Episcopal Congress Shows Many Views, but All Desire Unity.

CHURCH'S AID IN HEALING

Movement-Many Doctors Send Patients to Church to Be Healed.

BOSTON, May 14.-The outlook for vis fble church unity was a topic which greatly interested a large audience today At the Episcopal Church congress, which concluded its sessions after a number of men had spoken. The conclusion reached was that there cannot be visible church unity without full recognition of the va of the priesthood and sacram system.

One of the speakers expressed the opinion that no help toward the desired end can be expected from the Roman Catholic Church until the idea of a pri-macy at Rome supplants that of the papacy. Bishop Doane, of Albany, thought that visible church unity is not Sentiment on Church Unity.

A review of the congress was given tonight by Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, of Newton, editor of the Church Militant. Mr. Sullivan said:

Mr. Sullivan said:

"The congress was one of the most successful sessions of recent years, both in point of attendance and in the quality of papers and addresses. Many views held in one spirit rather than one view held in many spirits, as Philipps Brooks once said, is the only kind of unity that any church should have. This principle was abundantly illustrated at this congress. The Episcipal Church showed that it held very many views in one spirit on every subject that came up for discussion.

Church and Mental Healing.

The two most live subjects were gambling and psychotherapy. Dr. Darlington, of New York, flatly declared that healing was no business of the minister, and Dr. McComb, of Emmanuel Church, declared that doctors were sending their patients to his church to be healed. He declared that the attitude of the doctors was that, if people cannot be cured in the orthodox way, they could not be cured at all. The ciergy were in flat opposition to each other on the subject. oured at all. The clergy were in flat opposition to each other on the subject. "It was a unique feature of this congress that the operations on the stock exchange were put before the people of the Episcopai Church as largely beneficent and orthodox and that it was only an exceedingly small part of the transactions that were illegitimate."

Plan of Unity Proposed.

The plan of church unity was proposed by Dr. H. H. Oberly, of Elizabeth, N. J., and is as follows:

First-Each denomination to retain temporarily its independent existence, governed by its own laws and officers, subject to the bishop of the diocese as president and having the sole right of ordination and confirmation.

Second—Each denomination to use the sacramental form and repeat the creeds as to forms of worship.

Third-All ministers to be recognized as holding a ministerial office and as possessing the prophetical gift, but to receive ordination to the priesthood supplementing what powers they already possess and making them "priests of the Fourth—All people to receive confirmation and thus be admitted to the communion of the Catholic Church. Intercommunion to be encouraged. Priests to celebrate at each other's altars. Excelebrate at each other's altars. Ex-changing pulpits means nothing, but blessing altars means everything. Fifth-Proselyting and rivalry between for Damages.

PHILADELPHIA, May 14.—Sult was begun here today against Emma Eames, who is charged with having allenated the affections of Emilio de Gorgoza, a baritone in her company. The complainant is the baritone's wife.

Counsel for Mrs. de Gorgoza, in commenting tonight on the action, said:

"After 11 years of happiness with her husband, my client holds Madame Eames responsible for coming between them. The alienation suit will be tried in Phialadelphia, and is quite independent of the action brought here for a limited divorce."

He added that he believed that Madame Eames was about to sail for Europe, and that he decided that no time should be lost in serving her with papers in the suit, which is for heavy damages.

Emma Flames was formerly the wife of Julian Story, the artist, and obtained a divorce on the ground that he paid undue attention to another woman. When Mrs. De Gorgoza sued for divorce, she named Madame Bames as co-respondent, and the prima donna went into a towering rage. When a beliboy who had been sent for a newspaper brought her one containing a reference to the divorce suit she slapped his face.

Ballinger's Action Stirs Up

Say That Capitalists Are Intriguing.

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., May 14.— Private Information from Washington Private Information from Washington received here tonight, stating that the suspension of work on the high line canal project was under orders from Secretary of the Interior Ballinger, was received with indignation by Grand Valley farmers. State Senator Horace DeLong and Secretary Apperliee, of the Grand Valley Waterusers' Association, left tonight to inform Mr. Ballinger that 35 per cent of the landowners of the section watered by the canal desire that the project be carried out by the Government and not by private capital.

Let Private Capital Do Work.

Let Private Capital Do Work.

Ex-Senator Henry M. Teller in a statement today admitted that he had interviewed Mr. Bailinger in the interests of lawyers anxious to ascertain whether Mr. Bailinger would continue to carry on the work.

"I asked him if he was willing to allow private parties to build the canal," said Mr. Teller, "and he said that, if he was perfectly satisfied that they had means and were capable of completing it, he was entirely willing to let them go on with the work." Mr. Teller's statement further intimates that Mr. Bailinger was doubtful whether the $2,500,000 necessary for the comple-tion of the work by the Government would be available.

Water-Users Make Charge.

It is asserted by members of the Water-Users' Association that the discontinu-ance of the work is the result of efforts ance of the work is the result of efforts by private partles, who hope to he allowed to take over the project, should the Government withdraw its aid. These charges are directed against Denver, Grand Junction and Chicago capitalists. The high-line canal, which will draw water from the Grand River, will irrigate thousands of acres of rich fruit land. The total cost is to be $2,500,000.
