Fast Autos in Peril.—A big car bearing number 23 shot down on to Burnside bridge from Union avenue at a terrific speed vesterday morning and when on the long approach before reaching the first East Side span it made a slight turn on account of the streetcar track. The machine then skidded into the sidewalk on the south side of the approach with such force that the front wheels were driven through the harricade at the side of the approach, where the wheels projected over the aldewalk. Portunately the momentum of the automobile was spent and it did not plunge over the approach to the Southern Pscific yard 55 feet below. This is the second time within a week that an automobile has been driven on the approach with such speed as to cause it to dash against the sidewalk and the barricade. Machines going and coming on the Burnside-street bridge appear to travel from 25 to 50 miles an hour. After the draw has been opened for a short time half a dozen automobiles collect at each end of the draw, and when it is opened they proceed at terrific speed. A serious accident is predicted, due to this custom.

Sure Over "Women's Fixen's."—Women's hais at from 316 to 550 each, a high tariff on women's stockings—and now an injunction is asked preventing the sale of aide and back combs, and baroties. The suit wes filed in the Circuit Court yesterday morning. George Ribbecke and his wife, Mrs. Ara Holmes Ribbecke, are the plaintiffs, and 8 E. Werthelmer the defendant. Werthelmer, the proprietor of the Grand Leader store, at Fifth and Aider streets, gave the Ribbeckes a lease hast July to conduct a manicuring department and beauty parlor in connection with the store. Ribbecke says Werthelmer agreed not to sell any ladies hair goods, but that he (Ribbecke) afterward gave Meinger & Co. permission to do so. Then the Meingera discontinuent the jewelry store at this place, while Ribbecke says Werthelmer continues to sell the comiss and bareties. He wants the court to put a stop to it.

Bot Burglans Make Dash.—Jacob Renner, 6'2 years old, and his cousin. Poter Rittabler, 7 years of age, the "infant burglars," made a dash for liberty yesterday morning, when Henry Rittabler, Peter's father, paid a visit to the Detention Home of the Juvenile Court, where they are being held to appear before Judge Boraugh today. While the father was talking to an attendant, they made their way to the street through the basement, and started on the run down the Montavilla carirack toward Portland. Superintendent Baker caught them a quarter of a mile away. They robbed a grocery store, meat market and residence in Brooklyn last Monday.

New Kind of Practical Jone-Like the couple who were married just in fun, and found out afterward that the knot load really been tied, an anxious Portland young man and young woman have been wondering since Wednesday murring whether they will have to resort to the divorce court to straighten out the tangle which Clyde Binkley, a chum of the groom-to-be-or-not-to-be, has woven about them. It was all a joke, but one which M. S. Gienn, of $125, Washington street, and Miss A. Durst, the victims, did not appreciate. Binkley appeared at the marriage license counter last Tuesday afternoon and said he wished to secure a license. Deputy Clerk Wilde lessed it, and Binkley promptly paid over the S. Yesierday morning Miss Durst's sister appeared at the County Clerk's office in an effort to find out who had played the practical loke, for the said that the first intimation the couple had of the license being lassed was when the notice appeared in the morning paper. 'And will they have to get a divorce if they ever want to marry againt.' Why, they are not even ensaged," she said. She was assured that the license may be canceled, and that no ceremony having been performed a divorce will not be mecessary.

MRS. VAN RENSSELAER DIES

Portland Resident for 44 Years Passes Away After Brief Illness,

After a brief illness, Mrs. Anna Van Rensselaer, widow of James Courtlandt Van Bensselaer, died yesterday morning at her residence on Park avenue and King streets. Mrs. Van Bensselaer came to Portland from Albany, N. Y. as a bride in 1865, and during her residence here has endeared herself to hundreds of friends and acquaintances and has become a factor in the development of Portland society.

Mr. Van Bensselaer was a well-known ploneer metchant, who came to Portland in 1862, where he lived for many years until his health falled and they then removed to a ranch near Milwaukle. After Mr. Van Rensselaer's donth his widow built the residence on King's Heights, where she has resided with Mrs. Philip Schuyler for some years. Mrs. Van Rensselaer was 18 years of age, a woman of great charm of manner, a philanthropist, and of a most lovable and generous disposition. She is survived by two nephews. James Vedder and Courtlandt Vedder. After a brief illness, Mrs. Anna Van
