SILETZ SETTLERS

Ballinger and Dennett Promise to Expedite Land-Office Decisions.

LISTEN TO HAWLEY'S PLEA

Will Consider Difficulty of Strict Compliance With Law and Recognize Settlers as Against Intervenors.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Wash-OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, April 28.—Representative Hawley today made a strong personal appeal to Secretary Ballinger and Land Commissioner Dennett to take up and finally adjudicate the long-pending suspended Siletz homestead entries. Mr. Hawley explained that this reservation was by act of Congress, thrown open only under the homestead law, notwithstanding much of the land is heavily timbered. He insisted that, in view of the natural conditions, many bona fide settlers had difficulty in strictly complying with the law.

that, in view of the natural conditions, many bona fide settlers had difficulty in strictly complying with the law.

The Secretary and Commissioner assured Mr. Hawley that they would give preders that these cases be expedited and that, in deciding them, they will take into account the conditions which he explained. Mr. Ballinger further assured Mr. Hawley that in reaching his decision he would recognize any rights of the Government and settlers and would not recognize alieged rights of intervenors.

OREGON LAND IS WITHDRAWN

Secretary Ballinger Takes Preliminary Steps on Malheur Project.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Wash-Ington, April 28.—Secretary Ballinger temporarily withdrew from entry, except under homestead law, about 200,000 acres of land in township 15 to 19 south, ranges 43 to 47 east. Oregon, in connection with the Malheur irrigation project today.

This land is believed to be suscepti-le of irrigation. Approximately 100. This land is believed to be suscepti-ble of irrigation. Approximately 199,-909 acres additional are withdrawn from any form of disposition whatever for use as reservoirs under this project as Beulah, Warm Springs, Juntura, Up-per Willow, Lower Willow, Upper Bully Creek, Lower Bully Creek and Harper reservoirs.

These reservoirs are on the Malheur River or its tributaries. The object of these withdrawals is to hold the lands in reservoir sites for future utilization by the Reclamation Service in the event that Secretary Ballinger decides the Malheur project shall be built by the Government. If he turns the project over to private interests, these withdrawals will be abandoned.

RELIEF LIKELY FOR KLAMATH

Secretary Ballinger Promises to Do What He Can for Settlers.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington. April 28.—Representative Hawley had a conference today with Secretary Ballinger with the view of securing relief for settlers on the Klamath irrigation project. Hawley informed the Secretary that in view of the heavy expense to which settlers will be not during the first years. heavy expense to which settlers will be put during the first years on their new land, it would be difficult for them to make full assessed payment for water rights at first, and he therefore asked that some arrangement. that some arrangement be made to permit light payments during the first two or three years. The Secretary promized to look into the law and see if it gives him authority to grant such relief.

If empowered to do so, he indicated he would do as Hawley requested. He also assured Hawley he would endeavor to visit the Klamath project this Summer and familiarize himself with the conditions that have led to so much Deschutes and Harney Project Land Taken Over by Government.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, April 28.—Secretary Ballinger today withdrew from all entry three desirable reservoir sites in Oregon, which may at some future time be util-faed in connection with Government irrigation projects. One withdrawal of 16,240 acres embodied a reservoir site on Emigrant Creek, in Northern Harney County, northwest of Burns. It will be utilized if the Government builds the Harney project.

Two other withdrawals were made for the Deschutes project, one of 16,640 acres, including and surrounding Crescent Lake, and another of 23,040 acre embodying Big Marsh, located in the extreme northwest corner of Klamath The Deschutes project, if built will irrigate considerable land near the us of the proposed Harriman

"That may be so," said Mr. Heney, entering into the debate, "but I happen to know that 'Rudy' Fischbeck, a well-known saloonkeeper, was brought in here a few days ago by Mr. Barrett and that he was making signs to one of the jurors while court was in session." sion."
"That is false, also," interrupted Mr.

Barrett.
During Calhoun's remarks Judge Lawlor made no attempt to interrupt until after Mr. O'Gara had made ob-jection, when Judge Lawlor expressed a belief that any statements made by the defendant, except through his counsel, were improper.

The trial will be resumed tomorrow, he would do as Hawley requested. He also assured Hawley he would endeavor to visit the Klamath project this Summer and familiarize himself with the conditions that have led to so much friction.

The whole tenor of the defense's cross-examination of the ex-Supervisors is directed to extract admissions that the board was engaged in a conspiracy to blackmail corporations. Asked by Judge Lawlor if he held such proof to constitute a legal defense, Mr. Rogers constitute a legal defense, Mr. Rogers said he did not, but he held it to be a fact which the jury ought to know. Mr. Hency then said that if the defense would as a basis for proof of conspiracy, acknowledge that money was paid by Calhoun to secure the franchise, he would withdraw all objection to questions on the subject.

Questioned about alleged discrepancies in his testimony, ex-Supervisor Coleman appealed to the court, and "If that testimony was given by me Mr. Heney forced Coleman to admit a total change of front from opposition to support of the trolley fran-
