

PEEKS TAKE GREAT REVENGE

Up San Luis Obispo Merchants by Score of 6 to 2.

PRIVITY GETS HOME RUN

Man to Knock Ball Over Fence in Season — Fournier, New Catcher, Arrives and Gets Into Game in Seventh Inning.

BY WILL G. MAC RAE. SAN LUIS OBISPO, Cal., March 14.—(Special.)—McCredie's White Sox took their revenge on the Merchants here yesterday, and with Gray in the lead for the team, they beat them 6 to 2. John Gladstone Graney and Vance on were on the firing line for Portland between them they only allowed seven scattered hits. One was a home run, made by Garrity, who was short for the Merchants. The run was made off Seaton in the sixth. It was a foul over the fence, the umpire, who is chief of the first team, thought he saw things right, so Garrity went down. Seaton being the first man to knock ball over the fence for a home run. Portland hopefuls cinched up the sixth inning in the opening. Two runs by Olsen and McCredie, and two by Kennedy and Armbruster. The trick Gray walked Garibaldi when the smoke of the heavy firing of four runs passed over the pitcher's fourth inning. Armbruster put into the tall grass in left field. Graney scored him with a double. Ott's single in the seventh brought in the blood when Captain Johnson met out a raking batter. Seaton hit another napping at second. Seaton after the umpire gave Garrity his run, began putting on steam. Of the anxious Merchants pounced the open and only two players dared to sneak over singles. McCredie was well pleased with the big effort of Seaton, who downed the fifth and one in the sixth. This is the only time they succeeded in getting a run as first. Seaton's single in the fifth, while Seaton still cold, two outs and a single by Harkness, a kid brother of Speckness, brought home one run and they's wallop the other. F. Fournier, Portland's new catcher, started in the morning. He put in the game in the seventh inning but did not have a chance to distinguish himself, but he had the appearance of a very capable youngster. Some hard luck at short, but none of his errors credited to him was none of his mistakes were due more to condition of the grounds than anything else. Score: PORTLAND, R. H. O. A. E. G. 6 2 1 0 0 0. SAN LUIS OBISPO, R. H. O. A. E. G. 2 7 13 1 0 0.

BASES TAKE TWO GAMES

Angeles and Vernon Both Fall Before Chicago Players.

ANGELES, March 14.—The White Sox took two games from the local losers today. The first was against Vernon, who was playing for the local team, winning for the second game in the seventh inning. The second game was won in the first inning when Foster, who had been allowed two hits and was out more with the ball. The scores: Vernon, 1-5; White Sox, 5-1.

APPLERS READY FOR BOUT

Ivan and Albright Will Meet Tomorrow Night.

Sullivan, the Montana grappler, was in an splendid condition for a match tomorrow night, when he will meet Con Albright of Rochester, on the 1st at Merrill's hall. Albright is likely in good shape for a hard, and is due to redeem himself for the defeat inflicted by Eddie O'Connell. Tomlin is the man Sullivan is after, a victory for him tomorrow night would mean that he might legitimately be considered as the champion of the world in a contest with the Montreal Club. He has hitherto been more or less unknown here as a grappler, and is known to show the tricks that he is by being reckoned with in the ring game. A being, better known as Young Schmiedt, writes from Shigaards, Wis., where he has been spending a few days, that he is ready to meet Tomlin. Roller, of Seattle, any time after April 1. Roller is slated to wrestle Lundin at Seattle on March 20. Berg says he is ready to meet the champion at any time thereafter, but prefers to go to the Swedes. George Kowalek, of Montreal, Canada, who is managing Lundin and Eugene Tremblay, the weight champion of the world, is due to match Berg with Lundin, and Kowalek goes East. It is possible that a man may be matched for a bout in the future.

JEFFRIES AND BERGER SPARRING AT NEW YORK.

MANY ENTER RACE

Oregon Marathon Promises to Be Big Event.

RECORD MEN TO COMPETE

Arthur Burns, of Calgary, Thought to Be Most Formidable Entrant, but He Will Go Against Other Fast Athletes.

At the rate at which entries are pouring into the offices of promoters of the "Big Oregon Marathon," it would appear that the track at the Oriental building would have to be considerably widened to accommodate all those runners desiring to participate in the contest and it is expected that the entry list will have to be closed in the next few days. Judging by the all-round enthusiasm that has been displayed, the event will be quite the biggest track affair on the Coast this year and it will certainly prove a higher drawing card than any other athletic attraction of the year. Already every distance runner of any note in the West has notified George Sold or Karl Armstrong of his desire to participate in the classic race and the race will certainly be "to the strong."

On his proven record, Arthur Burns, of Calgary, Canada, would appear to be the most formidable entrant. Burns ran in the London Marathon at Shepherd's Bush and for over 15 miles led both Hayes and Dorando. It is likely that he would have finished nearer the front rank than he did had he had adequate time in London to work off the effects of his two weeks' journey, but with a bare four days at his disposal it is quite obvious that he entered absolutely unconditioned. Judging by the all-round enthusiasm that has been displayed, the event will be quite the biggest track affair on the Coast this year and it will certainly prove a higher drawing card than any other athletic attraction of the year.

CAPTAIN FOR MULTNOMAH BASEBALL TEAM CHOSEN

Fred DeNeffe, of Portland, Y. M. C. A., made a favorable impression at Seattle, winning second prize in the world amateur Marathon races in Norway and is picked by some experts as a possible winner. A. Wallace and R. V. Belmont are runners who will run under the local association colors. Little Harvey Donaldson, the Seattle Y. M. C. A. wrestler, will remember for his M. A. A. C. victory. He is now getting into training and may make a very good showing. The Seattle papers speak well of him. Spangler, of the Seattle Athletic Club, will have a try for premier honors. Spangler was also placed in the Seattle Marathon, C. Wright, of Los Angeles, and P. M. Vanderlip, of Toronto, are other contestants. The track at the Oriental building has been accurately measured and is exactly 11 laps to the mile. The promoters have decided that for the benefit of the runners there will be no smoking allowed in the building.

RACING MAY START AGAIN

New York Horsemen Await Action by Jockey Club.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Followers of the "sport of kings" and horsemen throughout the United States are awaiting with keen interest the development of the Jockey Club plans for horse racing on the Metropolitan tracks this season. A continuance of racing in New York in view of the hard blow given the game by the law prohibiting bookmaking, through the action of the state, and the rehabilitation of racing in other sections of the country where public betting is forbidden. Members of the Jockey Club, and track owners, it is understood, have decided that the sport may be successfully continued if conducted along lines that will not infringe on the present statutes. Already 437 names have been nominated, and Secretary Wilson says he is satisfied that the total entry will exceed 1000. Last year the entry was 1029.

BALL PLAYERS GET BUSY

MULTNOMAH HOLDS OPENING PRACTICE OF SEASON.

The Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club's baseball team assembled at Multnomah Field yesterday morning and indulged in the first practice of the season. Despite the prospects of very sore arms and muscles today, the ball tossers of the "Winged M" went at the sport with a zest that promises well for the season. Fred DeNeffe, the recently elected team captain, and Manager Cass Campbell were on hand to put the bunch through the paces. To watch the boys in action one would have imagined that he was in the training camp of a bunch of league players, for the Clubmen seemed not the least affected by the long period of inactivity. The club nine is to be picked from among the following: DeNeffe, Morris and Knudson, pitchers; Stait and Shearer, catchers; Jack Oswald, Dick Jones, Parke Myers, Barry, Cass Campbell and McClelland, infielders; and Bennett, Monson, Murray and Clark, outfielders. There are a number of other promising players now enrolled at the club who may be prevailed upon to try for the team but just now they are unable to participate in the practice.

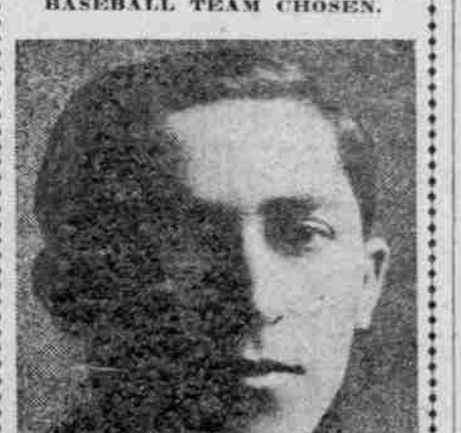

SPORTING WRITER FALLS DOWN

Seattle Authority Makes Mistake in Shinn Case.

Portus Baxter, the able and usually reliable authority of the sporting columns of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, seems to have slipped a cog in accuracy in the report of the Seattle Athletic Club's president of a ball club the president of the Seattle Athletic Club is a member. This is clearly shown in the case of Jimmy Shinn, a player who belongs to the Seattle Athletic Club. The report proved untrue. Where Mr. Baxter got his idea that the report proved untrue is a mystery, unless he received a wireless from J. Cal Ewing.

Will Meet Farmers This Month.

The Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club wrestlers are scheduled to meet the Washington State College grapplers next Thursday night, March 18, instead of April 19, as has been announced. The Washington Aggies are well fortified with men at all of the weights named and the seven Multnomah grapplers will be put to it to gain a victory over the husky Washington farmers. This will be the first all-wrestling tourney ever held in the Northwest.

Fred DeNeffe, the former University of Oregon pitcher, was last night chosen captain of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club's baseball team for the coming season.

EWING ASSERS CLAIM TO SHINN

President of Coast League Says McCredie Promised Him Player.

PORTLAND MAN DENIES IT

Local Baseball Circles Stirred by Incident That Is Taken as Illustration of Poor Management of Coasters.

J. Cal Ewing made a change of front in the case of James Shinn, the Portland player he ordered to the Sacramento club, and instead of insisting on his claim as agent of the National Commission or representative of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, he now comes forth with the assertion that Judge W. W. McCredie promised this player to the Sacramento club. When asked about this matter yesterday, Judge McCredie was highly indignant and if it were possible to print what he said about his own associates, somebody's ears in the vicinity of San Francisco would remain tingling for some time. Neither myself nor Walter ever promised Shinn anything or any one else," said Judge McCredie yesterday. "It seems to me that the president of the Pacific Coast League, not to mention the controlling owners of the San Francisco club, is resorting to a very poor subterfuge in order to cover his mistake by claiming that we promised him a number of players. This is an absolute untruth, and Ewing knows it, but probably thinks he can frighten us into allowing him to put the deal through. I insist on having Shinn."

"We will never consent to Shinn being played by any other Pacific Coast League club than Portland, and that is final. The sooner Cal Ewing realizes this the better it will be for him, as well as for the league. Heretofore we have had a number of disputes with him, but all have been adjusted more or less satisfactorily. However, this high-handed procedure will not be countenanced by us, and we intend to fight for the services of this player to the finish. Secretary Farrell cannot do otherwise than stand him to Portland. Mr. Ewing has not the slightest ground on which to base his action. To claim that we promised him the services of this player is untrue. "Walter has been figuring on Shinn to lead off for his Pacific Coast club all winter, and never entertained the least idea of disposing of him, unless to his Northwestern club. I do not relish such disputes arising in baseball, especially between clubs in the same league, but with leagues that are properly managed by men not in control of any of the clubs, things are different; at least the president of the league does not expect players to report to other clubs unless he has some guarantee that such an order will be proven logical and without prejudice to the league's best interests. Except to reiterate that Shinn would play with Portland, Judge McCredie has nothing to say on the subject at this time. He intimates, however, that if Ewing and the California bunch continue to present tactics he might be tempted to make a few "sawdust" and these are calculated to cause the California moguls a few sleepless nights."

No Opposition to California.

Some of the California people in Portland are inclined to think the attacks made on J. Cal Ewing are ill timed and in the interest of the Pacific Coast League. Such is not the fact by any means. The Portland baseball fans like to see the California team. They are in favor of an All-Pacific Coast League to extend from Spokane to Los Angeles, but the Portland fans are also opposed to Ewing's present tactics. The trouble with the Pacific Coast League is not with Ewing's action, but with the league, as far as the towns themselves are concerned, but only with the league representatives at the helm of the league. J. Cal Ewing never was a baseball man. He has been a politician, and probably for that reason succeeded in gaining control of two clubs in the league. Ewing was chosen president of the Pacific Coast League by the vote of the California representatives, with Judge McCredie concurring because he wanted to promote harmony and not because he believed Ewing the man most fitted for the place. McCredie has always maintained that an outside man should be at the head, or at least a man who has no financial interest in any club in the league. The fact that President Ewing is a stockholder in the San Francisco club and possibly also in the Oakland club, is not an insuperable objection, but that Danny Long, manager of the San Francisco club, is also secretary of the Pacific Coast League, is an official point of view it would seem that San Francisco was the entire Pacific Coast League. When the official umpire of the league is in the field, wherever the San Francisco club is an opposing team, is evidence that there is something rotten somewhere in the executive staff of the league. Umpires Afraid of Ewing. When an umpire goes on a baseball field he should be there fully confident of being upheld in his official acts as long as he shows ability. Two umpires last year, and one of them a highly capable man, were "buffeted" by "Kid" Mohler, captain of the San Francisco club. Both inquired of the writer whether or not Mohler had any influence at headquarters, meaning J. Cal Ewing, for Mohler had threatened to resign on several occasions, and really became the "letter-writing kid," so often did he send in protests to J. Cal Ewing. Whether or not Mohler's threats had any weight with Ewing can be surmised by the fact that neither of the men referred to has been signed or even offered a berth this year. What can be expected of a league where a crabbled little player-manager, whose best days at the game are so remote that gray heads cannot remember him, can influence the chief executive against a regularly appointed umpire? When such conditions prevail Portland can be blamed for having a good-sized, well-developed kick coming, and in this neck of the woods the kick will continue to be more pronounced as long as present conditions exist. Mr. Ewing, if he intends to resign from the presidency as announced in Will G. Mac Rae's letter yesterday, had better do so now instead of awaiting the end of the year, for he may make so many irreparable mistakes, like that in the Shinn

Men who send their dogs around the circuit have it forced out to ship them from city to city."
