KIRMESS DANCES

Second Night of Spectacle as Great a Triumph as the Opening Show.

ARMORY IS CROWDED AGAIN

charity kirmess at the Armory scored another brilliant social, scenic, musical and terpsichorean triumph last night. The great crowd which filled the had no marks of the regulation second night audience, but was as enthusiastically in, accord with the apirit of the kirmess dancers, and quite as distin-guished in point of fashionable appear nce as the brilliant throng of Tuesday night. Incidentally, the kirmess prowhich was danced through all over again without a single hitch to mar its dazzling perfection, was even a little better for the poise and confidence acquired by the dancers from the initial production. The Armory was crowded.

Long before the hours specified for the raising of the curtain, motors and liveried equipages congested the thoraughfares for blocks in conveying their burdens of brilliantly gowned women and conventionally garbed men to the necca toward which all society had turned in its pilgrimage in the cause of charity.

Once within the doors, the inform-slity of the occasion was evident even against the blaze of splendor, the flashing of jewels and the rustling of the coatly fabrics of women's gowns.

That Miss Lila Agnes Stewart is a capable instructor, and that the society young men and women who have given their time and enthusiasm for a worthy charity, must have loved their work, was me of the strong impressions borns away after seeing last night's performance. Many were the immature buds which were seen to blossom into flowers.

Large Receipts From Voting Contest.

in the matter, also, of raking in the shekels for the Open Air Sanatorium and Woman's Exchange, the second night was a pronounced success, and while no definite figures have been given out, it is understood that the sum added to the big charity fund by the returns of the various kirmess enterprises and the seat sale, was quite as large, if not larger, than that netted by the first production, which was close to the $3000 mark. Theseday night's voting contest alone brought to the kirmess coffers nearly $1000, and the seat sales and booth workers' harvest totaled more than $2000.

The voting contest last night opens.

The yoting contest last night opened enthusiastically, and the men at the blackboards were kept husy recording the lump yotes shouted through megaphones from the main floor. The "boosters" for the various dances will undoubtedly work up a fine frenzy by Saturday evening, when the excitement will run high, and the profits of the yoting contest are relied upon to very materially add to the admission and booth terially add to the admission and booth

"Fluffy Ruffles," Spanish, Indian and Marsovian dances, which led off the contest in the beginning, continued well in the lead inst night, and at midnight the 'boosters' for these four picturesque sets were still vicing with each other. The Armory will be dark tonight and The Armory will be dark tonight and the 200 dancers who have so gally trod the boards the past two evenings will rest. So, also, will the hardworking coteries of booth boosters, flower girls, candy maids and all the other energetic folk of the Kirmess world. But tomorrow evening all will be back again at their stations, and in harness, working with might and main to bring the Portland Kirmess fund up to a point that will give it high rank with the Kirmess receipts of other cities. Many of the enthusiants now hope to go even beyond the San Francisco record Kirmess thad of $21,000.

The full programme will be given at

The full programme will be given at each of the three remaining performances, and at the Saturday matines an extra dance, that of the "Teddy Hears and French Dolls," by two dozen little boys and girls, will be an added attraction.

Flower Girls Well Patronized.

The apirit of a family gathering permeated the atmosphere redolent of the perfume of Spring blossoms which were in the special province of the flower girls, whe inveigled each newcomer into a purchase of their wares. Society finally fluttered into its place, and as the curtain rose on this, the second performance, exclamations of delight were heard from the assembled mothers, fathers, cousins, sweethearts and friends as they recognized on the stage in the garb of an cousins, sweethearts and friends as they recognized on the stage in the garb of an ludian maiden, a Scotch lassie, an Irish colleen, a Spanish Senorita or a "Fluffy fluffies" girl, the one to them who was the most interesting in the entire cast,—primarily because she belonged to them and was winning laurels in a field where her talents had never before been tried out.

The Indian dance was one of the favorites last evening. The stage setting was remarkably effective and Mrs. David Honeyman was easily the feature in her exquisite interpretation of the Wigwam dance sessisted by Mr. Morton H. Insier. The Dutch song and dance, by Miss kathleen Lawler and Miss Hilds Hegele in costume, was heightened by the noteworthy interpretation and finished acting

In addition, saflors from the Aberfoyle, Glenal-von and Brablock gave songs and saflor ditties. Mrs. Beals was at the piano. Following is the programme: Duet, "Maria e Rezsio" (Campana), Misses Agnes Harwas and Myrtie Thompson; "Darkey Cradle Song" (Elber), Miss Agnes Harwas and Myrtie Thompson; "Darkey Cradle Song" (Elber), Miss Florence Gilmour; (a) "A Bowl of Roses" (Clark), (b) "Three Green Bonnets" (P'Hardelot), Miss Mary Otten; "Sweet Miss Mary" (Neidlinger), Miss Agnes Harwas; duet, "The Arrow and the Song," Misses Archbold and Thompson; "Absent" (Metcalf), Miss Florence Leach; "Sleep and Forget" (Greene), Miss Lillian Gardner; duet, "The Fisherman" (Kuchen), Misses Elleen Tevex and Lottie Banfield; "Violets" (Randegger), Miss Sus Barnes; vocal waltz, "Magnetic" (Arditi), Miss Myrtie Thomason; "Start Tide" (Piccolomini), Miss Lottie Banfield, violin obligato by Miss Stanley; "Awake" (Pellisier), Miss Jesse Thompson, vocal polka, "Margherita" (Arditi), Miss Elleab Tevex; "Happy Song" (Del Rigo), Miss Archbold; violin solo, "Traumeret" (Schumann), Miss Ellzabeth Stanley; vocal trio, "Down in the Dewey Dell" (Bmart), Misses Tevex, Banfield and Thompson.

SEVEN COUNTY PRISONERS AC-CUSED OF HOMICIDE.

Five Have Appealed From Convictions and Two Await Trial. Two Sentenced to Death.

There are seven men in the County Jail who have been charged with murder, according to Sheriff Stevens' report of prisoners in custody, which he has filed with County Clerk Fields. They are: James A. Finch, Edward Hugh Martin, Jack La Rose, Hans Goodager, Osburn Edwards, Lem Woon, alias Lum Sue, and Yes Gueng, alias Yon Gee. The latter is on trial, while Osburn Edwards is to be tried May 12. All the others have been convicted of murder or manslaughter, and have appealed or are about to appeal their cases to the Supreme Court.

Finch was committed to the County Jail November 28 for the brutal murder of Ralph B. Fisher, prosecutor for the grievance committee of the Oregon Bar Association. He killed Fisher because the latter had secured his disbarment. He was convicted on December 20 by a jury of murder in the first degree and sentenced by Circuit Judge Bronaugh, on January 2, to be hanged at the Salem penitentiary February 5. A bill of exceptions was filed Pebruary 8 after a stay of execution had been secured, and the case is now in the hands of the Supreme Court.

Martin was agreeted May 12 and preme Court.

Martin was arrested May 12 and charged with having murdered Nathan Wolff in the latter's pawnshop on First street, near Morrison. The killing was most horrible, the body having been hacked with an ax or other instrument after Wolff was shot. If was pointed out that Martin might have done the deed while under the influence of some drug. On October 17 he was convicted of manisaughter, and Judge Cleland sentenced him three days later to serve the maximum. If years, in the penifentiary, and to pay a fine of $1000. The case was appealed to the Supreme Court, and a motion on the part of the state to dismiss the appeal was denied early this week.

Jack La Rose, otherwise known as the week.

Jack La Rose, otherwise known as the gaspipe thug, was committed to the County Jail on May 19, last year, charged with the murder of Hyman Newman, a pawnbroker having a shop in north Portland. He was also charged with having committed an assault upon a Chinaman by beating him over the head. This last offense led to his capture, as the Chinaman gave chase. La Rose was convicted on November 14 of murder in the second degree and was sentenced on November 17, by Circuit Judge Morrow, to the penitentiary for life. Attorney L. W. Humphreys, who appeared for him, has appealed the case.

Hana Goodager was convicted on March is of manslaughter, for having shot Tony Moor on the night of February 4, be-cause the latter had refused to sell him cause the latter had refused to sell him the liquor for which he asked. Judge Cleland sentenced Goodager on March 27 to serve 12 years in the penitentiary, and to pay a $100 fine. The motion for a new trial, made before Judge Cleland, was denied last Saturday, and Attorneys Seneca Fouts and Samuel Olson, appear-ing for Goodager, took 20 days in which to file a bill of executions ing for Goodager, took 20 days in which to file s bill of exceptions.

Thomas I. McGalliard was shot and killed on January 5. On January 5 Osburn Edwards was lodged in the County Jail and is charged with the murder, the inlictment having been returned January &

He is to be tried May 13.

Yee Gueng, alias You Gee, is on trial for the murder of Lee Dai Hoy on March 7, 1903, in the old Arlington Club building, at Fourth and Pine streets. He was committed to jail March 2.

mitted to jail March 2.

Lem Woon, charged with the same crime, was convicted last Fall of murder in the first degree, and sentenced October 5, to be hanged November 29, last. Judge Bronaugh pronounced the sentence, and it is before him that the Yes Gueris case is now on trial. The Lem Woon case is now on appeal to the Supreme Court. Lem endeavored at the trial to prove that it was a case of mistaken identity, that his name is Lum Sue, but Mrs. Lee, the wife of the murdered man, was very wife of the murdered man, was very pesitive that she saw him shoot her hus band.

MT. CALVARY LINE TO WAIT

Wittenberg Says Property-Owners Make Exorbitant Demands for Right of Way, but Promises Road in One Year.

The United Railways Company is not at liberty to operate cars over its line in Portland. The City Council yesterday afternoon, by unanimous vote, adopted a resolution, releasing the company the provision of its franchise, which prohibited it from running cars until the road is connected with Hillsboro and hibited it from running cars until the road is connected with Hilisboro and Mount Calvary Cemetery.

City Attorney Kavanaugh, under the direction of the Council, drafted the resolution, guarding the interests of Portland and also taking care of the franchise provision which binds the company to build into Mount Calvary Cemetery and Hilisboro, and, in addition to this, Herman Wittenberg, one of the chief promoters, promised the people of Hillsboro and Mount Calvary that the line will be constructed to those places in due time.

Mr. Wittenberg explained the position of the company by saying that it can give the city and the country through which the line rans added transportation facilities, and also benefit the company, if the Council would grant the special permit to operate. T. D. Honeyman, Hugh McGuire and A. H. Dewers, members of the transportation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, urged that the resolution be adopted. They said that the business interests of the city have long been seeking better facilities for handling freight and passengers, and since the United Railway Company has shown good faith by spending $750,000 in the construction, it should have the privilege of operating cars over this line before completing the entire road.

The only definite statement as to when the company will be able to complete the road to Mount Calvary Cemetery was made by Mr. Wittenberg, who replied to a question by saying that it will be finished in one year. This indicates that an made by Mr. Wittenberg, who replied to a question by saying that it will be finished in one year. This indicates that an extension of time must be had, as the line was to be completed within 60 days from now.

Exorbitant prices are being asked by the owners of property along the line of the right of way, said Mr. Wittenberg, He declared that several have tried to "hold up" the company, believing that it must have the land in order to complete the track in time to come within the requirements of the franchise.

Councilman Rushlight opposed the immediate adoption of the resolution, as, he said, it was too short a time in which he said, it was too short a time in which to consider anything so important. This was at the morning session of the Council. Later Mr. Rushlight consented to allow the vote on the resolution to be taken at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and this was done. City Attorney Kayanaugh drafted the resolution during the noon hour, and, upon assuring Mr. Rushlight that it fully protects the interests of the city, it was passed without further comment.
