LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 1.—(Special.)—McCredie's pets haade a redhot finish to an intensely interesting game today, and drove in a run in the ninth, lacking but one of tying the score.

It was close enough all through to be anybody's game until the last out, and the fans yelled their heads off.

Both teams drew blanks in the opening inning, two men fanning on each side.

In the second Johnson lined a beauty to the center-field fence, landing on second, but died at third. Howard second for the Angels. Delmas was responsible for Portland's run in the third. He threw low to Dillon on Carson's drive straight into his hands, and a mintue later Oleson drove a hot one right through him, scoring Carson. The fourth and fifth were exciting innings, with only two hits, but plenty of playing every minute.

with only two hits, but plenty of playing every minute.
Goodwin stole a score in the sixth when Howard and Kennedy collided on first, and the latter dropped the ball.
In the seventh Carson gave Goodwin a base on balls with the bases full, forcing Orendorff across the plate. Earlier in the inning he caught Delmas at third with clever handling of Thompson's hit. The eighth was a blank, and then came the hustling finish.
The ninth went out as follows:

The ninth went out as follows: Grancy, for Breen, walked and Armbruster followed. Willett, for Carson, fanned. Ryan singled, filling the bases. Cleson forced Armbruster and Grancy scored. It looked good for Portland when Ort stepped confidently to bat, but—he fanned.

meet to be held at the Armory tomorrow night are complete.

This event, which is being presented by the Muitnomah Amateur Athletic Club, promises to eclipse all past local athletic exhibitions. The best athletes of two states will be seen in action. The Seattle Athletic Club is coming with a strong team, and the boys who will be brought to Portland by Billy Inglis are coming full of confidence in their ability to sweep the field. That Seattle has a team entered means increased rivalry on the part of all the contestants, for the Puget Sound organization is startling out to make a bid for all the athletic honors obtain—able this year, and as Seattle is to be the scene of the greatest athletic event of the year, their performances Saturday night will be eagerly watched.

In opposition to the Seattle team, the Multnomah Club, University of Oregon and Oregon Agricultural College will be represented by the cream of their athletic teams. All the entries are anxious to do their best, for in addition to the glory of winning, the victors are to receive handsome medals for their prowess. The short sprints will prove most exciting.

In these events Forrest Smithson, the world's champion hurdler, is entered, and all of the other contestants will strive hard to beat him. When he is told of the efforts to be used to beat him, 'Smithy' only laughs and says, Eugene Tremblay, the world's light-weight champlon wrestler, who is to meet Eddie O'Conneil at the Exposition Rink next Thursday night, leaves Chicago te-morrow for Portland. According to sched-ule Tremblay should arrive here Tuesday. He is rated as one of the greatest wrest-lers in the world. He will meet O'Con-neil at catch weights, which means that both men will go on the mat weighing in the neighborhood of 142 pounds.

is told of the efforts to be used to beat him. 'Smithy" only laughs and says. "That's what they said at London," and does not seem to worry in the least over how many or how classay a field is to be entered against him. He is training lightly, the same as he did while at London, for Smithson is not an athlete who works strennously to get himself down a few pounds in weight.

Murphy said that he did not believe Smithson had a "look in" at Lendon, and was greatly shocked when the Ore-gon boy carried off the honors. The reason why Smithson would not do as Murphy directed was because he had been trained differently when he com-menced his expert under the letter. been trained differently when he commenced his career under the late "Dad"
Trine, and refused to change his methods, which naturally angered Murphy.
However, the famous trainer got over it after Smithson won his glorious victory, and afterwards proved one of the Oregon boy's greatest admirers. Smithson will be pitted against such men as Barney Gish and Joe Malcolmson, of Seattle, and Oliver Huston, of the Universily of Oregon, tomorrow night, and any one of these lads is capable of making the champion extend himself.

ROLLER CONFIDENT HE WILL DEFEAT BERG.

Seattle Physician, However, Expects Hard Contest, While Opponent Has Hopes of Success.

Dr. Benjamin F. Roller, of Seattle, will wrestle John Berg, better known in the wrestling world as Young Hackenschmidt, in a straight match, best two falls out of three to declare the winner at the Exposition Rink tonight.

Roller arrived in Portland yesterday morning and is quartered at the Hotel Perkins. He is scheduled to meet Jesse Westegaard, whom he defeated a year ago at Seattle, in a return match at Des Moines, Ia., on April 9, and will leave Portland immediately after his match with Berg. In Berg, Roller appreciates that he is to meet a man who possesses wrestling science, agility and plenty of with Berg. In Berg, Roller appreciates that he is to meet a man who possesses wrestling science, agility and plenty of grit. In referring to his plans and prospects in the match, Roller said last night:

"I am somewhat disappointed at the attitude of the Washington Legislature relative to the boxing game, for I am still inclined to take up that branch of athleties. However, the aversion to the game cannot be helped, and I will return to my first love, wrestling, for the time being. I appreciate this opportunity of appearing before the Portland public again, and this time with a good man, for I am convinced that I have no easy bout tomorrow night. I have never seen Berg, but have heard many fine things said about him, and realize that I will have to extend myseif to gain a decision. Naturally, I am out to win, and if Berg' beats me I shall be the first man to constraint the said of the seen him and I would, really like to see him win the light heavyweight championship. As far as our match is concerned—well, I have lost only one match, and I don't believe I am due for another defeat yet. Still, one can never tell until it is over, and I will do the best I can, and that mall any one can do."

Berg is equally as confident as the Seattle medico-grappler. Berg states that he feels in splendid shape and is now at the weight at which he wrestles best. He says he can do much better work at 180 pounds than at 185, as when he met O'Connell. He enjoys the distinction of possessing the confidence of all with whom he has come in contact. He does not deny that his ambition is to become the champion of the world, and he has beaten enough good men to warrant the ambition.

UMPIRE FORGETS TO COUNT

Seven Runners Romp Home in Ninth Inning-Ames and Osburne Are Touched Up for 15 Hits. At Jacksonville Today.

BY WILL G. MAC RAE. GRANTS PASS, Or., April 1.—(Special.) —Manager Casey and his Northwestern League pennant-chasers invaded this fair city this afternoon and defeated the home talent 18 to 2. In honor of Casey's invasion the business houses closed up shop during the afternoon and a large crowd turned out to the ball grounds, and while Portland was slugging the ball a brass band shattered the atmosphere a brass band shattered the atmosphere with startling strains of music.

In spite of the lob-sided score, there was lots of good baseball thrown into the melee. Cooney's work at short electrified the fans here, and all of the seven chances which were accepted by him were all on the sensational order. Bassey was also in the spotlight and he drew a rousing cheer when, after a long run, he reached up and grabbed a foul. His one-handed stop after a leap for life was something else that pleased.

Umpire Forgets to Count.

Riggs, who pitched for Grants Pass, was as wild as a March hare, and Portland's first two runs in the opening round was due to a couple of wild pitches. walk to station in the second and single by Casey and Bassey gave us one more run. Two singles and a couple of boots in the third were good for three. In the seventh and eighth innings, Casey's hired men scored twice in each inning. By this time, Riggs was a mighty tired By this time, Riggs was a mighty tired ballplayer, and he was ready for the explosion which took place in the ninth and last round. The inning opened and closed with Troeh. While the Portlanders were making a circuit of the batting order, they slammed out five singles, a double by Bassey and a triple by Swanton. It was a wild merry-go-round while it lasted, and when the bombardment ceased, seven more runs were added to the score. seven more runs were added to the score Only two were down, but the ump. lost count and as no one was present who wanted to see the slaughter drawn out, there was no piping voice of protest.

Portland Pitchers Touched Up.

Ames and Osburne pitched for Portiand, and to the glee of the local fans, both twirlers were touched up right lively. Ames, while he was on the firing line, found lots of trouble in the third inning. He was found for four singles, and Grants Pass managed to squeeze in two runs. In the eighth they found Osburne for a cluster of three singles, but only one runner crossed the plate.

Casey's next town of invasion is Jack-sonville. He will leave bere tomorrow morning, and will play at Jacksonville in the afternoon. Score:
