BY W. J. PETRAIN

After winning eight straight games from the Oakland bunch Portland collapsed yesterday, and by virtue of the fine pitching of George Boice, the computers got away with the long end of a 5-to-1 score at the Vaughn-street lot.

Game Is Won in Sixth

With Boice pitching in grand form, it soon developed that one of two runs would win the game, and when Oakland put the two over on Seaton in the sixth, the game was stowed away in Van Halten's pocket.

Official Score of Game

The official score of yesterday's game is as follows:

COLUMBIA IS BEATEN

BASEBALL TEAM MEETS FIRST DEFEAT OF SEASON.

Washington High School Beats Varsity Nine by Score of 8 to 1.

Columbia University suffered its first defeat of the season in the inter-scholastic League yesterday afternoon, when the Washington High School ran up 8 scores against them, allowing only one run in return. Up to the fourth inning only one man had reached first and this was due to an almost unavoidable error on the part of the pitcher, Finegan, who muffed the ball that barely struck his hand in the fourth inning. Finegan weakened and three runs were made in that inning.

Another run was made by the Washingtons in the fifth inning. This seemed to rattle the Columbia men for they made several errors, going completely up in the air. Four runs were made in this inning and the side was again retired with the bases full.

Finegan was replaced in the seventh inning by Kirk and the Columbia men rallied, shutting the Washington men out. Houck, for the Washingtons, pitched a magnificent game, striking out eight men. He was well backed up by the rest of the team. Houck also made one of the two-base hits of the game, and scored two runs.

The line-up: C. I. Finegan, Kirk, Houck, Ennis, Devers, Davis, Hayward, Campbell, O'Brien, McDonald, Perkins, Cosens.
