

NORTHERN PACIFIC SAFETY LENSES OUT

Immense Idaho Timber Traffic Believed to Have Been Got by Milwaukee.

DEAL WITH WEYERHAEUSER

Branch Line From Orofino Will Tap Rich Timber Section on Clear- water River—Northern Pacific "Sleeps."

LEWISTON, Idaho, May 9.—(Special.)—That the Northern Pacific Railroad Company has "slept on its rights" and thereby lost the timber tonnage which will be furnished by the Weyerhaeuser syndicate from the Clearwater country is becoming more apparent with every move on the railroad checkerboard.

The Clearwater Timber Company, generally regarded as a Weyerhaeuser concern, has started activities at Orofino, and the filing of maps and profiles showing the proposed railroad which will tap the timber country, which, coupled with the activity of the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound in the same territory, indicates the fact and emphasizes it more strongly that this new system has entered an alliance with the timber syndicate, which provides that the Earling road will handle the bulk of the Clearwater tonnage.

MILWAUKEE BUILDS FEEDER

Extension From Orofino Will Tap Rich Timber Belt.

MOSCOW, Idaho, May 9.—(Special.)—L. S. Mx, one of the owners of the Orofino Terminal Company, who has just returned from there, says that the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound has let a contract for an extension of 22 miles southeast from Orofino to Elk Creek Falls, which is on a line with a survey being made from there to Orofino.

It was announced some time ago when the contract was let by the C. M. & P. S. from St. Maries to Boville, that the Potlatch Lumber Company of the Washington, Idaho & Montana would make the extension from Boville to Elk Creek Falls.

CATHOLICS BUILD SCHOOL

Excavation Begins Today for New Structure in Eugene.

EUGENE, Or., May 9.—(Special.)—Tomorrow work of excavating for the new Catholic school building will begin. The old church building, which served as a house of worship for so many years, and which has been used as a schoolhouse since the completion of the church building in 1907, has been removed in order to give place for the attractive new school building.

From now on during the summer work will be in progress on three new school buildings in Eugene. Besides the Catholic school, there will be one public school building erected in East Eugene and one in West Eugene. Each of the public school buildings will cost about $17,000, and will be ready for occupancy by the beginning of the fall term.

RED LIGHTS ARE DOUSED

Denizens of Reserve Street Driven From Vancouver by Mayor's Edict.

VANCOUVER, Wash., May 9.—(Special.)—The last inhabitant of the red-lighted district today left Reserve street and lower Main street, under an edict issued by Mayor J. P. Kliggins, ten days ago. Most of the women have left for other points, though it is understood that a few are in lodging houses in the city.

The police say that they will arrest any of the women found in the city. One of the benefits to be derived from the housecleaning will be the cooperation of the army officers in having Reserve street widened from 40 feet to 60 feet.

CHEHALIS, Wash., May 9.—(Special.)—Mathias Young, of Napaive, was struck by a switch engine while he was walking on the Northern Pacific main line north of that place last evening, sustaining injuries from which he will probably die.

He was badly bruised about the face and head. Mr. Young is 86 years of age. One son, in the college at Salem, is a well-known business man at Centralia. Two other sons live near Chehalis. Mr. Young was brought to the Catholic Hospital here. There is no hope of his recovery.

EUGENE, Or., May 9.—(Special.)—Saturday, May 15, is the day set for dedication by the Oddfellows of their new home in the White Temple, corner East Ninth and Oak streets. The new building is the first five-story building to be erected in Eugene. This same lodge built the first three-story building here, years ago. Many who have visited all the lodges in Oregon consider the new lodgeroom here the finest and most modern in Oregon. Judge Burnett, of Salem, will deliver the principal address May 15.

O. A. C. DEBATERS WINNERS

Defeat McMinnville College on City Government Issue.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Or., May 9.—(Special.)—The Oregon Agricultural College debating team defeated the debaters from McMinnville College at the college armory last night in a discussion of the commission form of government for the larger cities of the Northwest. The visiting team supported the affirmative and the local men the negative. The judges gave a unanimous decision. The affirmative argued that city government in the United States has been a failure and that a change in the form of government is the only solution of this great problem. They urged that commission government, by locating responsibility and simplifying the mechanism of government, would result in better administration. The negative contended that the remedy was not in a change of government, but in the correction of minor defects in the present system.

McMinnville College was represented by B. E. Griffith, C. J. McKee and George R. McIntire. The O. A. C. debaters were C. T. Jefferson, P. H. Cole and R. R. Clark. The judges were Professor H. L. Bates, of Pacific University, Forest Grove; E. D. Marlette, Salem, and Attorney George Neuner, of Roseburg. Pres-

DEATH CLAIMS NATIVE SON OF LINN COUNTY.

ALBANY, Or., May 9.—(Special.)—Lee Gussaulas, who died last week at the home of his sister, Mrs. Fernando Seehale, near Jefferson, was one of the best-known young men in Linn County. He was born in this county and spent almost all his life here, residing most of the time in Lebanon and for short periods at Albany and Scio. He was a member of one of the oldest pioneer families of Linn County, his grandfather, Gussaulas, having come to this county in 1853, and his mother's father, F. P. Devaney, of Albany, being one of the best-known living descendants of that part of the state. He leaves a widow, who is a daughter of J. A. Blyden, of Scio, and one son 7 years old.

VALLEY GETS RAIN

Moisture Was Badly Needed by Willamette Farmers.

EUGENE, Or., May 9.—The rains of last night and today mean thousands of dollars to the farmers of Lane County. The frosts of last week, together with the dry conditions generally, were the occasion of considerable worry among the farmers. While there were a number of localities in which the frost hit hard, the damage is not as great as was first reported from some sections.

The cherry crop across the river does not seem to have been damaged to any extent and the rains will help materially in its development. Prunes were badly nipped along the river, but not so much on higher ground. Early strawberries were quite generally affected, but the fear of further damage is considerably dispelled by the rains which make further frost for the present at least, improbable.

Aside from the damage reported to fruit from the frosts, the prospects in Lane for a good crop are encouraging. The apple crop will be light this year on account of the heavy crop of 1908.

BENEFIT TO HAY AND FRUIT

Rain in Washington County Was Very Badly Needed.

FOREST GROVE, Or., May 9.—(Special.)—Farmers are rejoicing over the showers that are falling here today. The rain, being general throughout this section of the county, is timely for the crops are in need of moisture. In some parts the ground is as hard as a rock, for the dry weather of the past month is unprecedented, and the sun has dried up the soil to a great extent.

The strawberry crop will be benefited materially, as some of the plants were withering. The grass will receive new impetus. In the Centerville district it was feared that if the dry spell continued there would not have been more than half a crop of hay. In the Gaston neighborhood this same condition prevails and the occasional showers are helping the grass and crops to take a new lease on life.

ALBANY FARMERS REJOICING

Rain, However, Not Sufficient for Dry Fields in County.

ALBANY, Or., May 9.—(Special.)—Rain fell here last night and today, being the first rain of the season. Willamette Valley has received since the first day of April. It was gladly welcomed by the farmers in this part of the state. Though not enough has yet fallen to relieve the pressing need for moisture on the valley farms, the rain today means hundreds of dollars to Linn and Benton County farmers.

It was the first sign of rain in the center of the valley since April 27, when there was a very light shower. The last day on which any noticeable amount of rain fell here, prior to last night, was April 1. During that month only .56 of an inch fell here, it being the driest April on record in the Government rainfall records at this city.

TO PRESERVE OLD HOME

M'LOUGHLIN MEMORIAL ASSO- CIATION FORMED.

Oregon City Residents Propose to Raise $1000 Fund to Pre- serve Historic Structure.

OREGON CITY, Or., May 9.—(Special.)—For the purpose of preserving the old historic home of Dr. John McLaughlin, the founder of Oregon City, there was organized last night the McLaughlin Memorial Association, with the following officers: E. G. Causfield, president; George A. Harding, vice-president; Edward E. Brodie, secretary; Charles H. Causfield, treasurer; Rev. A. Hillbrand, Hon. James E. Campbell, State Senator; W. H. Hodges, C. E. LeTourneur, Mayor; W. E. Carl and Colonel Charles H. Dye, directors.

The officers are also ex-officio directors of the association, whose purpose is to set about immediately to raise $1000 to guarantee the moving of the home to the city park at the edge of the city, given by the City Council. It is intended not only to move the building to a permanent resting place, but to renovate it thoroughly, in order to make it as attractive as possible, so that it may be pointed out with pride to the hundreds of visitors that come to Oregon City every summer.

Voluntary subscriptions to aid the movement will be received at the Bank of Oregon City and the First National Bank, and the officers of the association do not expect to have any difficulty in raising the required amount in this city and in Portland.

JAIL BOARD IS TWO MEALS

Chehalis County Court Hopes to Im- prove Health of Prisoners.

CHEHALIS, Wash., May 9.—(Special.)—Prisoners who are so unfortunate as to land in the Lewis County Jail will have to be given but two meals a day instead of the customary three which mankind in general has been taught to crave since childhood's happy hours. At its meeting just adjourned the County Commissioners passed a resolution to this effect, the action being taken on account of the fact that this plan prevails in King County, where it is found that the health of the prisoners is improved by the reduction in the number of meals.

MAN'S IDEAL OF CHARACTER.

Theodore Parker. Every man has at times in his mind the ideal of what he should be, but is not. The ideal may be high and complete, or it may be quite low and incomplete, yet in all men that really seek to improve, it is better than the actual character. Man never falls so low that he can see nothing higher than himself.

DUEL VICTIM MAY LIVE

WILLIAM HERVE, SHOT BY HEN- RY SULLIVAN, IS BETTER.

Physicians Say He Has Fighting
Chance for Life and Will Move
Him to Albany if Sheriff Permits.

ALBANY, Or., May 9.—(Special.)—William Herve may recover from the wound he received in a pistol duel at Gates Friday in which he shot Henry Sullivan and caused his death. The three physicians who are attending him stated today for the first time that there was a chance for him to live.

Herve's condition was much better today and the physicians stated he would probably live a week and might possibly recover ultimately. D. E. Chapman, of Portland, a friend of Herve, went to Gates today to bring him to St. Mary's Hospital in Albany, but it was declared impossible to move him today. This will be done as soon as possible, however.

Some of Herve's relatives from San Francisco are expected to reach Albany tonight or early tomorrow morning and will take the train for Gates tomorrow. Doctors in attendance have decided to try to bring Herve to the Albany hospital tomorrow, if Sheriff Minto, of Marion County, will permit. If Herve stands the trip successfully an operation will be performed here. As the train has left Gates he cannot reach here until tomorrow evening.

WHO OWNS GRAIN EXHIBIT?

Idaho Fruit Inspector to Be Sued for Its Possession.

SPOKANE, Wash., May 9.—(Special.)—The ownership of the cereal exhibit collected last fall by the Deputy State Horticultural Inspector, William Mohl, for the Lewiston-Clarkston Interstate Fair, will be determined in a Lewiston, Idaho, Justice Court next week.

The fair board claims ownership and asserts that Mohl was paid for his services last fall. He secured possession of the exhibit by securing keys from the storage-room and taking the display over the bridge into Washington. If the court decision is favorable to the fair commissioners, a demand will be made on Mohl for the return of the exhibit, and it is probable that in the event of a refusal a charge of grand larceny will be filed.

The exhibit consists of fine grasses and cereals, and is valued at $1000.
