was ex-hibit No. 1 before the Senate postoffice committee today, while his nomination as Postmaster at Portland was under consideration. The committee discussed Mr. Young's case at some length, but reached no conclusion, and will meet again tomorrow to decide whether the nomination shall go over or be carried into the Senate, where it will meet with an objection from Senator Fulton.

In view of Mr. Fulton's known hostility.

some members of the committee are inclined to believe no report should be made, thus postponing the whole matter until after March 4, but others intimate that the nomination may be reported, possibly without recommendation.

Mr. Young's appearance before the committee did not help his cause. Several Senators remarked afterward that Mr. Bourne had made a tactical blunder in presenting the committee to get the second transfer of the second transfer o permitting the committee to get a impse of his nominee.

HONOR GOVERNOR HUGHES | JETTY PILES SWEPT TO SEA

George Washington University Gives Leading Executives Degrees and Also Confers Honor on Bishop Harding.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22,-The reguar Midwinter convocation exercises of the George Washington University today were made notable because of the conferring of honorary degrees of Doc-tor of Laws upon President Roosevelt, Charles E. Hughes of New York and Bishop Aifred Harding of the diocese of Washington, and by the address of Governor Hughes. The degree of LL D was conferred upon President Roose velt, "In absentia." In conferring the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws upon President Roose-velt, Dr. Needham declared that the faculty and trustees of the university were moved to bestow the honor be-cause of his personal qualities and achievements in the fields of govern-ent and literature. He reviewed Mr. Roosevelt's administration, during which, he said, civic and business life had received a strong impulse to higher ethical standards, while methods once common and lawful were now condemned as being con-trary to public opinion. In honoring Governor Hughes, President Needham said it was because of his high intellectual attainments, his loyalty to the best traditions, and his insistence that all public service should "be honestly and well done by men who are equal to the task." The university honored Blshop Hard-ing, said Dr. Needham because of his services to the church.

One of the features of the exercises was the presentation of a silk flag by F. D. Owen to the university. Following the ceremonies a reception and banquet were tendered Governor Hughes.

MYSTERY OF 22 CHINESE

Government and Railroad Officials

Puzzled Over Sealed-Car Case.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Cal., Feb. 22.-There seems to be no question but that the 22 Chinese who were found and arrested here in a sealed car yesterday, came from Algiers, this side of New Orleans, and that they had been in the car for 11 days. Don R. Jack, the Deputy Collector of the Port, made a thorough examination of the car this morning. It had not been broken open in any way, and he says that the men must have been in the car when it was sealed by John Albrecht, a cusinvestigating the case. A draft for $50 from Juarez, Mexico, on a Hongkong bank, was discovered in the car this morning. The Chinese are still in a weak condition from the long fast. One of them is seriously ill and will have to be sent to the hospital for treatment.

Damage From Sunday Night's Storm Estimated at $400 to $600.

FORT STEVENS, Or., Feb. 22 - (Special.)-In the storm of Sunday evening 60 of the piles supporting the jetty were swept to sea. As they are valued at 15 cents a foot and are over 50 feet in length It follows that the loss is between $400 and $600. The loss of this pilling does not affect the strength of the jetty materially, as they were swept from different portions. This is the greatest number of piles ever detached without causing a portion of the jetty to be swept over the bar. Henry Erickson, an engineer employed in construction work on the jetty, died at his home from quick consumption,
