

SUTHERLAND FOR HIGH TARIFF WALL

Utah Senator Declares for Income Tax by States, Not Nation.

RAZOR TARIFF INCREASED

Aldrich Forces Advance From 55 to 100 Per Cent—Simmons Proposes Horizontal Reduction Annually.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—A comprehensive discussion of the income tax, Sutherland of Utah and an extended speech by Depey in support of the pending tariff bill consumed most of the session of the Senate today. Sutherland argued the constitutionality of the Federal income tax and declared such a tax should be left as a means of revenue for the states. Before adjournment a couple of hours were devoted to a discussion of the cutlery schedule.

"I am not a protectionist in spots," said Sutherland. If, he said, there was any question about the amount of duty to be levied on the particular article, he preferred to solve it by having the duty a little too high than too low. He could not advocate taxing the products of his own state and deny protection to the products of any other state.

Speaking of the income tax, Sutherland said the framers of the Constitution had contemplated having the Federal Government obtain its revenues by imposing taxes upon a class of subjects which the states, under the Constitution or by common consent, did not, or could not, tax to the fullest extent that would be possible. The Federal Government under the Constitution, he said, was given power to impose taxes on imports, which power was substantially exclusive. By common consent, he said, was given power to impose taxes on imports, which power was substantially exclusive.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—On days when President Taft expects to play golf, he and his friends usually leave the White House in the big new automobile about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The president always takes with him to the links the men with whom he proposes to play, and he always picks his associates. Not long since, when it was known the President intended to "knock off work" for the afternoon, Senator Bourne, of Oregon, who had golfed with the Presidential nominee at Hot Springs, and with the President-elect at Augusta, appeared at the White House, just before the hour of departure, all arrays in a startling golf suit. Absence of Quorum Prevents Final Action Being Taken—Old Steel Merger Question Is Up Once More.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—A ruling by Speaker Cannon today prevented, perhaps, the reopening in the House of the old wounds of the Civil War, when Hollingsworth of Ohio sought to justify, as a matter of privilege, his recent resolution objecting to the placing of the portrait of Jefferson Davis on the silver service to be presented to the battleship Mississippi, because of editorialials in certain Southern newspapers hurrying all sorts of epithets at him. The editorials were read.

Should a resolution by Burleson of Texas, which was adopted, be complied with, the Attorney-General must supply to the House information regarding the steps taken by him to annul the contract whereby the United States Steel Corporation absorbed the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company, unless in so doing the public interests would be affected.

Both amendments were rejected.
