NOTED LECTURER COMING—J. J. Lewis, the eminent lecturer and apostle of the "Passion Play," who charmed Portland people during his visit last year, is to spend a few weeks here in April. His lectures on "Historic New England," "Pictorial New England" and "The Canadian Rockies" are in constant demand before the public schools of New York, and he has been engaged to give these fascinating and instructive lectures to the high school students. The State of Vermont has engaged Mr. Lewis to prepare a lecture on the tercentenary of Champlain which he is to give at the great celebration next summer, and it may be that this lecture may be given at some of his engagements in this city.

DRIVER BADLY INJURED—John Tracksel, 125 E. Fir street, Arleta, was badly injured yesterday and barely escaped death by being thrown from the seat of a wagon he was driving. The wheels passed over his legs and his collar-bone was broken by the fall. One of the horses Tracksel was driving was unmanageable by slipping on the roadway and getting entangled in the reins, and the other horses also plunged about excitedly. The driver was thrown from the wagon and dragged for about a block before he could extricate himself from the reins. The injured man was taken to the office of Dr. Charles B. Francis in the Commonwealth building, near which the accident occurred.

WELL-KNOWN COLORED MAN DEAD—Augustus Waterford, supply clerk in the Portland Postoffice for the last 14 years, died at St. Vincent's hospital, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, after a successful operation for cancer of the stomach. The operation was performed last Tuesday and Waterford was born in Dresden, Canada, in 1868. He came to Oregon with his parents in 1868. He is the only colored man who ever held a position in the Portland Fire Department. He was appointed Deputy Sheriff under Penumbra Kelly. The funeral will be held at St. John's church, Sunday at 3 P. M. Interment will be in Lone Fir cemetery, where his relatives are buried.

LECTURES ON "QUAKERISM"—Isaac Sharpless, president of Haverford College, Haverford, Pa., will deliver a lecture on "Quakerism and Education" tonight at 7:30 o'clock, in the Sunnyside Friends Church, East Second street, between Third and Fourth streets. President Sharpless is a leading member of the Philadelphia Yearly Meeting of the Friends Church and a well-known Quaker educator. Admission free.

BOYS ACCUSED OF SMOKING—Juvenile Judge Gantenbein will call a special session of the juvenile court for next Wednesday or Thursday. Between 25 and 30 cases of boys using tobacco in various forms will be heard. The names of dealers who have been selling tobacco to minors will be placed in the hands of District Attorney Cameron and investigation will probably be made by the grand jury.

CORNERSTONE TO BE LAID—At services tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, on the site of the new Church of the Nazarenes, East Seventh and East Couch streets, the cornerstone of that edifice will be laid. The Oregon Holiness Association will participate in the ceremonies. Those persons from the West Side desiring to attend the services are requested to take East Avenue to the corner of East Seventh and East Couch streets. Property of Levy estate. Title abstract furnished. Inquire A. C. Emmons, attorney for administrator, Chamber of Commerce.

FUNERAL OF FREDERICK ALLWEN—The funeral of Frederick Allwen, who died March 25, at his home 488 Lexington avenue, was held yesterday afternoon, and the interment was in Greenwood cemetery. He was a member of Trinity No. 5, United Artists, and of Prospect Camp, No. 104, Woodmen of the World.

MEETS WITH PAINFUL ACCIDENT—Mrs. W. B. Hall, a well-known East Side woman living at 75 East Twenty-eighth street north, slipped and fell on East Everett street, fracturing her right arm at the wrist, Thursday afternoon. The accident is a severe one for Mrs. Hall as she is advanced in age.

THANK OFFERING SERVICE—The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of Grace Methodist Episcopal church, will hold its annual thank offering service, next Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Dr. J. H. Cudlipp, pastor of the church, will deliver an address upon the subject of missions.

FRATERNAL ENTERTAINMENT—An entertainment, closing with a dance, was given last night by Mutual Camp, No. 7, Woodmen of the World, at the hall on East Sixth street, for the families of the members. There was a large attendance.

GUS C. MOSER and Hon. John C. McCue, formerly of Astoria, have become associated together in the general practice of law, with offices at rooms 92-3-4-5 Sweetland building. Mr. Moser's office was formerly in the Fenton building.

"BACKSLIDING," 10:30 A. M. and "In Vanity Fair," continuing the "Pilgrim's Progress" series, at 7:30 P. M. Sunday sermon theme by William Hiram Phillips, pastor, First Presbyterian church, corner Taylor and Twelfth.

EXTEND EAST SEVENTH-SIXTH STREET—East Seventh-sixth street is to be extended from Hawthorne avenue and East Stark street. This street is on the east side of Mount Tabor and is an important street for that portion of the city.

"FABLES OF THE BEASTS" will be Luther E. Brown's theme in the First Congregational church, tomorrow at 11 A. M. Dr. Dwyer's theme at 7:45 P. M. will be "Do It Now; or, the Creed of the Beal Booster."

DR. M. P. FENTON, dentist, will return about April 1.

CLUB PLANS IMPROVEMENT.—The Alberta Improvement Association has decided to provide for a joint committee of all the push clubs of the northeastern portion of the city, and at the last meeting a special committee was appointed to take the matter up by conferring with the other clubs. The object of this movement for federation is to bring all the clubs into harmonious relations with each other. At the last meeting of the club it was reported that the petition for improving upper Alberta street with hard-surface pavement had been completed and that the project will go ahead. It was also reported that the petition for improving Going street with cement sidewalks between East Fifteenth and East Thirty-third streets, and for the improvement of East Twenty-sixth and East Twenty-seventh streets, between Alberta and Prescott streets, have been signed up, and the work will go forward in due time. With all these improvements in prospect the Alberta district promises to become one of the most attractive in the city.

ARRESTED FOR FORGERY CHECK—J. W. Tyler, 34 years old, who he well known to the Portland police, having been in trouble several times charged with petty swindling operations, was arrested last night at Oregon City, by Detective Reed, of the Portland Police Department, on a warrant charging forgery. He was brought back to this city and lodged in the City Jail. The complainant, H. C. Henderson, a druggist with a store at Thirteenth and Jefferson streets, said that Tyler gave him a check for $7.50 on March 20, which had been drawn on the Portland Trust Company and made payable to Tyler. The check was afterwards declared to be a forgery and the draught appeared at the District Attorney's office, who filed an information of felony against Tyler. The police say that in view of his past bad record he will probably be treated severely upon his arraignment in the Municipal Court.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF BAR.—Members of the Multnomah Bar Association will hold their third annual banquet at the Portland Commercial Club, at 6 o'clock next Tuesday night. Circuit Judge W. N. Gentry will preside as toastmaster and the principal speaker will be James E. Kerr, whose subject will be "The Railroad Lawyer." E. E. Heckbert will tell of "The Oregon Lawyer" and other short addresses will be delivered by E. E. Clark, E. W. Hardy and George W. P. Joseph. There also will be a number of interesting tales told by the host, who have been sold for the dinner, which promises to be the most successful ever given by the association.

WILL SPEAK ON EXCLUSION.—W. H. Adkins will address the People's Forum next Sunday evening, taking for his subject "The Exclusion of Asiatic Immigration." In view of the effort made in the California Legislature and in the last Legislature of Oregon and Roosevelt's action on the question, as well as the general interest of the coast States in this subject, it is expected that a very large attendance will be present. The labor unions in particular are greatly interested and many of their members will probably attend. The Forum meets in the Third street hall, Tenth and Washington streets.

TRAVELERS MEN MEET TONIGHT.—The Travelers Protective Association will hold a convention meeting and social time at the convention hall of the Commercial Club building, tonight. The business before the meeting will be the election of delegates to the National convention at Asheville, N. C., May 30. A committee will also be appointed to arrange transportation facilities for the Portland members of the association on "traveler's day" at the Seattle Fair, June 12. Following the business meeting there will be a social evening and general good time.

THREE THIEVES CAUGHT.—James Barrett, Thomas White and William Smith, known as chronic thieves, were arrested yesterday forenoon, by Detectives Eric and Coleman, while attempting to dispose of jewelry taken from the L. Gevirtz place, at First and Yamhill streets. They had made several sales among the Chinese before being caught. The trio are certain of conviction, the officers say, as portions of the stolen jewelry were found in their pockets. They were locked up on charges of larceny from a dwelling.

LOSES MARRIAGE LICENSE.—Beniamino Stramaglia is in a quandary. He paid the Deputy County Clerk $3 Thursday for a marriage license, and lost it somewhere between Portland and Vancouver, on his way home. He is 28 years old, and was to wed Francis Richardson, 28 years of age. As the county clerk issues no duplicate, Stramaglia may be obliged to pay another $3 in order to get the license.

TOM KAY PRIVATE CITIZEN

Executive Board Accepts Resignation of Detective Sergeant.

Tom Kay, formerly a detective sergeant in the Police Department, is now officially out of the service. The Executive Board accepted his resignation yesterday afternoon, and he is now a private citizen, destined to devote his time and attention to the gentle art of raising prunes. He owns a ranch near Vancouver, Wash., and will live there now. Kay has been severely criticized for the manner in which he conducted the moral crusade for the administration. Three weeks ago he left the city for Collins Hot Springs, being ill. When he returned he was charged by Chief Gritzmacher with leaving the city without leave of absence, and he was cited to appear before Police Commissioner Greens for trial. However, Kay explained the case by saying he had secured what he regarded as sufficient consent by reporting his intention to leave to Acting Captain Baty. Chief Gritzmacher thereupon withdrew the charge and Kay resigned.

PROTESTS IN COURT

P. J. Williams Says He Was Beaten by Detectives.

OBJECTS TO THIRD DEGREE

Young Man Charged With Theft Declares Officers Were Brutal in Efforts to Extort Admission of Guilt.

Charges that gross brutality was used by detectives in attempting to extort a confession from P. J. Williams, a young man charged with the larceny of a purse, were presented in the Municipal Court yesterday forenoon, when the prisoner was taken up for arraignment. Williams exhibited a blood-stained handkerchief in the courtroom and said he had been struck repeatedly in the face in the office of Sergeant Baty, acting captain of detectives. "They beat me because I would not confess to a theft that I knew nothing about," said he. "They insisted that I should confess and wanted the money every time. Every time I would deny a sound blow in the face. I was hit in the nose several times and the blows drew blood."

In order that a thorough investigation may be made of this alleged outrage in Baty's office, the case was continued until Monday. In the meantime the facts will be looked into by A. Walter Wolfe and John H. Stevenson, attorneys for the accused man. Chief Gritzmacher is also investigating the conduct of the officers. Besides Baty, Detectives Craddock and Mallet were present at the inquest. Both officers have long been favorably known in the department, and there is reluctance to believe they would be guilty of such misconduct. However, they admit they were "disturbed" through a course of sprouts, but deny they were struck or injured in any way.

Williams' capture was effected by Joseph Malloy, a young woman who resides at 627 1/2 First street. She was with Mrs. P. French, of Baker City, at the Rosemont House Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. French's purse containing $77.50 was stolen. She saw Williams in Mrs. French's room and suspected him of the theft. After the Baker City woman had left the city for California, Miss Malloy chanced to see the suspect in a billiard-room on Fourth street, near Taylor. She called him outside, explained that she suspected him and asked him to go to the police station. He ran, she pursued him, attracted a large crowd, and by her plucky conduct secured the claims to accompany her to Third and Alder streets, where she turned him over to an officer.

"I knew the man as soon as I saw him," said Miss Malloy yesterday, in describing the capture. "There was no officer in sight, so I decided to capture him. I called him out, and on finding what I wanted, he ran. I went after him and called for help. He finally stopped, I told him if he ran again I would hold onto his coat-tails and scream. He went with me then until we came across an officer, who took him to the station."

Williams persists that he is innocent and says he is a victim of a woman's groundless suspicion. As to being in Mrs. French's room, he says that is a mistake. He had the room adjoining her's and Malloy saw him emerge from his own room and not the Baker City woman, he says. It is understood that Mrs. French will return to Portland and prosecute the suspected man.
