PAYMENT OFFERED FOR CONFESSION

Brandenburg Declares Immunity Was Promised Him by Men in Dayton.

EXPECTS FINANCIAL AID

Man Who Sold "Cleveland Letter" Tells How He Procured Material—Puts Matrimonial Tangle Up to Courts.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Broughton Brandenburg made public today the name of the man whom, he alleges, endeavored to secure a confession from him and offered complete immunity from prosecution on the charge against him. He said that on October 25, F. C. Lewis called on him at Dayton, O., and in the presence of his attorneys said that he had arranged for the charge to be dismissed providing that a complete confession was made. Substantial remuneration also was offered, said Brandenburg.

Brandenburg had a long conference today with his uncle, Charles Broughton Curtis, of Los Angeles, who came to this city to aid him in his struggle against extradition. At the close of the conference it was announced that a number of local men had become interested in the case and had arranged for a consultation with Brandenburg's attorney.

In a long signed article published here this morning Brandenburg goes into the details of his alleged dealings with Mr. Cleveland a short time before the last Presidential campaign. He claims that the ex-President appointed him as press agent to sell to the highest bidder a series of three articles on the political situation. According to his statement, it was understood that Mr. Cleveland was to get $2000 for the series, and that Brandenburg was to be compensated by whatever over that amount he could realize. Mrs. Cleveland and the Princeton sage's executor, C. F. Hastings, were made aware of the affair. Only one of the articles was prepared. Cleveland gave him a large number of paragraphs penciled in a bundle of loose slips of paper, which, he claims, were to be the basis of the first contribution. Continuing, Brandenburg writes:

"Mr. Cleveland had not written at length on labor and the tariff, as I had hoped he would. He had, however, unburdened his mind on Mr. Bryan in two paragraphs, one on record and the other on personality. These, I saw, must come out if I was to sell the article to any but a partisan periodical, but I did not urge the matter then, waiting till later, when they were excised. As they are things which Mr. Cleveland chose not to utter, they are locked up with me forever. I typed the article, arranging the paragraphs according to agreed constructive ideas, and here and there wrote in connecting words and phrases to secure rhetorical smoothness and carry the echo from paragraph to paragraph.

"With the original script and this first typewritten draught, I returned to Mr. Cleveland the following day, and went over the matter thoroughly, making many changes, and again I took the entire matter home and retyped it. When I saw him again he appeared ill and seemed to lack concentration. Contrary to his habit of making corrections, he went over the manuscript in a tired way."

According to Brandenburg, the ex-President signed the article with a pen furnished by the former.

Brandenburg declares he will resist extradition; that he will make a fight for the possession of the Cabanne boy, whose father is on the way here to get the child, and that the courts must decide the matrimonial mix-up, which involves a marriage in Honduras and a divorce suit in St. Louis.

In regard to the last phase of his predicament, the writer explains that Mrs. Cabanne, mother of the boy he claims is his stepson, went with him to Central America, where she secured a divorce and they were married. Mrs. Cabanne-Brandenburg's former husband has an application for divorce pending in the St. Louis courts. She telegraphed the prisoner from New York to do all in his power to hold her son, and a message also was received from District Attorney Jerome, of that city, to hold Brandenburg in not less than $20,000 bail.

The matter was called to the attention of Mrs. Robert Lutke, the club president, and later brought into discussion at recent meetings. The idea of personal excursions and investigations into conditions was inaugurated, and a committee appointed to take charge, consisting of Mrs. Lutke, the chairman of the various committees, including Mrs. Cleveland Rockwell, Mrs. J. C. Pritchard, Mrs. A. H. Breyman, Mrs. W. H. Fear, Mrs. William Gadsby, Mrs. G. M. Glines, Mrs. H. J. Jackson, Mrs. J. W. Tifft, Mrs. C. E. Runyon, Mrs. B. T. Weaver, Mrs. Grace Watt Ross, Mrs. W. H. It is planned to make fortnightly trips to the various manufacturing concerns, in the hope of promoting and interesting Portland people to give home manufacturers the preference when purchasing. It is planned to conduct a campaign in the interest of the products of Portland factories, to the end that they may prosper insofar as it lies in the power of the Woman's Club to make them.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., April 26.—Letters from Secretary Wilson and Chairman C. S. Scott, of the House committee on agriculture, discussing the recent wheat corner and possible legislation at the next Congress, were made public here today by Charles E. Dickinson, president of the Franklin Mills Company. Mr. Wilson's letter says:

I have your letter of April 21 and am gratified to know that the members of the Buffalo Board of Trade are generally favorable to my views and express the hope that we shall be able to overcome the attempt of Mr. Patten to create a prejudice unfavorable to our reports and methods.

Mr. Scott wrote:

I assure you that I appreciate your suggestions at their full value. It will be impossible for Congress to give any consideration to this measure during the extra session, but I expect to take it up next Winter and I hall take the liberty of using your letter as an evidence of sentiment entertained by the real business men who are intimately connected with the industry of growing and manufacturing wheat. We will probably have public hearings and, if so, I should be extremely glad if you could find it convenient to appear before the committee personally.

TAKEN AFTER CHASE

Weston Robber Suspects Are Caught at Wallula.

CAPTURE IS IMPORTANT

Men Believed to Have Burglar Records—Sheriff Taylor Chases Fugitives Through Several Counties Before Making Capture.

PENDLETON, Or., April 26.—(Special.)—After a brief but thrilling chase across several counties and a part of two states, Sheriff Taylor and Deputy Sheriff Wilson have run down and captured three men suspected of being the ones who blew open the safe and set fire to Sim Culley's store at Weston Saturday night.

Every member of the trio is believed to be a burglar with a record, and the capture is regarded as one of the most important made in many years. J. A. Murray, C. M. Clark and Michael Burke are the men under arrest.

It is now believed that the $5000 fire in the store followed as a result of the explosion which opened the safe, and that the burglars did not maliciously set the fire through anger at finding only $5 in the safe.

The trail of the suspects was picked up before they reached Weston and pulled off the job. Then it was followed to Freewater, where the handcar was left, and on into Walla Walla, then west to Wallula, where the arrests were made.

The officers are expected to arrive tomorrow morning with their prisoners, they having consented to come across the line without the requisition papers, which were at first demanded.

FAMILY COUGH SYRUP

Cures Any Cough in Five Hours. NEW PRESCRIPTION HERE.

Here is given the most effective cough prescription known to the medical world. It is a mild laxative, too, and this is what a body needs when suffering with cough and cold on the lungs. A cough or cold indicates poisons in the system, causing inflammation and congestion. Nearly all cough syrups relieve, but make the trouble worse by their constipating effects. This prescription not only relieves quickly, but it cures any cough that is curable. Get one-half ounce fluid wild cherry bark, one ounce compound essence cardiol and three ounces syrup white pine compound. Mix in a bottle. Take for acute cough or bronchitis twenty drops every half hour for four hours. Then one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times daily. Give children less according to age. A few hours' treatment will cure and heal the throat and lungs of all but consumptives. Cut this out and give it to some friend who may need it to be saved from an early death by consumption.
