BOY STUDIES AT COURT

UNTANGLING KRUGER LOVE
KNOT PROVES WEARISOME

Case Drags and Boy Is Taken to See Sights of Courthouse to Kill Time Waiting.

Wearied with the long-drawn-out suit over lost love, being tried before Circuit Judge Morrow, 12-year-old Fred Kruger took his arithmetic to court yesterday, determined that he would keep up his class in school, even though he is obliged to serve as a witness in court.

They found the bed-covering insufficient, so secured an extra quilt from the next room. But their happy dreams were disturbed by the landlady, who locked them in and informed Chief Probation Officer Teacher of the Juvenile Court, where the culprit could be found. Juvenile Judge Gantenbain heard their stories yesterday afternoon, and placed them both on probation, with instruction that they go to Forest Grove, and will be more severely dealt with if they leave home again without the consent of their parents.

STREETS TO BE PROBED

GRAND JURY EXPECTED TO MAKE REPORT TODAY.

Night Raids of Police Department Are Also to Come In for Investigation. It is Said.

Final report of the March grand jury, expected today, is awaited with unusual interest because of the possibilities of the report. For several weeks past the jury has been working in the dark, so far as the public is concerned, and only unofficial information has come from the investigators.

It is learned authoritatively that there is sure to be caustic mention made of the City Engineer's office, and that one or more indictments may be expected. City Engineer Taylor himself has not been found guilty of misconduct, but it was learned last night that street inspectors have been flushed who are in the habit of turning supplies and surplus labor to their own account.

District Attorney Cameron has been conducting a vigorous investigation into the engineering department. He declines to say what the fruits have been, but from an unquestionable source it has been revealed that the grand jury's brand will mark one or more street inspectors or other outside men. Bookkeeper Pugh, of the City Engineer's office, spent several hours with the jury yesterday, but what revelations he made will not be known until the final report comes out.

The subject of night raiding by the police is likewise expected to figure conspicuously in the final report. As the result of raids made about the city by warrantless officers, the grand jury

TELLS HOW TO BOOST

C. W. MOTT GIVES HIS IDEAS OF PUBLICITY WORK.

Commends Portland on Its 500,000 Movements and Predicts Rapid Increase in Population.

"I don't need to lie about this country. I only tell half the truth, and then people blame me for not telling them just how good the country around here is."

This from Colonel C. W. Mott, general emigration agent of the Northern Pacific Railroad, with headquarters at St. Paul. Colonel Mott came to Portland, he said, bearing the gospel of good cheer to the publicity movement started by the Commercial Club.

Colonel Mott wanted to impress upon the publicity men the need of being truthful. He believed that as a general thing the publicity man was ahead of biblical characters and instance Judas as being inferior to himself.

"I follow in the footsteps of Moses," said Colonel Mott. "Moses was the first great emigration agent. He told the truth, and the people had confidence in him. I try to do the same. Moses was some ahead of me, for Moses got a water supply without even the trouble of issuing bonds, but we all have our methods."

"What this city wants most of all is a reliable publicity bureau, a truthful one—one that can send out reliable reports. Send out good descriptive matter, well illustrated, and you will find the Eastern papers rush to pick it up. But you must send it out free from any advertising taint, and merely signed by the author."

"The Commercial Club has done a wonderful work, but has not had money enough to back it up. In order to make people leave their homes you have to do so, such as newspaper advertisements, stereopticon lectures; but, most important of all, a reliable press bureau right here in Portland."

"And don't be narrow-minded about your publicity work. Remember, that every time you boost this whole country around you are helping Portland. If you do help the other cities a little, you will feel the benefit of your work, too. The man you want to appeal to is the farmer and the rural inhabitant. He is the man who will buy your manufactures, keep your jobs working and give you someone to sell to. Back in any city there must be a great rural population."

"Here you have the most fortunately situated of all cities. Look at Illinois, her coal made her great—just that one product! Look at Wisconsin and see her lumber—just the one product again. Nebraska and Kansas have their corn and wheat fields—see the limit again. And then look at your timber, see your mines, think of your grain fields and your fruit. Count up your transportation advantages, and then you will see why you have a city to back up."

Colonel Mott will leave Portland tonight for Seattle and Tacoma.

No Homestead Right Alleged.

Alleging that Martha B. Smith and Arthur D. Smith had no homestead right to a claim to which they sold a retail outfit for $500, Sarah McCall and D. H. McCall are suing before Circuit Judge Cleland for the recovery of $250. The suit was brought by the Smiths, who also demand $250 on a promissory note given by the McCalls in part payment. The Smiths want the note paid, and the McCalls ask that the $250 cash which they paid, be returned.

Tunnel Profit Divided.

The suit of C. A. Anderson against James Atanasio was decided by Circuit Judge Bronaugh in favor of the plaintiff yesterday afternoon. The court decided that each party to the suit should have $395 of the profit from building a tunnel near Hobsonville, on the Portland, New Haven & Tillamook Railroad. Anderson brought suit against his partner for an accounting.

COAST NEEDS NAVY-YARDS

Admiral Evans Says There Should Be Three on Pacific.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 30.—Regarding naval equipment on the Pacific, Rear-Admiral Evans said today: "If they cannot get the big battleships into the dock at Mare Island, the Government should sell out there and build a navy-yard at some other place in San Francisco harbor. There should be three big naval establishments on the Pacific, that at Bremerton, one at or near San Francisco and one south of the Golden Gate, say near San Diego. Three big navy-yards on the Pacific will be absolutely necessary when the Panama Canal is finished and the battleships now building are completed."

MRS. GOODE WOULD SELL STOCK

Petitions to Dispose of 306 Shares P. R., L. & P. Common at 80.

Edith F. Goode, administratrix of the H. W. Goode estate, filed in the County Court yesterday asking that she be allowed to dispose of 306 shares of common stock in the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company at $20 a share. The par value of the stock is $100 a share.

She says the estate is indebted to the United States National Bank, the National Bank and Charles Pratt & Co., and that 306 shares of the stock is now on deposit at the United States Bank. County Judge Webster issued an order authorizing her to sell the stock for $18,360.

HOPE OF MATRIMONY CRUSHED

Ellen M. Davis Sues M. J. Conner for $10,000 Breach of Promise.

With her hopes of matrimony crushed, Ellen M. Davis has brought suit in the Circuit Court against M. J. Conner, a real estate dealer, for $10,000, because she says he promised to marry her, and she failed. The promise, she says, was made June 15, 1908. She is now 25 years old. She says that because of Conner's promise she has refused the attentions of other men, and now that she has been disappointed she is suffering great mental anguish, and her health is permanently impaired. Gamman & Malarkey, and E. P. Stott appear as her attorneys.

WANDERLUST QUICKLY CURED

Two Forest Grove Boys Come to City With No Money—Sent Home.

Arriving in Portland from Forest Grove without money, William Frink, 17 years old, and Ernest Hardin, 17 years old, conceived a plan by which they could have a nice, soft bed for the night, instead of being obliged to sleep in a dry goods box behind a building. Slipping quietly into the Ohio Hotel, at Front and

OFFICERS OF PORTLAND REALTY BOARD ARE ALL RE-ELECTED AT ANNUAL MEETING

The regular annual meeting of the Portland Realty Board was held yesterday afternoon in the convention hall of the Commercial Club. The president, H. W. Fries, was re-elected, although he stated that there were many reasons against a second term as applied to the president of such an organization. Mr. Griffin said that he was confident the feeling of the members was unanimous in desiring Mr. Fries to retain the position.

J. O. Rountree, secretary and Elnathan Sweet, treasurer, were also elected unanimously for a second term. In his report the secretary stated that the membership of the board was between 60 and 70, and that there was an increase of membership of seven over last year. The report touched on the work of the board, the lecture of City Engineer Thompson, of Seattle, and the extensions to surrounding cities and additions being accorded prominent mention.

It was moved and carried that the executive board be appointed a committee to make arrangements for the Portland real estate men to participate in the Rose Festival. There was some desire shown that the real estate part of the parade be left entirely to the Realty Board, but there was a feeling that it would be wiser to include all of the real estate men in the city to help the movement. The secretary was instructed to forward membership blanks to all members in order that a strong campaign for new members might be carried on for the following 30 days. The annual dinner of the board will be held soon. The executive board was elected, and consists of the following members: President, Fries, chairman; H. P. Palmer and George D. Schalk, vice presidents; Will H. Walker and J. O. Hanthorn.

Let Me Tell You Something

A woman who is sick and suffering, and won't at least try a medicine which has the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is to blame for her own wretched condition.

There are literally hundreds of thousands of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over thirty years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering.

Read what these women say:

Camden, N. J.—"It is with pleasure that I send my testimonial for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, hoping it may induce other suffering women to avail themselves of the benefit of this valuable remedy."

"I suffered from pains in my back and side, sick headaches, no appetite, was tired and nervous all the time, and so weak I could hardly stand. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman—and this valuable medicine shall always have my praise."—Mrs. W. P. Valentine, 902 Lincoln Ave., Camden, N. J.

Erie, Pa.—"I suffered for five years from female troubles, and at last was almost helpless. I tried three doctors but they did me no good. My sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has made me well and strong. I hope all suffering women will just give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, for it is worth its weight in gold."—Mrs. J. P. Endlich, R. F. D. 7, Erie, Pa.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, it is not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering from the same trouble.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for her advice—it is free and always helpful.
