Nor Working For Francisco. Nor Working For Franchise.—A mis-apprehension exists as to the attitude of the Feninsula Development League con-cerning the referendum on the blanket street railway franchise recently adopted by the City Council over the Mayor'a veto, says W. A. Martin, chairman of the publicity committee of the league. "The statement publiched that the league had sent a committee before the Labor Union statement published that the lengue had sent a committee before the Labor Union meeting to urge the labor organizations not to proceed with the referendum peti-tion, is incorrect," said Mr. Martin yes-terday. "Some of the members of the lengue appeared before the meeting but wholly in their capacity as individuals. The lengue had no committee present and is not working as an organization against the referendum in this matter." Strenge Ang Mees to Press Back Dat

Portland Clothes Buyers Know and Appreciate Our Ability to Give Greater Values

One need not be a wizard of finance to figure out why Steinbach & Co. are able to name lower prices on good clothing than can be found elsewhere. The reason is as simple as A B C. As long as the world rolls round, quantity will, in a measure, regulate price. Our purchasing power is enormous-greater than the combined buying capacity of half a dozen ordinary clothing stores buying good clothing-this, together with our small-margin-of-profit plan of selling, proves that we can and do save our customers money on their clothing purchases.

You'll think exceptionally well of the Suits and Overcoats we feature at $18.00, $20.00, $25.00, $30.00. Come in Friday or Saturday and look them over.

Mornen DEAD IN GERMANY. - Emil Schacht, a well-known resident of this city, several days ago received word of city, several days ago received word of the death of his mother, Mrs. Emilie Schacht, at Elmsborn, near Hamburg, Germany. Mrs. Schacht reached the age of 88 years 10 months. Mr. Schacht is the only member of the family in Portland.

From the fluty harmonics of Surasate to the classic measures of Beethoven this young Russian violinist plays as one blessed by the gods. It is seldom, in-deed, that a violinist comes to this coun-try who so completely buries his tech-nique in melody, or who hides his skill so well behind the bars of absolute mu-sic. The skeleton of Elman's music never rattles-only the spirit is felt, and that spirit is a serenely beautiful presence when it is not passionate and tumultu-ous. FATHER O'HARA LECTURES .- Dante's "Divine Comedy" was the subject of a "Divine Conedy" was the subject of a fecture by Rev. Edwin V. O'Hara, Tues-day night in the Sellwood Presbyterian Church. Father O'Hara gave a scholarly analysis of the great Italian poet and his masterplece which was much appreciated by these present. those present.
