Portland slipped another one over on the Seals yesterday, and while it required 12 innings to turn the trick, the game demonstrated that McCredie's huskles can play the game of baseball in all its phases. The final score was 6 to 5, and Dick Breen's triple, followed by a pass to Armbruster, and Graney's slow bounder McArdle, which Breen best to the plate, was the deciding factor in a game that was full of excitement and misplays, but nevertheless interesting at all times Jack Graney was pitted against Ralph Willis, and the San Francisco boy, who was known as the hard-luck pitcher last was known as the hard-luck pitcher last year on account of the large number of 1-to-0 games he lost, was against that same old hard luck game yesterday. Had Graney been accorded perfect support in the earlier innings, and likewise Willis, it is quite likely that one run would have decided the game, for both pitchers were in great form and worked hard to win. It was Portland's day, and while the locals booted and threw badly, the Seals did even worse.

Grancy Lets Up in Ninth.

With the score 5 to 3 in our favor in the ninth, Graney displayed his only the ninth, Graney displayed his only signs of weakening, for he allowed Mohler a pass and was hit hard by Tennant and Meichior. All three are left-handed batters, who ordinarily are easy for Fortland's premier southpaw. As a result the score was tied up in a bow knot, requiring extra innings.

The Seals put two over in the second inning because errors by Olson and Johnson and an infield hit by McArdle, which went as such because Umpire Toman needs to clean his lamps, allowed Jimmy Williams and Berry to score. Portland came right back, for an error by Nick Williams, who played third in the absence of Rolly Zelder, who is ill, Kennedy's of Rolly Zeider, who is ill, Kennedy's sacrifice and a fielder's choice on Arm-bruster's out gave one run to the home

Graney's wild heave gave San Francisco one in the third, while Portland chased one more over in the same inning on a pass to Ryan and William's second or third error, it is hard to recollect or third error, it is hard to recollect which. He made so many real and near boots that count of them could not be kept.

CHICAGO, May 6.—The locals obtained a lead of four runs in the first inning on two very amateurish errors, two singles and a double. This won for them. The Graney's Double Scores Two.

In the fourth McCredie's bunch got busy in carnest and Graney's corking double sent Breen and Kennedy across the plate, giving us the lead.

Another error by Williams and Ryan's pretty single scored Graney for run the fifth in the sixth inning. In the meantime it looked like molasses taffy for Portland, as the Scale were seemingly unable to hand anything to Graney until the ninth, when the aforementioned left handed batsmen were to blame for the trying of the score.

tying of the score.

In the 12th, Breen opened with a beauty to center which netted him three cushions. to center which netted him three cushions. Kennedy was out, McArdie to Tennant, with Breen holding third. Armbruster walked, and promptly stole second while Willis was winding up. Graney planted a slow bounder to McArdie, and the latter's throw to the plate was true, but Breen made a beautiful slide under Berry, gaining the decision by an eyelash, and the game was over. the game was over.

Today is ladies' day, and Portland is out to make it three straight. Roy Willett will pitch for McCredie, while "Slivers" Henley will films for the Seals. The official score of yesterday's game is as VANCOUVER, B. C. May 6-(Special)—In a slow game, Portland suc-ceeded in taking the fourth game of the series from the Champion Beavers today by a score of 4 to 2.

Kinsella, who dispensed for the visi-tors, and Cooney, the speedy shortstop of the Portland team, made the going difficult for the Champions throughout the game Kinsella was very effective in the pinches, while Cooney's remark-able playing saved the game for Portland on more than one occasion.

Paddock was very erratic and altogether issued seven passes, while Portland bunched hits on him in the fourth, scoring their first run. In the sixth and seventh innings they added two more safe drives, combined with errors and Paddock's erratic filinging.

Vancouver scored a couple of runs in the seventh inning when Cooney's error, a single by Davis and a walk filled the bases. Paddock scored on an infield out, while Quigley's sacrifice fly sent Davis home. Mahon's wild heave to third in an attempt to catch Murphy enabled that player to cross the plate, scoring Portland's fourth run.

In the ninth inning the Champions managed to get a couple of men on bases, but Kinsella steadled down and the side was retired without a run Scharncy, shortstop of the Cham-plons, sprained his ankle in the seventh inning, and was forced to retire. This breaks up Vancouver's infield, as Nor-dyke is still out of the game. Score:

Hurd's Wild Work Forces In Run for

Visitors, and Hit Follows.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Or., May 6-(Special.)—Oregon won from Columbia University in baseball this afternoon by the score of 6 to 4.

"Father Tom" Kelly's bunch was not up to usual form and was shut out until the fifth inning. Hurd, captain of the Oregon nine, pitched a wild game, passing nine men and hitting two. In the third inning, Hurd walked three men in succession, with one man on base, which forced in Columbia's first run. In the sixth, through an error and two walks, the Portland lads again filled the bases, when Duly, Columbia's third baseman, hit a long drive into center field with his third strike, which emptied the bases and put him on second.

afternoon and the semi-finals will be started today, leading up to the decisive games of the league. The last game of the preliminaries was between Couch and Shattuck, in which Couch won out by the score of 5 to 4. This was to play off a tie for first place in Section I.

It was an interesting and well-played game with the exception of the first innings, in which errors were responsible for runs by both teams. An error on the part of Douglas let in one run for Shattuck, and Hummell is charged with a blow-up which let in four runs for Couch. Shattuck tied the score in the fourth inning with an exciting demonstration from the rooters. Couch ecored again in the fifth, no more scores being made in the remaining innings, which became a pitchers' battle. The largest crowd of the season was present, which included the faculty.
