BY W. J. PETRAIN.

With the former San Francisco Paelfic Coast League twirler, Joel Berger, on the mound yesterday, the Tacoma Tigers slipped a 5 to 1 victory over on Pearl Casey's team, and each of the quintet of aces was corralled in a separate inning. The best Portland could do against the new twirler's work and Tacoma's horseshoe luck, was Big Bill Chenault was on the mound for Casey, and he was anything but steady at critical periods. He was found at frequent intervals, and each of these intervals came when an anxious Tiger was perched on the paths and within convenient distance of the home plate.

The only innings in which Tacoms did not score were the first, seventh, eighth and ninth, and good fielding alone stopped them. The Tiger bats-men managed to hit the ball past the Portland infielders, and on one or two occasions, past the outfielders, while all the batting done by Portland seemed to be right at some Tacoma man. Hall's men scarcely had to move out of their tracks to nail the offerings of the Portland batamen.

First Run Is Gift.

The first run of the game was handed Tacoma on a silver platter, and Chenault was the chief donor. Two men were out when he passed Kippert and In the effort to take back his gift, the twirler heaved wildly to Mullin, and Kip went to third. Short hits by Macin and Bresino followed, and on the first one, Kippert scored.

A single by Suess, Chenault's sec-ond error, Hurley's bingle and a double CASEY'S team hit out of luck yest steal gave another in the third. Kippert's infield tap, and his steal of sec-ond, followed by Mackin's sacrifice and away with his first game in the North a similar dump by Bresino, registered western League. another in the fourth, In the fifth inning both teams scored. Oh, joy! How did it happen? The mu Passes to Curtwright and Swain, Bender's out and another error by Chenault scored Cartwright. Kippert was at bat when Chenault attempted to catch Swain of second and pinged the elephantine personage in the short riba and the runner from third chased home.

Marty Murphy singled in Portland's half, though Mackin almost got him on great stop and throw. Murray was pickled on the facetious hinge, and Chenault's infield tap advanced both men. Casey's long fly to Swain chased Murphy over, but Murray was caught between bases and morgued after Marfy had registered.

Cooney Cuts Off Scores.

A double by Mackin, Bresino's sac-rifice and a single by Berger negoti-ated the last run for Tacoma, although the husilers from Fuget Sound were threatening at all times. A phenome-nal leaping one-handed catch of a liner from Mackin's but by Phil Cooney in the eighth was all that prevented flock of runs.

Ike Butler or Claffin will be sent galnst Portland today, while Casey will probably depend upon Chief Pinnance. The official score of yesterday's game is as follows: TACOMA.

Manager Cantillon's tactics in the 17th inning probably saved his team from defeat. The locals had men on second and third with one out. Manager Sullivan then took himself out of the game, and sent in Welday, a left-handed batter. Cantillon then sent Hughes, who was pliching, to right field and sent in Gray, a left-handed pitcher. Sullivan countered by taking out Welday after Gray had pitched one ball to him. Then Cantillon tried to withdraw Gray and send Hughes back against Owens, a right-handed hitter. Metropolitan Handicap Won by King James Before Slim Crowd-Betting Men Do Business

NEW YORK. May 13.—The long-deferred and anxiously-awaited opening of the Metropolitan racing season, which was coupled this year with the running of the classic Metropolitan handicap, passed into turf history today with the winning at Belmont Park of the bine ribbon event of the occasion by S. C. Hildreth's fleet 4-year-old, King James, from a field of 11 starters. Fayette, the Madden entry, finished six lengths behind, with Juggler, a 5-year-old gelding entered by C. C. ## Oral Betting Alone.

The attendance was considerably slim-mer than on previous Metropolitan hand-icap days. The entire number aggre-gated less than 10,000, but in view of gated less than 10,000, but in view of the ban placed on racetrack betting last year by the Hart-Agnew law the falling off was not such as to cause surprise. The net results of the day were not materially altered, betting of a sort being tolerated. The new form, how-ever, is a travesty of the practice that flourished during the days of the Percy-Gray law. Under cover of a decision of Gray law. Under cover of a decision of the appellate division of the Supreme Court which permits oral betting the layers of odds took up their stations or the concourse in front of the stand and in whispers and by nods accepted wagers and gave odds. The method was veiled in mystery, accompanied by searching glances and stealthy looks.

Trusts to Honor to Pay.

If the would-be better was known to the bookmaker his bet was accepted with a muttered "You're on." No money was passed; the bookmaker trusted the better to search him out after the race and pay him the amount of his wager if he lost, and the better on his part trusted the bookmaker to look him up in the same fashion and give him his winnings if he won. Some of the layers of odds settled outside the grounds after the last race and others on the trains coming back, but most of them put off settlement until tomorrow morning at appointed headquarters in town.

The race of the day, the Metropolitan handicap, was won in handy fashion by King James, who led the field home by six lengths.

Toward the end of the bout Dranga was tired, but not as tired as Moe, who had lost all steam and was willing to get in close to save himself. The bout was clean.

Frank met two men, Taylor and Reese, each of whom weighed about four pounds more than the champion. Frank threw Taylor in a trifle over seven minutes. Reese proved unexpectedly hard to conquer. He did not know very much about the game, but he was very strong and kept getting away. At the end of ten minutes Frank had failed to secure a fall. By mutual consent five minutes more were called for and at the end of the fimit Referee Marbet gave the bout to Frank on aggressiveness. There was only a fair crowd present.
