

EDWARD'S MINORU WINS DERBY RACE

Tremendous Joy at Epsom as He Beats Louvras Under Wire.

SIR MARTIN HAS MISHAP

American Horse Stumbles and Throws Rider, Destroying All Chance of Victory—First Derby Won by King.

Table with 3 columns: Year, Name, Time. Lists Derby winners from 1888 to 1908.

EPSON, May 26.—King Edward's brown colt Minoru justified his name, which is Japanese for "success," by winning today the Derby which will be remembered always in the annals of Epsom as one of the finest ever run on that historic track.

Sir Martin Stumbles and Loses. But one horse was seen following the field ridden. It was the American-bred colt, Sir Martin, which every one had reckoned as Minoru's foremost rival.

First King to Win Derby. To Englishmen, even those who had staked their money on some other horse, the King's success was inspiring as a victory in a great international contest.

Frenchmen Deeply Chagrined. The French contingent which came over to see Stern win on Louvras showed almost as much interest as the Americans. H. P. Whitney, manager of the race, on an English course and his two victories, the winning of the Stewards' handicap by Persimmon III, and the Epsom town plate by Robin II, were well received.

Great Enthusiasm for King. The field of 15 was sent away to an exceptionally good start. Brooklans made the running for the first mile, with the King's colt well placed in fifth position. Approaching Tattenham corner, Minoru improved his position and, stalling off claims to the home stretch a strong challenge by Louvras, he won by the shortest of short heads.

King Jostled by Crowd. The enthusiasm was kindled when His Majesty was seen descending the stairs toward the track to lead his victorious horse into the weighing room.

a line through which His Majesty passed, and as the King went by they raised their hats. The King was conducted by a detachment of police and a number of track officials to the finishing post. Here he grasped the bride of Minoru on one side while Trainer Marsh held the other. He also shook hands with and congratulated Jockey Jones. His Majesty had considerable difficulty in making his way back to the paddock. He was jostled by the excited and yelling crowd and before he reached the enclosure he was puffing for breath. Once inside the paddock he received the congratulations of a number of friends, after which he mounted to the top of the stairs leading to the gallery of the Jockey Club, where he stood bowing for several minutes.

Queen Alexandra, the Prince and Princess of Wales and the other members of the royal family, seated aloft in the royal box, also came in for a share of the ovation. They were visibly excited and pleased by the victory.

Sir Martin Starts Favorite. Sir Martin actually started a favorite in the betting at 3 to 1.

ONLY BEATEN BY MISCHANCE. London Paper Admits Sir Martin Ran Like Winner.

LONDON, May 26.—The winning of the Derby by King Edward has caused boundless pleasure and enthusiasm here. It is a long time since the morning newspapers have devoted as much space to this popular race. Sporting Life says: "What would have happened if no mishap had attended Sir Martin can only be a matter of conjecture, but certainly the interest of the exciting finish would have been heightened, for there is no question that the American colt was going wonderfully up to the time of the disaster."

AMERICANS LOSE $200,000. Sir Martin Heavily Backed by Loyal Visitors From United States.

NEW YORK, May 26.—Racing men and the general public received with the keenest disappointment the news of Sir Martin's defeat. The estimates are that about $200,000 was lost to the English bookmakers by Americans on the race. Sir Martin was regarded as the first product of American horse-breeding.

DOUBLE CROSS IS GIVEN BY LAWYER

Burns Detective Sells Out to Brown and Gives Him Stolen Papers.

BRIBE MONEY IN EVIDENCE

Calhoun's Detective Left Gold Pieces in Soapdish for Burns' Man. Lorentzen Arrested for Carrying Gun.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—The art of "slipping the double cross" was the designation applied by one of the attorneys in the trial of Patrick Calhoun to the proceedings, and the testimony, which related the experience of a prosecution agent who was simultaneously employed by both sides, illustrated the objection interposed by Earl Rogers, of the defense, who made the remark in question.

Hired to Steal Papers. John G. Lawlor, an assistant employed by W. J. Burns, head of the prosecution's bureau of special agents, was the principal witness of the day. He charged that Luther G. Brown, who already has testified to his activities in the office of the president of the United Railroads, in 1908, offered him $100 a month if he would furnish Brown with letters from Mr. Burns' letter files, to which Lawlor had access as an employee of the special agent.

Lawlor agreed to this, but at once reported the matter to District Attorney Langdon and to Mr. Burns, after which he received from Brown payments in gold aggregating $250.

Found Money in Soapdish. Mr. Lawlor related to the jury his version of a series of meetings with Brown and argued that the corporation's agent had several times invited him to the St. Francis Hotel, where Mr. Lawlor found various amounts of money deposited in a soapdish. The witness testified that he had taken all the money offered in this manner and deposited it in the office of District Attorney Langdon.

Lawlor placed in evidence four envelopes containing gold coins, which the witness said he had marked in the presence of the District Attorney and an assistant.

Twice the witness charged, Luther Brown with a declaration that "the man behind me don't care about Abraham Lincoln, but he cares about the money that Brown and me got."

Harry Lorentzen, known as "the Hanjery Kid," was arrested as he entered the courtroom to testify, searched, deprived of a revolver and arrested on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

In his testimony he said he was a clerk in the employ of Luther Brown and that he received a salary of $200 a month. His duties, he said, "included the clipping of newspaper articles and other work of similar character. He admitted also that he spent considerable time investigating."

"Investigating you, for instance," replied the witness, who proceeded to state that he had investigated the affairs of Mr. Heney in Portland and Los Angeles.

"What else have you been doing?" asked Mr. Heney. "I have investigated James L. Gallagher and other Supervisors," said Lorentzen stoutly, denying that he had interviewed prospective jurors in the graft cases.

Mr. Heney asked the witness if he knew the name of R. H. Hay (Chapman), who spends much of his time in the courtroom, and who had a desk in the courtroom of Luther Brown. He also asked if the witness had not seen about 200 reports on jurors taken from the desk of Luther Brown, which he had directed to be sent to the office of the District Attorney's office last week.

"Jack" witness stated that he had directed an assistant, an assistant, to follow Gallagher, the chief witness for the prosecution.

Nicholas Korngold, successively employed by defense and prosecution as a detective, resumed the stand and stated that in August, 1908, when Mr. Burns had been indicted on a charge of contempt, Abraham had directed him to get out of the city.

MAY OPEN STOLEN PACKAGES. Judge Sewall Decides Prosecution May Break Seals on Packets.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—Superior Judge Sewall this afternoon granted the petition of the District Attorney for the modification of the writ prohibiting the opening of the packages of documents taken from the safe in the office of the legal department of the United Railroads, two weeks ago, during a raid by agents of the District Attorney, under authority of a search warrant, Judge Sewall decided that the seals on the package, which it is alleged, contain reports on jurors in the graft cases, stolen from the office of W. J. Burns, and sold by one of his employees, may be broken.

It is the intention of the District Attorney to put Police Judge Deane, who issued the search warrant at the trial of Burns, on the stand in the trial of Patrick Calhoun and have him testify regarding the circumstances of the seizure of the documents.

The decision of Judge Sewall, while permitting the opening of the package of documents and their examination, does not pass upon the question of the admissibility, declaring that they must remain in the custody of the court.

COAST WILL FIGHT

Campaign for Fair Rates to East to Be Made.

CALIFORNIA HEADS PLAN

Battle Started by Southerners Spreads Over Entire West, and Big Committee Will Take Up the Effort.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—Plans for the support of William H. Wheeler, manager of the traffic bureau of the Merchants Exchange of this city, in the fight to be waged before the Interstate Commerce Commission, were vigorously discussed at a meeting today of upwards of 50 leading San Francisco business men in the Chamber of Commerce assembly hall.

It was asserted at today's meeting that the entire Pacific Coast, for the first time in its history, is thoroughly aroused and united in its opposition to a freight schedule which, it is alleged, will limit competition in inland Western markets, such as Spokane, to shippers in St. Paul and Chicago.

The meeting, which was presided over by William L. Gerstle, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, was held behind closed doors.

Get General Committee. It was finally decided that two delegates each should be selected by the commercial and business organizations to meet Wednesday afternoon for the organization of a committee of the whole, composed of representatives for the fight that is to be waged.

In discussing the campaign, Mr. Wheeler said that the fight was not being made against the interior cities, such as Spokane and Reno, but on the contrary, the bureau would willingly work for lower rates for them, also.

He said that what the Coast shippers demanded was that rates from the West to those points should be reduced in proportion as the rates from the East are lowered.
