

IMPEACHMENT TICKET MAKING ITSELF

Opponents of Simon Will Try to Unite on Some Man to Run for Mayor.

WILL CALL MASS MEETING

Candidates for Other Municipal Of- fices, It Is Expected, Will Be Nominated at Same Time.

Rumor has it that before the pending municipal campaign makes much progress anti-Simon forces will call a mass-meeting to select a complete independent ticket to have lead of such a program, but admit that no efforts will be spared to bring the opposing forces together in the interest of one candidate on whom their strength can be concentrated. In considering such a plan the anti-Simon Republicans are not figuring on making any alliances with Judge Minty, the Democratic nominee. They allege that Minty is in the interest of the interest of Simon, and for that reason say they will fight shy of any combination with him.

In connection with such a mass meeting W. E. Ayer and State Senator E. E. Albee are being suggested as the most probable men to be considered as Mayorial timber. At the same time there is some talk of bringing State Senator C. W. Nottingham out as the man who has had some experience as an independent candidate.

Some of the disgruntled Republicans, however, do not warm up to the proposal of a mass meeting. They are fearful that if such a gathering should be held friends of Simon would pack it and control the proceedings. Another objection urged from the same source is any public meeting of the kind is the fact that before such an assembly is held the first essential is to determine that the rival aspirants for the Mayoralty stand by the choice of such a gathering.

It also was reported in connection with the proposed mass meeting that Mayor Lane would be the proper man to select to oppose Simon in the June election. While the anti-Simon following always has regarded Lane the strongest man that could be brought out against Simon, there are two good reasons why the Mayor will probably not figure in any deliberations of this kind. In the first place, it is not believed that Lane would consent to run as an independent in view of his gubernatorial aspirations. Second, it is not to be expected that Kellaher and Albee at this stage of the game would agree to step aside for Lane. For these reasons the first thing the opposition to the regular Republican ticket has decided must be done is to get Kellaher and Albee together on some mutual understanding that a single candidate may be put in the field.

The Kellaher-Rushlight people and the McCusker-Ayer-Albee forces realize that with Minty in the field for the Democratic nomination the anti-Simon Republican strength divided between Kellaher and Albee, the election of Simon would be but an easy accomplishment as was shown in the primary election. Some of the anti-Simon Republicans are looking to bringing out some man against Simon.

Vote to Be Canvassed Saturday.

City Auditor Barbur, with the assistance of County Clerk Fields and Justice of the Peace Olson, will begin the official canvass of the vote cast in the primary election Saturday morning at 10 o'clock this morning. It will be a comparatively easy matter to make the official count of the Republican vote, but considerable care will be required to determine the Democratic nominees by reason of the wholesale manner in which members of the minority party voted for candidates in the primary offices. It is a certainty that the official count will not alter the result so far as the Republican candidates are concerned, and it is not at all likely that the official figures will differ essentially from those published in The Oregonian Sunday morning.

Expenses Must Be Shown.

Under the provisions of the corrupt practices act, candidates in the primary election in this city are required to file a statement of their campaign expenses with the City Auditor within ten days following the election. If such statements are not filed within the prescribed time, it is made the duty of the Auditor to notify the District Attorney, who is authorized to prosecute any charges against the delinquent candidates. In the recent election, candidates for municipal offices, other than Councilmen, were not allowed to exceed a limit of more than 15 per cent of their first year's salary. The expenses of candidates for the Council are limited to $500. None of the candidates has yet filed such a statement.

Let us all pull together for a united, harmonious Republican party," is the suggestion incorporated in the postal-card invitations which have been issued to the Republican ratification meeting to be held in the Selling-Hirsch building tomorrow night under the auspices of the Republican Club. Judge M. C. George, president of the club, will preside and all candidates in the recent primary for Republican nominations are expected to be present and address the meeting. Charles E. Lockwood, J. Fanno and H. B. Dickinson constitute the committee on arrangements.

CLUBS WILL BE FORMED

Republicans Expect to Wage Active Campaign.

Through the organization of working clubs in each precinct, the Republican central committee will conduct an active campaign in behalf of the ticket of the entire Republican municipal ticket nominated in the primary election. This was one of the details incident to the pending campaign decided at a meeting of the committee last night. This particular plan of effective campaign effort was suggested by President J. F. Gregg and it was adopted enthusiastically.

The committee effected permanent organization on motion of J. F. Kerichem, by electing A. B. McLintock, J. Mitchell, temporary chairman and secretary, respectively, the permanent officers of the organization. Chairman Manley was authorized to appoint an executive board of ten members, consisting of one from each ward, and a finance committee. By whose duty it will be to raise the necessary funds for the campaign. In assembling the committee, Chairman Manley congratulated its members on the success that had attended their work in selecting the delegates to the recent Republican assembly. "There can be no question but that the vote cast

In Saturday's election demonstrated that the Republican voters of Portland heartily approve of the action of the committee in making the assembly possible.

W. M. Cake urged on the committee that the success of the ticket that has been nominated depended on their effort individually and collectively. He said that with party unity and active commitment the success of the Republican nominees was assured. "Those members of the committee who were not willing to abide by the result of the primary election and boost for the ticket," he said, "are not worth the effort and their party to step down and out and let other aggressive Republicans succeed to their places."

"There would be no need for an assembly or any other gathering of its kind," remarked Mr. Cake, "if men who are now posing as firm believers in the Republican party had added by the choice of the Republican primary elections in the past and supported those nominees instead of repeating the same old mistakes in the election of Democrats."

The only inkling of lack of harmony between the P. S. defeated candidate for Councilman in the Tenth Ward, Mr. McDonald made the charge that Joseph T. Ellis, the successful candidate, had been selected before the primary election to agree to support the choice of the party. For that reason, Mr. McDonald said, he had declined to run for nomination in the Tenth, who had entered into such an agreement, would refuse to support him in the primary election. Other members of the committee pleaded for harmony and the support of every man on the ticket but McDonald would not relent. He declared that an organized effort would be made by the defeated candidates for Councilman in his ward to defeat Ellis in June.

Mischa Elman Scores Tremendous Hit.

Russian Violinist, at Helbig Theater, Aroused Cheers of Large and Representative Audience by Splendid Playing.

BY JOSEPH M. QUENTEN. Musin, Kubelik, Kreisler, Hartmann and Maud Powell and have paid them with enthusiastic applause—and our dollars—for their magnificent violin playing. They have asked ourselves: Can there be any violin playing better than this? The answer is: Mischa Elman. The one violinist of our generation. Not only a virtuoso, but a genius. He has been passed upon his genius—that's the word—by large audiences at St. Petersburg, Paris, Berlin, London, New York City, Chicago and other cities in this country. He appeared before them as a comparative stranger, played and left as a conqueror. So Portland joins the procession.

The Helbig Theater was jammed to the doors last night by a brilliant audience, including quite a sprinkling of professional musicians, and never did an artist receive a more fervent welcome than Elman. He was not only applauded and the recipient of many smiles, but—

He was cheered! And that's something new for us in this conservative city. Elman was all the more a surprise because his examination of his personal appearance revealed an every-day sort of boy, and his violin, for all the world, might have been the usual wooden affair of the kind that may be seen heard here before. That was it—tone, and then more tone, of the sparkling, sunshiny order. In describing Elman about think of trills, single-stopping runs, harmonics, pizzicatos—something to be acquired by study. Elman is so gifted as a great violin player that the delight of his tone, so sweet, so much like a stream of incense, is so light, that critical analysis is difficult. Elman is a violin wizard at 18 years of age. What that will be when he is 25 is mellowed by maturity? A world wonder.

Cultivated musicians in last night's election fairly lost control of their customary composure in applauding Elman, and the only undisturbed persons I saw there were several professional violinists who did not seem to be able to grasp the idea of a great musician being so young. The wonderful, nearly human tone of that Stradivari of Cremona! As Elman played I thought of Helen A. in far Cremona centuries ago.

This little shining, shining thing was With address only centuries bestow. But give an artist hand the slender bow, And thought—

Of dreams 'tis fashioned and its tones are sought. With address only centuries bestow. But give an artist hand the slender bow, And thought—

Of dreams 'tis fashioned and its tones are sought. With address only centuries bestow. But give an artist hand the slender bow, And thought—

Of dreams 'tis fashioned and its tones are sought. With address only centuries bestow. But give an artist hand the slender bow, And thought—

Of dreams 'tis fashioned and its tones are sought. With address only centuries bestow. But give an artist hand the slender bow, And thought—

Of dreams 'tis fashioned and its tones are sought. With address only centuries bestow. But give an artist hand the slender bow, And thought—

Of dreams 'tis fashioned and its tones are sought. With address only centuries bestow. But give an artist hand the slender bow, And thought—

Of dreams 'tis fashioned and its tones are sought. With address only centuries bestow. But give an artist hand the slender bow, And thought—

WELCOME TO WARM

Portland Business Men Well Received in Washington.

JUNKET ONE OF GOOD WILL

People of Various Towns Turn Out and Give Greeting to Visitors.

Automobile Ride Is Feature at Vancouver.

(Continued from First Page.)
usual exchange of courtesies. At Chehalis was the first considerable stop after leaving Vancouver. A large number of citizens and members of the Citizens' Club, headed by Mayor Weger, and President D. W. Bush, of the club, offered the greeting of Chehalis to their friends from Oregon. Mayor West made an unusually interesting speech of welcome, which was responded to by a member of the party. The exercises were conducted from the famous McKelley dump, which has been honored on former occasions by the personal presence of President McKinley, ex-President Roosevelt and President, then Secretary of War, Taft.

Hour and Half at Chehalis.
The time of the visitors was largely taken up in introductions at the headquarters of the publicity bureau and in inspection of the fine plant of the Pacific Coast Condensed Milk Works, the furniture factory and other important industries. It was pleasant to observe that there is a fine public spirit at Chehalis, made manifest in streets paved with vitrified brick and in the establishment of many thriving industries. Among other things Chehalis is about to build a new $40,000 schoolhouse and to found a Carnegie library. The boys' band of the State Training School, located at Chehalis, rendered several fine selections during the hour and a half of the Portland business men's visit.

At Centralla a large number of automobiles were in waiting at the station and the entire party was conducted about the town. They saw everywhere evidence of the great prosperity of the place. Here are located several sawmills, a factory that turns out 1600 finished fir doors every day and two producing coal mines. The entertainment here was under the direction of the local commercial organization, in conjunction with the Centralla Lodge of Elks. The Elks have a beautiful hall where there was a general reception by citizens, a speech-making and a bountiful repast.

The Portland business men's excursion is under the personal direction of A. D. Charlton, assistant general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific. The appointments of the train are first-class, and the dining-car service is perfect.

PEOPLE, ONE WITH PORTLAND

Lewis County Bound to Us by Bonds Inseparable.

CHEHALIS, Wash., May 10.—(Special.)—The following remarks by the managing editor of The Oregonian, in response to the address of welcome by Mayor West, are printed at the request of the Citizens' Club of Chehalis:

"Mayor West, and Gentlemen of Chehalis: We are business men of Portland. You will have to take our word for it, and as you are good natured and are willing and hospitable, we know you will not object to take any of our words. Your presence here shows it. Of course you may have your suspicions aroused when you observe that an editor is put forward to speak for a community of men, especially when they are sober to the last man, but I beg to reassure you that it is the business of a newspaper, always, to speak for the business men, and it is especially the business of the newspaper which I represent, to give the information regarding the interests and feelings and aspirations of the city in which it is published, but its energies and effort and purpose are for the benefit of the community, to reflect the growth, development and progress of the great Oregon of which Chehalis is now and has been from pioneer days so distinctive a part.

"This is a pioneer community; it was a thriving and comparatively well settled city when Oregon was a territory within its territorial limits Washington, Idaho and a part of Montana. Therefore you know Portland as you have known Oregon. The many chords of memory radiate from many a home in Lewis County to the touching stories of the struggle and the triumphs of the men who brought their wives and children and household goods on the long journey across the plains and through the wilderness to the far-off Northwest. So I say that Chehalis and Lewis County are one of our people, and not the arbitrary lines of the government's project in that section.

"CHICAGO, May 10.—(Special.)—Portland people at Chicago hotels, W. Avery, Jr., at the Auditorium Annex; J. Etzelson, at the Morrison.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Dr. H. F. Leonard, president of the Oregon Osteopathic Society, returned last night from Dallas, where he was called as an expert witness in a damage suit against Benton County.

W. F. Newell, director of the United States Reclamation Service, is expected to reach Portland tonight or tomorrow. He was at Hermiston yesterday in connection with the irrigation project in that section.

Clad in man's attire, Dora Deligne, 18 years of age, was arrested last night at 52 1/2 First street, where she was being driven around the city in automobiles.

SEE VANCOUVER FROM AUTOS
Commercial Club Entertains Portland Excursion Party.

VANCOUVER, Wash., May 10.—(Special.)—The members of the Portland business men's excursion party were driven around the city in automobiles this morning and later a reception was extended them at the Commercial Club rooms.

for the Deaf, where a stop of five minutes was made. Thomas P. Clarke, superintendent, showing the party around the grounds and through the buildings. Returned through the garage, the excursionists were taken out Kauffman avenue through the western part of the city and onto the brow of the hill, where a magnificent view was had of the Spokane, Portland & Seattle Railroad's extensive yards, shops and roundhouse.

Several criminal trials are scheduled for hearing in the United States Court beginning this morning. The first case to be taken up is that of J. Rawlance, alias J. Williams, who has been indicted for assistance in the transportation of contraband opium into the United States. Williams has announced he will defend his own case.

Williams was arrested in this city about a year ago with a quantity of smuggled opium in his possession. He deposited $1500 cash bail for his appearance before the Federal grand jury. Failing to reappear, the bond was forfeited to the government. A few months later he was arrested on a similar charge at Puget Sound and granted bail for the Federal authorities in this city for trial. The offense with which Williams is charged is punishable by a fine of from $50 to $5000, and by imprisonment not exceeding two years, or both.

The calling of the Williams case brings up some interesting facts in connection with opium smuggling on the Pacific Coast. April 1, 1907, the law prohibiting the importation and exportation of opium in the United States and Canada went into effect. Prior to the enactment of the law, customs representatives of the United States, Canada and China held a meeting and it was agreed by all three representatives to endeavor to abolish the opium business.

On April 1 there were large quantities of the drug in the bonded warehouses of the cities on the Coast. During March the duty was paid on all so placed, stamps of fifteen cents each, and the duty was private individuals who were exempt from the provisions of the law. On Puget Sound there are large caches of the stuff which are being smuggled into the territory to confound and frustrate the law. The price has already advanced $3 a five-tael can, or $16 a pound. The trouble experienced by the smuggler will be in the proper disposal of the opium.

Customs officials are now exercising particular vigilance, and it has been reported that the government is receiving inside information relative to the operations of certain persons who have banded together for the purpose of bringing in opium. The tips are said to be handed out by the people who have opium caches at San Francisco and at points on Puget Sound. These people are holding the stuff until the price shall have gone up to the vicinity of $100 a pound. During the prohibitive period in Hawaii, the price of opium went as high as $180 a pound.

Other cases to be tried this week include the following: John Snyder, charged with the theft of four horses from another person, on the Tlatamli Indian Reservation; John Mitchell, charged with the murder of the attempted murder of his mother; Walter Bronson, also an Indian, for the theft of a saddle from his father-in-law, and W. G. Cuthbert, a local photographer, who is accused of sending through the United States mails threatening letters calculated to reflect on another's reputation.

Two of the most important criminal cases to be tried at this term of the Federal court will be heard next Monday. The trial of Charles A. Straus, ex-cashier of the Portland postoffice, will begin next Monday. Mr. Straus was indicted for embezzling about $4000 of postoffice funds during his incumbency of the office. The other case is that against William Hanley, who is under indictment for having fenced about 9000 acres of public land in Harney County.

Salaries Will Be Advanced
Postmaster Young Gets Raise for Substation Employees.

Beginning July 1, next, the annual salaries of 10 of the 16 Government employees in charge of contract sub-postal stations in this city will be increased from $100 to $120. The increase will be made effective on the 1st of July. The sub-postmaster Young yesterday from C. F. Grady, First Assistant Postmaster-General at Washington. In response to Mr. Young's letter of April 28, requesting that the salaries of these employees be advanced. Mr. Young had asked for an increase in the pay of 10 office employees. The department allowed the application in ten cases. Employees receiving an advance are, together with the stations favored, as follows:

Sub-station No. 6, Mary E. Jackson, from $100 to $200 per annum; No. 8, F. E. Jancke, $100 to $200; No. 10, William Shove, $100 to $200; No. 12, A. V. Allen, $100 to $200; No. 14, W. J. Waller, J. McCombs, $100 to $200; No. 16, C. W. Doddridge, $100 to $200; No. 18, Edgar W. Rowe, $100 to $200; No. 20, Hugh F. Brandon, $100 to $200; No. 22, S. B. San, $100 to $200; No. 24, W. C. Weltzel, $100 to $200.

Postmaster Young has not been advised of what action the department will take on his application for an advance in the salaries of the superintendents and assistant superintendents of the various district divisions at the main postoffice. This application was made at the same time that the application was made for the sub-stations.

Better Sidewalks Needed.
Unless the people of University Park get busy in the construction of sidewalks at that section of the city, Postmaster Young is of the opinion that the inspector will be sent to investigate and report unfavorably on their request for additional postal carriers. One of the requisites essential to securing additional carriers is that the sidewalks be in good condition. Regulations are that the territory to be supplied shall be provided with sidewalks to perform. The people of University Park are entitled to more carriers and an improved service," said Postmaster Young yesterday, "but it is up to them to comply with the requirements of the Government and see to it that the necessary sidewalks are provided."

Boys Turn In False Alarms.
False fire alarms were turned in last night from boxes 283 and 383 in immediate vicinity of the corner in at 8th, Eighth and Going streets and the latter is situated at Eleventh and Welder streets.

They were given promptly by young hoodlums. The fire department reported there has been considerable mischief of this kind going on during the last month and a half, and it was made to capture and prosecute those guilty.

Young Fighter Arrested.
Everett Almetzer, 17 years old, son of John Almetzer, a contractor and builder at 52 1/2 First street, was arrested last night for leading a band of young ruffians in an attack on Bruce Curtis, a ticket seller for the merry-go-round of the Arnold amusement company, at Seventh and Market streets. Quite a disturbance was made by the gang and when young Almetzer was arrested, he was fighting Curtis and using vile language.

PIONEER PHYSICIAN DIES
Dr. John Eberly Peyton Passes Away in California.

News of the death of Dr. John Eberly Peyton at Redlands, Cal., was received yesterday by Mrs. Josephine E. Walker, of San Francisco, his sister-in-law, who is residing in Portland. Dr. Peyton was a son of the late Dr. Daniel Peyton, dean of the Willamette Medical College at Salem. His son was born in Missouri 52 years ago and came to Oregon with his parents at an early age, and settled at Salem, where he resided for many years. After graduating from the Willamette Medical College, he removed to Dr. Eberly Almetzer, 17 years old, son of John Almetzer, a contractor and builder at 52 1/2 First street, was arrested last night for leading a band of young ruffians in an attack on Bruce Curtis, a ticket seller for the merry-go-round of the Arnold amusement company, at Seventh and Market streets. Quite a disturbance was made by the gang and when young Almetzer was arrested, he was fighting Curtis and using vile language.

CASES OPEN TODAY

Criminal Trials Will Be Heard in Federal Court.

SMUGGLING CHARGE FIRST

Ex-Cashier Straus Will Be Tried Next Week for Alleged Defalcations in Local Postal Funds.

Indians Also Before Court.

Several criminal trials are scheduled for hearing in the United States Court beginning this morning. The first case to be taken up is that of J. Rawlance, alias J. Williams, who has been indicted for assistance in the transportation of contraband opium into the United States. Williams has announced he will defend his own case.

Williams was arrested in this city about a year ago with a quantity of smuggled opium in his possession. He deposited $1500 cash bail for his appearance before the Federal grand jury. Failing to reappear, the bond was forfeited to the government. A few months later he was arrested on a similar charge at Puget Sound and granted bail for the Federal authorities in this city for trial. The offense with which Williams is charged is punishable by a fine of from $50 to $5000, and by imprisonment not exceeding two years, or both.

The calling of the Williams case brings up some interesting facts in connection with opium smuggling on the Pacific Coast. April 1, 1907, the law prohibiting the importation and exportation of opium in the United States and Canada went into effect. Prior to the enactment of the law, customs representatives of the United States, Canada and China held a meeting and it was agreed by all three representatives to endeavor to abolish the opium business.

On April 1 there were large quantities of the drug in the bonded warehouses of the cities on the Coast. During March the duty was paid on all so placed, stamps of fifteen cents each, and the duty was private individuals who were exempt from the provisions of the law. On Puget Sound there are large caches of the stuff which are being smuggled into the territory to confound and frustrate the law. The price has already advanced $3 a five-tael can, or $16 a pound. The trouble experienced by the smuggler will be in the proper disposal of the opium.

Customs officials are now exercising particular vigilance, and it has been reported that the government is receiving inside information relative to the operations of certain persons who have banded together for the purpose of bringing in opium. The tips are said to be handed out by the people who have opium caches at San Francisco and at points on Puget Sound. These people are holding the stuff until the price shall have gone up to the vicinity of $100 a pound. During the prohibitive period in Hawaii, the price of opium went as high as $180 a pound.

Other cases to be tried this week include the following: John Snyder, charged with the theft of four horses from another person, on the Tlatamli Indian Reservation; John Mitchell, charged with the murder of the attempted murder of his mother; Walter Bronson, also an Indian, for the theft of a saddle from his father-in-law, and W. G. Cuthbert, a local photographer, who is accused of sending through the United States mails threatening letters calculated to reflect on another's reputation.

Two of the most important criminal cases to be tried at this term of the Federal court will be heard next Monday. The trial of Charles A. Straus, ex-cashier of the Portland postoffice, will begin next Monday. Mr. Straus was indicted for embezzling about $4000 of postoffice funds during his incumbency of the office. The other case is that against William Hanley, who is under indictment for having fenced about 9000 acres of public land in Harney County.

RUSHLIGHT DECLARES WAR

Councilman Announces Policy on Transfer of Saloon Licenses.

Councilman Rushlight opened up an attack on the liquor interests at the meeting of the license committee of the Council yesterday afternoon. Councilman Rushlight declared that in future he would sign no transfers of saloon licenses when the powers of attorney were held by brewers.

Desiring to bind the committee in conformity with his beliefs, Mr. Rushlight announced that he would sign no more licenses where powers of attorney are held by brewers. As the motion lacked a second, it failed to come before the meeting.

Councilman Vaughn moved that such applications be laid on the table and considered at the next meeting of the Council. This motion carried.

Declaring that it was not right for women to be forced into contact with the saloons, Mr. Rushlight said that saloons should be within 200 feet of a streetcar transfer point.

CLAIRVOYANT AID FAILS

Medium at La Grande Unable to Locate Bodies of Drowned Boys.

LA GRANDE, Or., May 10.—(Special.)—The third day since the drowning of Berne DeLapp and Marion Smith, two little boys of Island City, passed tonight without result by searching parties. Clairvoyant aid was called into service yesterday, but the medium failed in her predictions.

Sub-station No. 6, Mary E. Jackson, from $100 to $200 per annum; No. 8, F. E. Jancke, $100 to $200; No. 10, William Shove, $100 to $200; No. 12, A. V. Allen, $100 to $200; No. 14, W. J. Waller, J. McCombs, $100 to $200; No. 16, C. W. Doddridge, $100 to $200; No. 18, Edgar W. Rowe, $100 to $200; No. 20, Hugh F. Brandon, $100 to $200; No. 22, S. B. San, $100 to $200; No. 24, W. C. Weltzel, $100 to $200.

Store Opens 9 A. M. Today

ALTERATION SALE

Many Prices Nearly Half

Comfort, wear, a low price—the three essentials of shoe satisfaction, will be realized by every man, woman and child who outfits for the Summer at once from these broken lines of high-grade footwear. The remodeling of our store requires that we sell these shoes quickly. Every pair must be walking the streets of Portland in 10 days. And they will be, for such values at such prices cannot be resisted. Note a few of them:

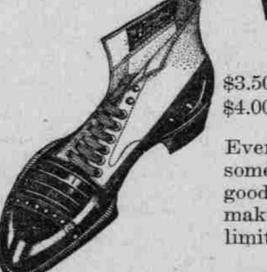

"Queen Quality" Oxford Ties

$2.00 values for... $1.35
$2.50 values for... $1.65
$3.00 values for... $1.95

"Queen Quality" Shoes for Women

$2.50 values for... $1.65
$3.00 values for... $1.95
$3.50 values for... $2.35

Boys' Shoes Sizes 1 to 5

Best wearing makes. Regular $2.00 and $2.50 values for... $1.15

W. L. Douglas Shoes for Men

$3.50 values for... $3.15
$4.00 values for... $3.60

Goldara Kana Shoes

Sixth and Washington Sts.

Or., where he practiced for 12 years. Fourteen years ago he went to Redlands, Cal., where he has since made his home. He was married to Miss Edith Kinney, of Salem, daughter of the late R. C. Kinney, of that city, and pioneer settler in the city. He has a daughter, Miss Grace Peyton, and a sister, Mrs. Edgar Farrington, of Eugene. Mrs. Peyton is a sister of Mrs. Josephine E. Walker, of San Francisco and Dr. Alfred Kinney, of Astoria. The funeral arrangements have not been completed, although the interment will be at Salem.

NORRIS & ROWE IN TROUBLE

Best Part of Show Deserts at Walla Walla—Pay Delayed.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., May 10.—(Special.)—Claiming that pay checks were three weeks behind, the best part of the Norris & Rowe circus, which played in this city last Saturday under the auspices of the local order of Elks, quit the organization and left, taking with them many of the animals which had been trained to perform. Thirteen acts in all have been eliminated from the programme owing to the absence of money, and although the show proceeded to Moscow, it was with a decidedly depleted troupe.

FIRE DRIVES OUT GUESTS

Blaze in Des Moines Does Over $200,000 Damage.

DES MOINES, Ia., May 10.—The guests at the State Central Hotel were driven out in great confusion at 1 o'clock this morning by a fire that threatened to destroy the structure. Other buildings in the downtown district also caught fire. An explosion of powder and fireworks in stores added greatly to the danger, and Christmas Wedding Ends in Court.

A Christmas wedding has ended in a May divorce suit. Lucy E. Cram is suing Henry S. Cram. In a complaint filed in the Circuit Court yesterday she says that her husband refuses to allow her to live in the same house with him. She married him December 25, 1896, she says. Mrs. Cram wants to care for their three children.

Hubbard Glad to See Rain.
HUBBARD, Or., May 10.—(Special.)—With the shower of today ended the longest dry spell ever recorded this early in the season. Usually April showers are abundant and farmers throughout the Valley are not incensed on account of drought until July, but during 25 days of the recent dry spell only one light shower, on April 27, which was hardly enough to lay the dust, interrupted the monotony of sunshine. The absence of rain for 25 days would have caused little anxiety among farmers had it not been for the extreme wind which prevailed during most of that period. The wind died the soil so that many crops began to suffer. Early-sown spring grain, especially that sown while the ground was still moist, a little too moist, and garden truck suffered most. Fall-sown grain has not suffered.

Trouble for Mayor Miller.
SEATTLE, Wash., May 10.—(Special.)—Representatives of the local improvement clubs today adopted a resolution unanimously to petition the judges of the Superior Court to call a grand jury and appoint a special prosecutor to investigate Mayor Miller and prosecuting Attorney George F. Van Derveer in connection with the removal of the re-elected district from one ward to another.

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach
A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

</