OIL PLACED ON FREE LIST

Party Lines Broken on Lumber Tariff-Small Remnant of Republicans Favors Oil Tariff-Tea and Coffee Are Free.

WASHINGTON, April 9 .- After three weeks of consideration the Payne tariff bill was passed by the House of Repre sentatives tonight amid great excitement by a vote of 217 to 181. One Republican-Austin of Tennessee-voted against the measure and four Democrats, all from Louisiana-Broussard, Estopinal, Pujo and Wickliffs-voted for it. An attempt by Champ Clark, the minority leader, to recommit the bill with instructions signally

The day was filled with excitement from the moment the session began at noon until adjournment. The members were keyed up to the highest pitch and practically the full membership remained on cury throughout. The final vote demon-strated the capacity of the Republican organization to get together.

Free Lumber Men in Minority.

The situation with respect to lumber was greatly relieved to the Republican leaders when it became manifest that the advocates of placing it on the free list were in the minority. Because of that fact, Fitzgerald of New York charged that a midnight deal had been made last whereby free lumber was to be voted down and the rates on barley and harley malt increased, this notwithstanding the denials of Mann of Hillnois and Cushman of Washington, who offered the barley amendments.

The general public was greatly inter-ested in the proceedings and the galleries were packed. Both the diplomatic and executive reservations likewise were fully occupied, Mrs. Taft being among those

The bill was introduced on March 17, reported to the House by the ways and means committee on the following day and was under conral debate for 16 days. Last Monday the rules committee reported a special order, which closed the general discussion and provided for the considera tion of the bill under the five-minute rule. One of the principal changes in the bill was the placing of petroleum on the free list today

Among the other important amendments made since the bill came from committee were those striking out the provision to a duty on tea and the countervailing duty provision on coffee.

Cotton Joker Cut Out.

The so-called "joker" in the cotton cinth schedule, which, it was contended, would increase the duties of the Dingley bill several hundred per cent, were con the proviso for the method of counting threads in the cloth being made the same as in the present law.

The drawback section was added to the bill so that it could not be taken advantage of for speculating in grain, and the Philippine free trade provision amended so that rice will not be admitted free from the islands.

The countervalling duty clause on lum her was stricken out, but a strong effort to place lumber on the free list did not

The duties on barley, barley mait, pine apples in crates and cotton collars and cuffs, as originally in the bill, were increased. A proviso was included in the tobacco schedule increasing the duty on filler tobacco from any country which prohibits the importation of American to-

There were several technical changes to the steel schedule, principally downward. fildes, holsery and gloves were left as refree and an increased duty being presented for gloves and stockings, Few Oppose Free Oil.

The contest over free petroleum was stubborn, but the vote in its favor was overwhelming. Opposing it were Republicans, as follows:

FRENCH PAPERS CRY SHAME

Say France Expels Castro to Please America and Britain.

PARIS, April 9 .- (Special.) - The roles of both the United States and France come in for severe treatment by this morning's foreign editorial writers in their consideration of Cas-tro's expulsion from Fort de France. In fact, the general opinion here is that France forsook her traditional role of refuge to the unfortunate simply out of a weak willingness to be agreeable to the United States and England.

This morning's Journal declares it is in act which the country at large is ture to disapprove. So far in the history of the republic, continues the commentator, there has not been another government which has been guilty of such injustice. Flattered by a call for protection from President Gomez, of Venezuela, the United serted, suddenly has become sensible to the advantages of keeping in Caracas such an amenable chief as Gomez and is also keen keeping Castro out of the Antilles. Thus its diplomacy went to work and succeeded admirably, both in London (Concluded on Page 3.)

Mrs. Yerkes claims ownership of the nansion and its contents, and also the Yerkes art gallery. The property is said to be worth over $2,500,000. The receiver was appointed in a suit brought by the London Underground Railway, Ltd., which has a claim of $800,000 against the Yerkes estate.

FLIGHT IN AUTO FOLLOWS

Marshal Pursues in Another Car and Brings Back Cooney From Central Point, Whereupon Casey's Man Pays Fine.

MEDFORD, Or., April 9 .- (Special.) --Roysterers on the bleachers at the game between Casey's Colts and the locals here today enlivened the occasion by persistently "baiting" Phil Cooney, Casey's shortstop. Finally in the eighth inning Cooney retaliated in kind and most vociferously. This is what followed:

B. Klum, a bleacherite, jumped through the wire screen, followed by a crowd, and attacked Cooney.

A larger man attempted to take the fight off Klum's hands, when Garlbaldi interfered and pummeled the interloper until he was pulled off by others, leaving the big man with a burst lip and various contusions. Cooney and Klum agreed to settle their differences after the game, and mutual friends began negotiations to avert further violence. Mayor W. H. Cannon intervened and caused a warrant to Issue for Cooney's arrest on a charge of using profane

Flight and Pursuit by Auto. Cooney's friends spirited the shortstop away to Central Point in an automobile in an effort to avert his arrest. The City Marshal of Medford learned of Cooney's destination and gave chase in a second automobile and arrived at Central Point in time to arrest Cooney before the northbound train on which he intended to depart had arrived. Cooney was brought back to Medford and fined $15. Mayor Cannon's son was in the crowd watching the game today. It is alleged by Cooney's friends that the young man was among those who were baiting the shortstop, and that he therefore was one of the targets of Cooney's sulphurous re marks when the latter began to retailate. Because of these facts, Cooney's friends say the Mayor took up the case and refused to permit the amicable adjustment which seemed to be imminent. Klum and Cooney brought together after it was all over and the matter ended in mutual apologies. Cooney will leave this morning for Portland.
