Confessor Managed Fight With Johnson and Got Most of Money.

EACH SAYS HE WAS VICTOR

White Man Gets $8875 and Black Only $500—Johnson Going to England Before Fight With Ketchel.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 20.—(Special.)—It became known today that it was Jack O'Brien who really engineered last night's bout with Jack Johnson, not the National Athletic Club, and that the white man made the big end of the profits. Johnson, as he expected, did get $200 for his work, but he did not know whereby he was to receive 75 per cent of the gross receipts, which came to about $15,000. Of this he gave Johnson his $2000, which left about $1300 for himself. The club's end was $455.

O'BRIEN WAS ALWAYS FAKER

History of Notorious "Frame-up" With Burns Is Recounted.

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien has long been known as a pugilist who never won fights on the square. On several occasions he has been "framed" in the act of "framing" his fights in advance, and his propensity in this direction made it so uncomfortable for him on the Pacific Coast two years ago that he was forced to leave for the East.

In Los Angeles O'Brien and Tommy Burns were matched to fight 20 rounds at McCarey's Pavilion. O'Brien made overtures to Burns for a "frame-up" in O'Brien's favor, with Burns on the long end of the money. Burns fell in with the plan. It was generally believed that Burns was the better man, and betting odds were all in his favor, but O'Brien, secure in Burns' promise to take a beating, eased off in his training and spent his time loafing about his quarters and drinking champagne.

When the night set for the battle came it found a tremendous amount of money wagered, and a great crowd turned out to see the fight. Just before time for him to go on, Burns called Promoter McCarey aside, and told him of his agreement with O'Brien, but added that he was not going to abide by it, but would give the Philadelphia a sound drubbing to satisfy an old grudge, and at the same time make a winning, as he had bet heavily on himself. McCarey was paralyzed by the gravity of the situation, but not sufficiently so to cause him to do the obviously honest thing by telling the crowd the truth and refunding their admittance money. Instead, he caused the referee to announce that all bets were declared off, and that the fight would go on. No further explanation was made.

As soon as he heard the referee's announcement, O'Brien realized that Burns had "double-crossed" him, but both men were in the ring and there was nothing for O'Brien to do but go on and pretend to fight. This he did, but made no real effort to get at his opponent. Burns drove him around and around the ring, as a bulldog might drive a yellow cur, hitting him whenever and wherever he could. The crowd hooted and yelled, but O'Brien continued to run and dodge, thus managing to last out the 20 rounds, but being forced to take an awful drubbing. Next morning in the hotel O'Brien, propped up in bed, with his nose broken, one eye closed and his face generally battered to pieces, made a full confession, and sobbed in impotent rage as he told how Burns had "betrayed" him, a story which Burns later confirmed fully. That was O'Brien's last fight on the Pacific Coast.

BARCLAY IS CHAMPION SHOT

Wins Individual Medal in Trap-Shoot at Walla Walla.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., May 20.—(Special.)—In addition to taking the Anacoda trophy yesterday, T. D. Barclay, of Prescott, today took the individual championship medal, getting 25 straight birds in the event. Steve Forbes and Storey followed with 24 birds. The award of the individual championship medal to Barclay gives the Walla Walla Gun Club three of the medals. J. E. Smalls, of this city, having obtained the Brownlee, Howe and Woods tied for the Multnomah medal in the 15th event with 24 birds, and will shoot this off tomorrow. A large number of contestants have tied for the Brownlee trophy, with 24 birds, and this will also be shot off tomorrow.

Notwithstanding the high wind that has been blowing during the entire day, some excellent scores were made, though the general average was not as high as that made yesterday. At the meeting of the association held today the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: J. C. Scott, president; Ed Ellis, secretary; vice-president, J. E. Allen; Walla Walla, treasurer; J. F. Smalls, Walla Walla, secretary; Directors, E. F. Con-farr, Livingston; E. D. Farmin, Sand Point; E. P. Matthews, Anacoda; E. J. Chingren, Spokane, and G. L. Becker, Ogden.

PENNANT RACE CLOSE

SCHOOL TEAMS ARE BUNCHED IN LEAGUE FINALS.

Ockley Green and Shaver Win, but Williams Avenue Retains Grip on First Place.

Simmering down to the last of the finals, the grammar school games are attracting considerable attention among Portland youngsters. Much satisfaction was felt by the less-fortunate teams, when Montavilla lost its first game of the season Wednesday, giving the other members a chance for the pennant. Williams Avenue now has first place in the finals and Montavilla, Shaver and Ockley Green are pretty evenly matched for second place.

Playing like veterans, and with only three errors in the whole game, Ockley Green and Couch grammar schools played one of the fastest and most interesting games of the season yesterday afternoon at the grounds at East Twelfth and East Davis streets. Up to the eighth inning Couch had Ockley Green shut out with three runs to its own credit. Ockley then took a brace and began to sweat the ball, bunching its hits and scoring three runs. Then Shipley won the game for Ockley Green. Couch's pitcher had twirled a ball to the catcher, who leisurely tossed it back to the box. Shipley who was playing some distance away from third, saw his chance and the moment the ball left the catcher's hand made a shoot for the plate, sliding home for the winning run. In an interesting but uneven game yesterday at the Williams Avenue grounds, the Shaver boys put it over Vernon to the tune of 9 to 1. This victory placed Shaver in the running, while H. left Vernon still behind.

MIKE DONLIN thinks a great deal of Henry Pernoll and Phil Cooney. Read what he says of them in his story of yesterday's game.

"Yours Forever Helney" Pernoll had the Portland slugger's faden yesterday, for the ex-Portland pitcher held Casey's team to three hits.

At that he was lucky to win, for a hit in that ninth inning would have broken up the game. Even a long fly would have helped.

"Count" Bassey got three bases on balls yesterday, and the day before he made three sacrifices hits, which helps his batting average a trifle at that.

Pernoll fanned Garry, Stator and Adams in the second, and Murray as the first man up in the third, which made four straight walkings in succession.

Casey is lucky in having secured Fred Adams, for he can play infield positions nicely, and now that Stator
