

KEITCHEL KNOCKS OUT JACK O'BRIEN

Floors Man Three Times in Last of 10-Round Go. at New York.

FIGHT FAST AND FURIOUS

Grand Rapids Boy Has Best of It at All Times and Mill Is Best Seen Since Horton Law Went Into Effect.

NEW YORK, March 26.—Not since the repeal of the Horton law, which stopped the big fight bouts in this city, has such a fast and furious contest been seen here in the squared circle as that tonight in which Stanley Keitel, the middleweight champion, defeated Jack O'Brien, of Philadelphia, the National Athletic Club. Many thought O'Brien would do some stalling in this fight, but it was a hot bout from start to finish. In the first round O'Brien was knocked down three times, and the last time it was virtually a clean knockout, for the timely clang of the gong found the Philadelphia man lying on his back. O'Brien was Ketchel's fight the greater part of the contest, and O'Brien has no excuse to make over the outcome.

O'Brien was the first to enter the ring. He wore bandages on both hands. One of his prominent handlers was Anthony (Drexel) Blodde, Philadelphia. Kid McCoy was among the towel-holders.

Round 1. Both men stripped evenly in the heat of condition. O'Brien wore green trunks and wore long white gloves. Ketchel landed a low left hook, but O'Brien's opponent was not fazed. Ketchel's first round was not a bad one. A left hook raised a lump over Ketchel's eye. O'Brien sent in a hard right under the heart and a left hook to the jaw, which stopped Ketchel. O'Brien with a right to the face sent Ketchel back a bit, and the Philadelphia man was blowing after the wind.

Round 7. Both men were wild when they met. O'Brien upset heavily on the jaw. Ketchel broke ground when Ketchel began to box. O'Brien sent a right uppercut which landed on Ketchel's chin. O'Brien's opponent sent three surprisingly fast left hooks to the jaw and Ketchel seemed groggy. O'Brien up with left hook to the jaw and O'Brien closed the round with two rights to the jaw.

Round 8. Up to this time Ketchel's famous left right had not been in use. They rushed to a clinch and hammered one another at close quarters. Although Ketchel was the heavier, he was game, and determined. O'Brien sent left and right to the jaw at the bell. Ketchel's round.

Calls to Try Conclusions With Local Nine—Next Sunday Casey's Men Will Meet Crack Nine at Jacksonville.

BY WILL G. MAE RAE. MEDFORD, Or., March 26.—(Special.)—St. John, another catcher, swelled the list of ballplayers that are in training here. He arrived too late to get into uniform this afternoon, and while Manager Casey was pleased to see the backstop drop from the train, he was disappointed because Cooney and Kinella did not put in an appearance.

The new Portland mogul, however, is not going to let the worry season attack him so early, for he is mightily interested just now in getting a line on the material he has on hand. The first game of the training season is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon, when the Portlanders meet with the Medford team.

In order to help out the locals, Manager Casey will lend them Catcher Harigan and Pitchers Gardner, Coleman and Ance, and will use for Portland pitchers Troeh and Pitchers Pender, Osburn and McFarland. He will have to play Swanson at short
