Standpatter From Kentucky. Maintaining that he was a protection-ist, even to the point of the standpatter, Langley of Kentucky declared he was still unconvinced that all of the provi-sions of the Payne bill were in full ac-cord with the doctrines of the Republican party. "They have failed to convince me," he said, "that the proposed reduc-tion of the duty on lumber is in accord-ance with those doctrines." He asserted that Chairman Payne would be unable fo "deliver the goods." That the reduc-tion in the lumber schedule would in-crease the wages of laboring men, Lang-ley denied. "The Republican party." said Clavitor "Viewing the question in its political aspect, is not there a danger that future independence of the Filiphios would be injured by the ties consequent upon the establishment of free trade? ley denied. "The Republican party," said Clayton of Alabama, "has debauched the manu-facturer of the country by holding out to him, by preachment and by polley, that the Government has the right to abuse the taxing power so as to hand out special favors to them." The Gov-ernment, he declared, had no right to tax except to raise revenue.

Payne Bill Sectional.

Payne Bill Sectional. The Payne bill, charged Clayton, was sectional in that it gave to New England free bides, coal and lumber. He argued that, while such favors were being hand-ed out, jute bagging, cotton ties and kainit, the German fertilizer, should be restored to the free list in order that the bagging trust may not have the benefit of a tariff on jute. The grain farmer of the West, he sail, had his binding twine free by Republican logista-tion, and there was no reason why jute bigging and cotton ties should not be free.

Tree. Clayton maintained that the present condition of the country grew out of vicious Republican legislation, and "that the Payne bill was a faise pretense of-fered by the Republicans to redeem their promises for substantial tariff revision."

Secret Conclave of Senators.

Clayton charged that a distinguished Senator from Rhode Island. "a state so small that we Democrats in Alabama, who chew tobacco, can spit across it." and who dominates the Republican party, is in secret conclave with a select few and is making a tariff bill which all flepublicans will swallow. The chairman, Currier of New Hamp-shire, admoniahed Clayton not to violate the rule about referring to violate WOMEN SIGN PETITIONS establishment of free trade? The trusts and other corporations that would estab-lish themselves in the Philippines, encour-aged by free trade, would place a for-midable barrier against Filipino freedom. "The only reciprocity we ask is that our sugar and tobacco be admitted free of duty, and in exchange allow all agricul-tural machinery and implements of man-ufacture free admission into all parts of the Philippines." The Commissioner said he voiced the sentiment of 8,000,000 Filipinos in asking CAMBRIDGE IS FAVORITE the Phillippines." The Commissioner said he voiced the sentiment of 8,000,000 Filipines in asking congress to grant them independence. At the conclusion of Ocampo de Leon's remarks Goulden of New York made the statement that at a public din-ner in Washington, before he was Presi-dent, Mr. Taft declared that when he went to the Philippines he was credibly informed that if he could gret the influ-ence and active support of Ocampo de Leon's remarks. Goulden's re-work to the Philippines he was credibly informed that if he could gret the influ-ence and active support of Ocampo de Leon he would have no trouble in paci-fying the Filipino people. "Are they pacified now?" a volce on the Republican side was heard to say. "They are pacified," was Goulden's re-ply to his unknown questioner. Moore of Pennsylvania addressed the House "as a protectionist who be-lieves in his own land and the ad-vancement of his own people." He plead-ed for protection for American men and women who know the blessings of their own environments and seek to hold them undisturbed; protection from the prejudles that holds entimaled American genius and "against the wasteful Anglo-maniae who fritters away American substances upon foreign fops and foilies."

Thismes Saturday, This far Oxford has made the best time in practice, covering the full course on March 16 in the record time of 18 minutes 21 seconds, the previous record being 18 minutes 47 seconds, made by Oxford in 1833, and equalled by Cam-bridge in 1900. The best time made by Cambridge in practice was 19 minutes 2 seconds, but this was done on the oc-casion of their first trials² These times should have made Ox-ford the favorite in the betting, but followers of rowing have great confidence in D. C. R. Stuart, the Cambridge stroke, who has held his present position for three years in succession, and who stroked his crew to victory in the race against Harvard in 1906. The Cambridge crew, unlike the Ox-ford men, five of whom had their first leason in rowing at Ekon, come from various achools and it has been, therefore, somewhat harder to get them to work together.
