

MORNINGERS DO OPEN HERE TODAY

Casey's Men Will Try Conclusions With Tacoma if Weather Permits.

COLTS FULL OF CONFIDENCE

It Is Believed Series Here at Home Will Put Locals on Their Feet.

Opening Exercises to Be Elaborate.

BY W. J. FETRAIN. "Brer" Eddie Beale and "Jup" Purvis are a hard combination to work against...

The fan committee, in charge of the opening ceremonies, has worked hard and faithfully in the endeavor to assure Casey a royal welcome.

The Northwestern League has many popular adherents in Portland, and that organization has many more friends because of the adverse attitude of J. J. Ewing and a few conceited Californians...

Been Up Against Hard Luck.

Manager Pearl Barnes Casey and his merry bunch of "almost" talents, have come home to get into going for good.

"We have not had any good baseball weather since we left Seattle," said Manager Casey last night. "It has been a fright, the way we have butted into snow, hail, rain and freezing or tornado weather."

Most of the players have been hitting the ball on the nose, but in nearly every instance it has been right at somebody's head and we were robbed of hits in this manner.

Casey announced that big Eddie Kinsella would pitch the opening game for Portland today, and Russ Hall stated that Samuels would bend them over for Tacoma.

The opening day parade will consist of the usual pompous and pompous at the grounds. W. T. Cagle, A. L. Mitchell, M. C. Dickinson, George S. Shepherd and Hugh McCredie have had charge of the opening ceremonies and over 40 automobiles have been assured the parade committee already.

John F. Carroll is to pitch the first ball over the plate while District Attorney George J. Cameron will endeavor to catch the ball. Frank A. Gotch, the world's champion wrestler, will officiate as one of the umpires, while Fielder Jones, ex-manager of the Chicago American League team, and once world's champion in baseball, will be the other.

Empire James McPherson has been delegated by President William H. Lucas to officiate at the first Portland series, and after the opening ceremonies, he will start the teams on the battle for the championship.

Schreder Here With Bells On.

George M. Schreder, president and owner of the Tacoma club, who has been in Portland for several days, is still here awaiting the opening, and when the programme starts tomorrow, George and his elaborate toilet will be on hand, with bells.

World's Record Made.

OGDEN, May 10.—Cardinal Sarto and Severini were the only popular choices to get home in front here today. In the second race Severini got away in front, leading all the way.

Manilla S., at 5 to 1, easily won the sixth race from Liberto. Also quoted at 8 to 1. The favorite, Senator Barrett, ran a poor race, finishing fifth.

WASHINGTON TEAM IS PICKED Seattle Athletics Expected to Give Oregon Close Rub Saturday.

JEFF GIVES OUT HINT

Says if Johnson Comes Around, Awful Beating Awaits Him.

WHAT CHAMPION SAYS GOES

Declares He Has Announced Once He Will Fight Negro, but Acting Champ Must Stay Away From Him Till Right Time Comes.

CHICAGO, May 10.—(Special.)—Retired Champion Heavyweight of the World, James J. Jeffries today threatened to whip acting Heavyweight Champion John Johnson on sight.

"If that fellow comes to see me he will get a cleaning for which he might get a lot of money later on," muttered the ex-king of the battlers. "I don't want to see him. I have said I will fight him and that goes. But I don't even talk to him and he has finished his theatrical contract in July."

IDAHO HAS GOOD TEAM

EXPECTS TO MAKE FINE SHOWING AGAINST OREGON.

Team Will Reach Eugene From Moscow Wednesday to Rest Up for Meet.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Or., May 10.—(Special.)—University of Idaho is very confident of the team which takes place at Eugene next Friday.

Because of continued cold weather the team has been greatly handicapped with training. It being only the last two weeks that the weather has made it possible for the team to get out at all.

"Montgomery, captain and sprinter, is one of the strongest point winners of Oregon. He holds two Northwest records and bids fair to even lower these before the close of the season.

"Stroelcher is a strong point-winner and can be relied upon to pull down first place in the high jump and pole vault, and take a place in the 400-yard dash.

"Price shows lots of endurance and speed at the finish of the distance races. He is in better form than ever this year, and is expected to lower his record of 16:45 before the season closes.

"The weight men are all now this year. Jewell, for the hammer and discus, with Stokebury to crowd him, is doing excellent work, as is Franler in the shot-put and hammer.

WRESTLERS MEET GOTCH

CHAMPION WILL BE SEEN ON MAT HERE TONIGHT.

Three Men Will Go Against Big Iowan, but Have Small Hope of Winning.

Portland's wrestling fans, who have been treated to some fine matches in the past few months, will have the opportunity of seeing the greatest wrestler of them all at the Heilig Theater here tonight.

Gotch, who will assist at the opening day ceremonies at the baseball park this afternoon, arrived Sunday night. He is on a tour of the country, taking things easy and meeting at corners who desire to try conclusions with him.

Gotch to throw him, he hopes to put up enough resistance to please the big crowd expected. O'Connell's idea of the match is possessed by the other men, Roger Cornell and W. H. West. These three men are clever mat artists, and in their respective divisions are rated as A1, but when clasped with Gotch are individually they are, as all the rest of the wrestlers, outclassed, for the world's champion has shown himself a champion of every last class.
