COUNCIL SALARIES STILL TO BE PAID

Revisers of Proposed Charter Refuse to Cut Off Lawmakers.

HENRY AMENDMENT LOST

Urged That Voters on Bond Issue Be Taxpayers, but Committee Decides This Must Be Submitted by Council at Special Election.

Members of the Portland City Council will continue to draw a maximum month-ly stipend of $35 for their services even if the city charter as revised by two com-mittees is ratified by the electors in the municipal election June 7. The charter committee, appointed by the City Councommittee, appointed by the City Council to patch up the revision work of the committee of 15, last night refused to adopt a motion cutting the city's law-makers off without any compensation. At the same time it was decided not to change the number of the members of which the Council shall consist. The mame disposition was made of a proposal to redistrict the city as to wards. The greater part of last night's meeting was taken up in the consideration of securing an increase in the saiaries of the City Attorney and the City Engineer. The members of the committee of the City Attorney and the City Engineer. The members of the committee were a unit in favoring an advance in the salary of these officials. If an amendment to the charter is proposed giving these two officials increased salaries, it will be submitted separately and will not be incorporated in the proposed revised charter.

C. K. Henry appeared before the committee and urged that an amendment

C. K. Henry appeared before the committee and urged that an amendment to the charter be submitted making it necessary for a person to be a taxpayer before being allowed to take part in any election at which a proposed issue of bonds is the issue. Commissioners Werlein and McNary said they considered such an amendment ill-advised, believing it would serve only to intensify the socialistic tendency among a class of voters who would resent any distinction as between taxpaying and nontaxpaying classes. They urged the further objection that the consideration of such an amendment was beyond the jurisdiction of the committee which had been appointed for the specific purpose of making desired changes in the charter as it had been reported by the original charter version.

had been reported by the original char-ter revision committee of 15.

Mr. Henry insisted that the provisions of his amondment were entirely reasonable and just and for that reason should commend itself to the favorable considby the Council.

Through the adoption of an amendment, the powers of the Council are enlarged to the extent that it is authorized to appoint a purchasing agent, define his duties and fix his salary. This employe is to be appointed by the Mayor and the Executive Board and shall not be subject to dvil service regulations. Through the creation of this officer, the committee believes a desired stop can be placed to one of the most expensive leakages in the present administration of city affairs.

Another amendment was recommended to that provision of the charter relating to depositing city funds by the City Treasurer. It provides that when that officer shall have deposited all of the city funds in the different banks to the amount of collateral furnished to secure the loan, he may make further deposits in the same banks when such funds are secured by an indemnity bond for one and one-half times the amount of such deposits.

In another amendment an additional

In another amendment an additional clerk is provided for the Municipal Judge. This deputy clerk will be known as the Police Court Clerk, will be exempt from Police Court Clerk, will be known as the Police Court Clerk, will be exempt from civil service regulations and will receive a salary of not to exceed $100 a month. He will have authority to receive ball in city cases only and to issue warrants as an officer of the Municipal Court.

The committe will hold another meeting Thursday night, when the details will be worked out by which it is proposed to consolidate the Executive. Water, Park and Health Boards under one general organization. The committee expects to complete its labors some time this week and will request the City Council to hold a special meeting probably next Wednesday, April 7, when the revised charter may be approved and ordered submitted to the voters. This must be done 60 days before the date of the city election, and next Wednesday is the inst day when this proceeding may be had.

RIVAL ROADS AT PEACE

NORTH COAST AND NORTHERN PACIFIC END FIGHT.

Strahorn's Railway Will Rush Work in Yakima Valley, Long Delayed by Hill Line.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 30,-(Special.)-A special from North Yakima tonight says that the fight between the North Coast and the Northern Pacific railroads in the lower valley has practically been abandoned, and the work on the North Coast will be pushed from now on.

This is the statement made today by President Robert E. Strahorn, of the North Coast, who was in North Yakima today, It is expected to have the North Coast completed into Yakima by January 1, and 100 miles of road in operation by that time.

The right of way for the North Coast through the Yakima Valley to the summit of the Cascades has been almost all secured. President Strahorn says that the North Coast does not own the North Yakima & Valley road, which runs from this city to Nachez City. After going through the Cowiltz Pass, the road will eration of the committee. However, the charter committee will not recommend the proposed amendment to the Seattle, and the other to Portland.

Commanding because the season has been a triumph over obstacles; educational because last night's concert was one of diversified pleasure and was a star event in our symphony experience, largely due to the presence at it of David Bispham, the eminent baritons soloist. So many young people attended, ambitious musicians most of them, that they were an inspiration. In spite of the glory of instrumental numbers drawing their being from the genius of Beethoven, Rubinstein, Massent and Moskowski-one more modern name stands out like a blazing sun from all the rest on last night's programme, that of David Blepham, the Philadelphian, descendant of sturdy Quakers. Born in the romantic city which is the ancient capital of America, January 5, 1857, it is difficult to believe that it is the same Bispham—the years have dealt so kindly with him, and his voice and intellect are as commanding as of yore, if do not even think his tone is very much so kindly with him, and his voice and intellect are as commanding as of yore. I do not even think his tone is very much worn, so perfect is his art. In a subtle, undefinable way he is as great an actor as he is a singer. There are baritones who have more volume than he, but there is only one sluger with the nearly divine quality of voice, the Bispham of a combination of musical worth. BY FAR the most commanding musical success ever won by the Portland Symphony Orchestra was its closing concert for the season of 1988-99 last night at the Hell's Theater, before a brilliant and representative audience that unmistakably expressed its pleasure with every number on the programme, and even asked for more. Commanding because the season has been a triumph over obstaclas; educational because last night's concert was one of diversified pleasure and was a star event in our symphony experience, largely due to the presence at it of David Bispham, the eminent baritone soloist. Mr. Rosebrook kept his musicians un-der excellent control, and again was adder excellent control, and again was ad-mirable as an orchestral director. His residings were scholarly, his cues given promptly, and his authoritative pose an inspiration for good work. Both con-ductor and orchestra appeared to line ad-vantage in playing accompaniments to Mr. Bispham's singing, and materially aided his success.

How was it all received? Bispham and orchestra had a joy-night together, with Bispham in the lead. It is not too much to say that much of the credit for the business arrangements by which this double musical treat was made possible, is due to the ability of the business manager of the Poytland Semental Semental ager of the Portland Symphony Orchestra, Mrs. Edna B. Jones. She is a striking example of a capable business woman.

Backache is really kidney-ache. The kidneys are in the small of the back, and any pain there is enough cause to suspect your kidneys. If the urine is discolored, contains sandy sediment, or passes too frequently, then you have double proof.

Keep the kidneys well and the kidneys will keep you well. Well kidneys filter the blood and keep it pure. Diseased kidneys only partly purify the blood. Neglect weak kidneys and you invite uric acid poisoning, gravel, stone in the kidney, rheumatism, heart trouble, disbetes, Bright's disease, and a long list of other serious disorders now recognized as having their cause in kidney weakness.

At the tirst sign of backache or urinary disorders, give the kidneys quick help, not with plasters, liniments, nor any other outside applications, but with a special kidney medicine.

TELLS A STORY

A bad back turns every twenty-four hours into one dull round of pain and misery—you are lame in the morning, nagged all day by a dull, throbbing backache, can't rest in the evening or sleep well at night. It hurts to bend over, straighten up, get up from a chair, or lift even a light weight. Any sudden twist, turn or awkward movement sends a tearing twinge of pain through the weak spot.

PORTLAND PROOF.

David Campbell, 170 N. Eighteenth St. Portland, Or., says: "Five or six years ago I began to suffer from kidney trouble. The pains in my back became almost unbearable and I grew so lame and sore that to stoop was torture. I tried various remedies and finally went to a physician, but could obtain only temporary relief. I did not know that the trouble was caused by disordered kidneys, but when I saw Doan's Kidney Pills so highly advertised and recommended for such complaints, I decided to give them a trial. The first box brought me such great relief that I continued with them until I had used about four boxes. At the end of that time not a trace of backache or any other kidney disorder remained, nor has it ever returned up to this writing. I advise the use of Doan's Kidney Pills to any one suffering as I did."
