Capitalist Is Sentenced for 20 Day and Must Remain in Cell Until Sale Contracts Are Placed

Evidence.

E. Henry Wemme, capitalist and president of the Overlook Land Company, must go to the County Jail forever and 20 days, unless he decides to comply with Circuit Judge Gantenbein's order that he bring to court certain sale contracts in his possession. This was the decision of the five Circuit Judges who heard the contempt proceedings. Judge Gantenbein announced it at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Wemme is at liberty on bonds, pending appeal.

Wemme was found guilty of con-tempt on three counts. For disobeying the order of Judge Gantenbein, made April 8, he was sentenced to the County Jail for 20 days, and to pay a fine of $100. For failing to bring the sale contracts to court on April 10 he was fined $100. and for disobeying the order of April 12 he was found guilty of insolent and wilful contempt in the presence of the court, and ordered to pay a fine of $100, besides being sentenced to the County Jail until he brings the contracts to court. He must put up a April 8, he was sentenced to the County contracts to court. He must put up $1000 bond in each case. Judge Thom: O'Day, who appears as attorney for Wemme, gave notice that he will appeal the cases to the Supreme Court. He said that he will endeavor to obtain from the higher tribunal an order upon the Circuit Court, preventing it from punishing Wemme more than opposed. punishing Wemme more than once for what Judge O'Day characterized the same offense.

One Case Still Stands.

The main contempt case, in which Wemme is charged with having violated the order of the court in falling to turn over to E. Shelley Morgan, as receiver, books and records of the Overlool Land Company, was submitted to the court yesterday afternoon, and taken under advisement. This case Judge Gantenbelly will dealers!

under advisement. This case Judge Gantenbein will decide alone.

The case of A. F. Swensson against Wemme, the Overlook Land Company and others, has not yet been committed to the court. This is the case out of which the contempt cases arose. The hearing in it was continued yesterday until April 29, as Attorney Dan J. Malarkey, attorney for Morgan and Swensson, informed the court that his time is fully occupied at present with time is fully occupied at present with the Yee Gueng murder trial. The Swensson case had been set for Learfense, said he thought that if Wemme's bonds are increased, those of Swens-son and Morgan should be also, as he said that they have only $500 bonds now. He asserted that the damage to Wemme already amounts to more than that. He also said that the court should allow Wemme to contract for the sale of the lots, as this is a good time of year to make sales. When the court suggested that the order be compiled with and that the sales he was a sale of the lots. plied with, and that the sales be made through the receiver, Mr. Joseph said that "the receiver shall not have an opportunity to loot this cor

Five Judges Reach Decision.

Mr. Morgan replied that no attempt was being made to do that, and the court told the defendants that an opportunity was afforded them in the original case to take Swensson's stock off his hands and thus avoid the appointment of a receiver, and that they refused, so he would not make the order asked for. In announcing the decision of the five Judges, Judge Gantenbein said:

"Under the circumstances in this case the court deemed it advisable to call in all the Judges. Two questions were considered: 'First, whether the conduct of the witness Wemme, as appearing from the records of this case, under the law, constituted contempt of court; Second, whether there was a right

I will state that the Judges were unanimous in the conclusion that the conduct of Wemme constituted contempt court, in the immediate presence of the court. The Judges were also unani-mous in the conclusion that he has a right to appeal from the decision of this court in a case of this character." Judge Gantenbein then read the three orders.

ALASKA CASE

Annie Clayson Sues Her Son for Non-fulfillment of Contract.

Annie L. Clayson brought suit in the Circuit Court yesterday against her son, William Clayson, for the recovery of $720. She alleges that he agreed to pay her $60 a month during her lifetime, and that he has failed to do it.

In August, 1902, she says, she filed suit in the United States Division of the Court of the Court of the States of the Court of the States of the Court of the States of the Court of the United States Division of the Court of the States of the Court of the States of the Court of the States of the Court of the in the United States District Court at Skagway, Alaska, for the recovery of $2000 from her son for rent and proceeds from the sale of real estate in Skagway, and for $4000 for labor which she alleges she performed. Two months later, she asserts, they agreed to dismiss the case if the son would pay her $60 a month for her life. She was also to walve certain rights which she held to the property of her son, F. H. Clayson, under his will. William Clayson paid monthly until December, 1903, she asserts, and then failed. October, 1905, she brought suit for the overy of $780, and obtained judgment that amount. She says she brought a second suit for amounts due between Oc-tober, 1905, and March, 1908, and that this case is now pending. The suit filed yesterday is the third.

Sue Watson for $33,975.

The Polk County Oil Company is suing D. M. Watson for the recovery of $33.975 before a jury in Judge Cleiand's department of the Circuit Court. Testimony was given yesterday to the effect that Watson leased land in Polk County supposed to contain mineral deposits, and sub-leased this to the oil company. He then contracted with the company, it is said, to bore an oil well. It is alleged that in order to obtain possession of the premises he abandoned the drilling of the well, and the company being under contract with him, could employ no one else to do the work. The stock of the company is said to have been rendered valueless on this account.

Anti-Simon Men Will Try to Choose Candidate.

VERY FAR APART

Effort to Effect Agreement Between Bailey, Rushlight and Kellaher Will Probably Fail and H. R. Albee Is Suggested.

Ratification of the assembly candiates by the South Portland Republican Club has had the effect of spurring the anti-Simon forces to action. Accordingly the leaders of the anti-assembly movement have decided to get together not later than Sunday and canvass the situation and determine whether to bring out a candidate against Simon in the primaries, or to allow the complicated state of affairs to go by default. An effort first will be made to induce Bailey, Rushlight and Kellaher to enter into a compromise that the anti-assembly forces may concentrate on one candidate. Falling in this, an attempt will be made to bring out another candidate.

It is conceded by the opponents of Simon that the fight against the exsenator properly should be waged in the primaries, but the trouble with them, to date, has been either to concentrate their strength on one of the candidates already in the field, or to bring out another who was the strength on the field. Club has had the effect of spurring centrate their strength on one of the candidates already in the field, or to bring out another who can land the party nomination over Simon and the orginazation by which he is backed. They concede that the nomination of Simon in the primaries in itself would strengthen his candidacy and make him a more formidable candidate to defeat in the June election.

Bailey Speaks for Harmony.

Of the three candidates in the field against Simon for the Republican nomagainst Simon for the Republican nomination, State Senator Balley has openly allied himself with the anti-assembly camp. Discussing the situation yesterday. Balley said that he was willing to draw lots or shake dice with Rushlight or any other aspirant for the Republican nomination in order that some one man might make the race against Simon single-handed. Balley is willing to go farther. He declares that if the leaders of the anti-Simon movement can decide on a candidate who may be regarded as stronger than himself or Rushlight, he will be willing to retire from the race. This attitude on the part of Balley, however, is dependent in a large measure on Rushlight taking the same position. But Rushlight is not so condescending. Professing confidence in his ability to capture the party indorsement in the primary election and being still further handicapped by his compact with Kellaher, Rushlight is standing pat and will enter negotiations looking to the selection of one candidate only in consideration that he is to be the man. In these proposed negotiations, the ination, State Senator Bailey has opensideration that he is to be the man sideration of one candidate only in consideration that he is to be the man. In these proposed negotiations, the anti-Simon people will not take into consideration the candidacy of C. E. McDonell, the third Mayoralty candidate in the field. They regard McDonell as an auxiliary candidate to the Simon camp and admit that they could not afford to compromise themselves in any way that might put it up to them to support McDonell. There is a bare possibility that the anti-assembly people eventually may decide to support Rushlight but it will only be as a final resort. The record of Rushlight as a Councilman is being inquired into and if the feeling which exists among the anti-Simon leaders that he is not strong enough can be dissipated by the result of that investigation, he may be selected as the candidate to oppose Simon of that investigation, he may be se-lected as the candidate to oppose Simon but it will not be until the field has een carefully scanned and the impossibility of picking a strong and repreentative business man and taxpayer is

The probable indorsement either of Bailey or Rushlight as opposed to the other is regarded an unlikely procedure. It is admitted by the opponents of Si-mon that unless they can consolidate the Bailey-Rushlight strength and ef-

He is reported to have ad-mitted, in conversation with one of his colleagues in the recent State Leg-islature, that if he should be selected as the proper candidate to oppose Simon in the primaries, he would leave the matter of his indersement entirely with that he would accept such a nomina-tion. Senator Albee for several years has been engaged in the insurance busi-ness in this city and was selected as a Statement No. 1 member of the Senate

Supporters of Simon and the other candidates on the assembly ticket are more than satisfied with the situation. The disorganized condition of the opposition and the inability of the Democrats to unite on a candidate have afforded the Simon forces occasion for much felicitation. Said A. B. Manley, chairman of the Republican City Central Committee, yesterday:

"The atmosphere is clearing daily. Success of the assembly ticket, while at no time in doubt, is now practically assured." Supporters of Simon and the othe

It is the intention of the proprietors, Philip Metschan & Sons, to have the present hotel completely overhauled and modernized, refurnished and rearranged. There are to be three entrances to the hotel when the new part is finished and the present hotel is altered—one on Washington, already in use; one on Seventh and another on Stark. An arcade is to lead from the Washington-street entrance to another on Stark. An arcade is to lead from the Washington-street entrance to the main lobby located in the new building, which is to occupy space of 60x80 feet. The other two entrances will lead to this main lobby also. Part of the lobby space is to be utilized as a ladies' reception room, entrance to which will be a separate one on the Saventh-street, ront in the lobby will Seventh-street ront, In the lobby will be located news and cigar stands, telephone booths and other accessories found in modern botels. Along the Stark-street front will be situated a grill, intended to be one of the hand-somest on the Coast. Philip Metschan, Jr., recently made a trip to Eastern manufacturers and made contracts for furniture for the two houses to the extent of about $100,000 paying particular attention to beds and bedding. The interior woodwork of the new building is to be of mahogany. There will be 130 rooms with baths and every room will be equipped with clothes closets and have full length mirrors on the doors. Telephones will be installed in all rooms. The hotel is to be heated with steam and will have running hot and cold water. Special sample rooms are to be provided for commercial travelers.

Mr. Wilcox bought the site for the new building about two years ago for $160,000, which is now considered a big bargain. The exterior of the structure is to be faced with granite for the first story and with terra cotta or glazed brick on the upper stories. Whidden & Lewis are the architects.

It is this divided opinion as to the advisability of putting a ticket in the field, coupled with the uncertainty of Mayor Lane's position, which is responsible for the scarcity of material in the Democratic party for the Mayoralty nomination.
