

CASH WHEAT IS TO REMAIN HIGH

Price Near $1.30 Predicted for All Season With Advance Next Year.

'CORPSE' WILL SELL EASILY

Patten Will Have No Trouble at All in Disposing of Remaining 4,000,000 Bushels in Warehouse, Say Grain Brokers.

CHICAGO, May 30.—(Special.)—Cash wheat, now hovering about the $1.30 notch, will remain in the neighborhood of that figure throughout the season, at least, and probably will command an advanced price until the crop of next year is ready for the market.

It was the view expressed today by Chicago brokers and grain dealers who have been interested in the fluctuations of the cereal throughout the "Jim" Patten deal. The demand, it was asserted, was still active, with every indication that it would remain so.

"The demand for cash wheat, especially in small quantities, has been good right along and is good now," said James Pettit, president of the Peavey Grain Company.

Other well-informed traders expressed themselves as viewing the situation in a similar light, most of them predicting that Mr. Patten would experience little difficulty in disposing of his "corpse" of 4,000,000 bushels of the product, now in his firm's elevators and warehouses.

ZEPPELIN BREAKS RECORD

(Continued from First Page.)

crossing Halle to Bitterfeld. No time was wasted here, and, to everybody's surprise, the ship, after describing a circle, turned again and sailed to the south.

Military Not Appraised.

In the meantime the military authorities at Berlin were without advice as to the Count's plans. Major Gross, commander of the army balloon corps, said that no arrangements had been made for the landing of the ship at Tegel, the military balloon headquarters. The local authorities had been learned from private dispatches that the airship was approaching, and so informed the Emperor and the Prince. When it was definitely announced that the airship would not land here, the crowds at first refused to give credence to the report, but finally dispersed.

FLIGHT OF AIRSHIP WATCHED

People in Villages Gaze at Ship of Air, Flying Overhead.

BERLIN, May 30.—The following dispatches were received here throughout the day describing the progress of Count Zeppelin's flight from Friederichshafen along the route to Bitterfeld, which is about 50 miles from Berlin:

Friederichshafen, May 30.—Count Zeppelin ascended in the airship Zeppelin II at 9:42 last night. Complete secrecy was maintained as to the object of the trip, but it was reported that if conditions proved favorable an effort would be made to reach Berlin. Count Zeppelin himself was at the head of the crew, with two engineers and a crew of seven aboard.

Treuchtlingen.—The population awoke to a surprise this morning when the Zeppelin airship was sighted in the sky. Thousands of people, composing the holiday crowds, greeted the airship enthusiastically.

Bayreuth, 10:30 A. M.—The airship has arrived here in its now moving slowly above the roofs at a low altitude. Thousands of spectators greeted it with hurrahs and the crew responded.

Plauen, 12:40 P. M.—Count Zeppelin carried out evolutions over this city at an altitude of about 600 feet. The propellers could be plainly heard.

Leipzig, 5:30 P. M.—The airship arrived over the city at 5:15. It maneuvered in the sight of tens of thousands while coming down a considerable distance to do so, and then ascending to a high altitude and proceeding in the direction of Berlin.

Bitterfeld.—Count Zeppelin was over Bitterfeld at 7:30 tonight. He threw out two cards, one of them containing the following message: "Have declined to return; all in good order." The airship then turned to the southward.

TWELVE TO ENTER LONG RACE

Contest of Aero Club of America to Be Held Next Sunday.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 30.—The annual National balloon race of the Aero Club of America will start from the Indianapolis automobile speedway Sunday next. Twelve entrants are scheduled to contest for the trophy to be given to the balloon pilot that covers the longest distance.

The Aero Club of Indiana on Sunday will start a free-for-all race, for which Carl G. Fisher, of this city, offers a cup to the pilot staying up in the air the longest period.

ADJOURNMENT IN JULY

Nothing but Speeches This Week, but Congress Sees End.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Progress on the tariff bill is being made steadily between speeches and while the leaders are unable to predict the end, they now say that the work will be disposed of in time to permit Congress to adjourn early in July.

The outlook for the present week is for many speeches and comparatively little progress on the schedules. The probability of night sessions is not so great as it was a week ago, but the policy with reference to them will not be decided for several days.

The work of the week will begin with a decision on the rate on lemons and after the agricultural schedule is disposed of the cotton and woolen schedules will receive attention. The Senate will sit on Decoration Day. If the House succeeds in obtaining a quorum when it meets Tuesday, it will continue the discussion of the Porto Rican bill, and when action is taken on it, the bill making appropriation for the next census will be taken up.

ATTORNEY WHO SAYS HE SPENT $40,000 FOR THAW IN 'HUSH MONEY,' AND THAW'S MOTHER AND SON, WHO DENY STORY.

Clifford W. Hartridge.

Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw.

CASTRO DOPE FIEND

Deposed Venezuelan President in Clutches of Morphine.

UNDER SHADOW OF PARESIS

Habit Has Grown on Him Till Now He Is Completely Under Sway of Drug and Activity in Public Affairs Is at an End.

PARIS, May 30.—(Special.)—Cipriano Castro, deposed President of Venezuela, inveterate ex-patriot and hero of swash-buckling romance, in addition to his other troubles, has now the terror of the drug habit to undergo.

Castro is a confirmed morphine fiend. His present illness is not the sequence of the ailment for which he went to Paris for treatment, but is due to the inroads morphine has been making on his constitution.

For several years Castro is said to have been taking the drug in moderate quantities, but it is now declared the dread "white stuff" has him in its power.

A physician who examined him in Paris confirms this report, and it is believed that Castro is under the shadow of paresis. Really Venezuela need not fear its ex-President, for medical opinion is that he will never again be able to take part in public affairs.

Castro is now at Santander, Spain, with his devoted wife, but has been deserted by all his former adherents. About the only man to remain faithful to the fallen despot is Senor Hahn, his confidential agent, and recently the Venezuelan Consul at Genoa.

Castro is a confirmed morphine fiend. His present illness is not the sequence of the ailment for which he went to Paris for treatment, but is due to the inroads morphine has been making on his constitution.

For several years Castro is said to have been taking the drug in moderate quantities, but it is now declared the dread "white stuff" has him in its power.

A physician who examined him in Paris confirms this report, and it is believed that Castro is under the shadow of paresis. Really Venezuela need not fear its ex-President, for medical opinion is that he will never again be able to take part in public affairs.

Castro is now at Santander, Spain, with his devoted wife, but has been deserted by all his former adherents. About the only man to remain faithful to the fallen despot is Senor Hahn, his confidential agent, and recently the Venezuelan Consul at Genoa.

Castro is a confirmed morphine fiend. His present illness is not the sequence of the ailment for which he went to Paris for treatment, but is due to the inroads morphine has been making on his constitution.

For several years Castro is said to have been taking the drug in moderate quantities, but it is now declared the dread "white stuff" has him in its power.

A physician who examined him in Paris confirms this report, and it is believed that Castro is under the shadow of paresis. Really Venezuela need not fear its ex-President, for medical opinion is that he will never again be able to take part in public affairs.

Castro is now at Santander, Spain, with his devoted wife, but has been deserted by all his former adherents. About the only man to remain faithful to the fallen despot is Senor Hahn, his confidential agent, and recently the Venezuelan Consul at Genoa.

Castro is a confirmed morphine fiend. His present illness is not the sequence of the ailment for which he went to Paris for treatment, but is due to the inroads morphine has been making on his constitution.

For several years Castro is said to have been taking the drug in moderate quantities, but it is now declared the dread "white stuff" has him in its power.

A physician who examined him in Paris confirms this report, and it is believed that Castro is under the shadow of paresis. Really Venezuela need not fear its ex-President, for medical opinion is that he will never again be able to take part in public affairs.

Castro is now at Santander, Spain, with his devoted wife, but has been deserted by all his former adherents. About the only man to remain faithful to the fallen despot is Senor Hahn, his confidential agent, and recently the Venezuelan Consul at Genoa.

Castro is a confirmed morphine fiend. His present illness is not the sequence of the ailment for which he went to Paris for treatment, but is due to the inroads morphine has been making on his constitution.

For several years Castro is said to have been taking the drug in moderate quantities, but it is now declared the dread "white stuff" has him in its power.

A physician who examined him in Paris confirms this report, and it is believed that Castro is under the shadow of paresis. Really Venezuela need not fear its ex-President, for medical opinion is that he will never again be able to take part in public affairs.

Castro is now at Santander, Spain, with his devoted wife, but has been deserted by all his former adherents. About the only man to remain faithful to the fallen despot is Senor Hahn, his confidential agent, and recently the Venezuelan Consul at Genoa.

Castro is a confirmed morphine fiend. His present illness is not the sequence of the ailment for which he went to Paris for treatment, but is due to the inroads morphine has been making on his constitution.

RUSH IS ON TO CANADA

100,000 PEOPLE TO LEAVE STATES THIS YEAR.

Large Percentage of Emigrants Are Wealthy Farmers Who Will Take Property With Them.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, May 30.—It is conservatively estimated that from 75,000 to 100,000 people will leave the United States during the year 1909 to settle in Canada, mostly in the western provinces, writes Consul Franklin D. Hale, of Charlottesville, in a report to the Department of Commerce and Labor.

"A very large per cent are well-to-do farmers, and the total amount of wealth which they will take will be in excess of 200,000,000 dollars. It is reported that the many thousands of immigrants who came from the states in the past years are their strong personal attachments to the best and highest interests of the locality and country to which they had emigrated.

Since 1907 over 200,000 homesteads have been granted to settlers; the population of the Dominion has increased over 1,000,000; the total trade has increased $73,000,000; the revenue has increased $20,000,000; there are still available for homesteads in Manitoba 17,525,000 acres; in Saskatchewan 104,475,000 acres and in Alberta 117,300,000 acres. There have already been disposed of to settlers in these three provinces, in homestead and preemption rights 37,950,150 acres, while the railroad lands in the provinces amount to 21,844,614 acres."

Several efforts have been made, but objections of the American company have always been sufficient to defeat the plan. The company roasts ore at Sudbury but exports it for refining purposes to Jersey City. Americans have never permitted the Canadian government to know the exact output of the mines, or where it is sold.

Recent events, however, would indicate that Germany is the heaviest purchaser, using nickel as a resisting base of steel plates for battleships. This information may lead to a law that will reserve nickel for the exclusive use of British warships and for purposes of national defense, and limit the sale of Canadian nickel to countries in the British Empire.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—(Special.)—Word was received here early this morning that the dam owned by the Salmon Creek Logging Company on Salmon Creek, a tributary of the Cowlitz, had broken, blowing out 20 feet of piling and letting go a 30-foot head of water.

Little damage was done, however, as the 3000 cords of slink-bolts and logs which were let loose were held in the big boom where Salmon Creek enters the Cowlitz. Some flaws in the construction of the dam is said to be the cause.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—(Special.)—Word was received here early this morning that the dam owned by the Salmon Creek Logging Company on Salmon Creek, a tributary of the Cowlitz, had broken, blowing out 20 feet of piling and letting go a 30-foot head of water.

Little damage was done, however, as the 3000 cords of slink-bolts and logs which were let loose were held in the big boom where Salmon Creek enters the Cowlitz. Some flaws in the construction of the dam is said to be the cause.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—(Special.)—Word was received here early this morning that the dam owned by the Salmon Creek Logging Company on Salmon Creek, a tributary of the Cowlitz, had broken, blowing out 20 feet of piling and letting go a 30-foot head of water.

Little damage was done, however, as the 3000 cords of slink-bolts and logs which were let loose were held in the big boom where Salmon Creek enters the Cowlitz. Some flaws in the construction of the dam is said to be the cause.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—(Special.)—Word was received here early this morning that the dam owned by the Salmon Creek Logging Company on Salmon Creek, a tributary of the Cowlitz, had broken, blowing out 20 feet of piling and letting go a 30-foot head of water.

Little damage was done, however, as the 3000 cords of slink-bolts and logs which were let loose were held in the big boom where Salmon Creek enters the Cowlitz. Some flaws in the construction of the dam is said to be the cause.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—(Special.)—Word was received here early this morning that the dam owned by the Salmon Creek Logging Company on Salmon Creek, a tributary of the Cowlitz, had broken, blowing out 20 feet of piling and letting go a 30-foot head of water.

Little damage was done, however, as the 3000 cords of slink-bolts and logs which were let loose were held in the big boom where Salmon Creek enters the Cowlitz. Some flaws in the construction of the dam is said to be the cause.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—(Special.)—Word was received here early this morning that the dam owned by the Salmon Creek Logging Company on Salmon Creek, a tributary of the Cowlitz, had broken, blowing out 20 feet of piling and letting go a 30-foot head of water.

Little damage was done, however, as the 3000 cords of slink-bolts and logs which were let loose were held in the big boom where Salmon Creek enters the Cowlitz. Some flaws in the construction of the dam is said to be the cause.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—(Special.)—Word was received here early this morning that the dam owned by the Salmon Creek Logging Company on Salmon Creek, a tributary of the Cowlitz, had broken, blowing out 20 feet of piling and letting go a 30-foot head of water.

Little damage was done, however, as the 3000 cords of slink-bolts and logs which were let loose were held in the big boom where Salmon Creek enters the Cowlitz. Some flaws in the construction of the dam is said to be the cause.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—(Special.)—Word was received here early this morning that the dam owned by the Salmon Creek Logging Company on Salmon Creek, a tributary of the Cowlitz, had broken, blowing out 20 feet of piling and letting go a 30-foot head of water.

Little damage was done, however, as the 3000 cords of slink-bolts and logs which were let loose were held in the big boom where Salmon Creek enters the Cowlitz. Some flaws in the construction of the dam is said to be the cause.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—(Special.)—Word was received here early this morning that the dam owned by the Salmon Creek Logging Company on Salmon Creek, a tributary of the Cowlitz, had broken, blowing out 20 feet of piling and letting go a 30-foot head of water.

Little damage was done, however, as the 3000 cords of slink-bolts and logs which were let loose were held in the big boom where Salmon Creek enters the Cowlitz. Some flaws in the construction of the dam is said to be the cause.

HARTRIDGE STIRS UP PAINFULLY

Attorney Who Says He Spent $40,000 for "Hush Money" Is Bitterly Sore.

HINTED HE IS DISGRUNTLED

Lawyer in Charge of Affairs of Harry Thaw and His Mother Gives Out Statement as to Inmate of Asylum and His Parent.

NEW YORK, May 30.—(Special.)—When Clifford W. Hartridge, former lawyer of the Thaws, made affidavit that he had spent $40,000 in "hush money" during the progress of the trial to "keep quiet certain stories that might tend to damage the cause of the man who killed Stanford White, he stirred up a small hornet's nest among the Thaw family.

One portion of the affidavit pleased the Thaws at Mattewan immensely. Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw is living in a cottage near the asylum, where her son, Harry, is restrained. The paragraph of Hartridge's statement that brought especial joy was that in which he said the persons who received this money were now scattered so it would be impossible to get them together to prove his statements true. Thaws, as mother and son, seemed to take this as prima facie evidence of the futility of the affidavit. They contended the attorney admitted through this he was unable to give details of the alleged expenditures.

Thaw Scouts Idea. From his ward in the asylum, through his attorney, Charles Morsehauser, of Poughkeepsie, Thaw gave out this signed statement:

The affidavit published by Clifford W. Hartridge is composed of falsehoods from head to tail. I have him disbarred. But there is no truth in it.

He never spent $40,000, nor $1000, nor in "hush money" as he pretends. He has asked for admission to Harry, to his mother and others, accompanying his request, and there is nothing due him, and that he cannot account for spending the money as he pretends.

Hartridge spent money in a house in West 43rd street, a notorious gambling place, which Hartridge frequented. He was informed by Mr. Peabody and others, who that Hartridge's pretense of having spent money in a house in West 43rd street, which Hartridge could not close one eyelid of the man, the same day.

All that Hartridge pretends is to repeat vaguely some fabrications and then pretends to have the signature of Harry Thaw, the District Attorney and the newspapers.

Mother Denies Statement. Mrs. Thaw also says the claim of Mr. Hartridge. She does not want to give any more of her time to this matter. She says she read the extraordinary affidavit and she is not satisfied. She says she is not satisfied. She says she is not satisfied.

Charles Morsehauser, attorney for both Harry and Mrs. Thaw, states this newspaper talk was stirred up by Hartridge because of dissatisfaction with his fees. He says:

He is not satisfied with his own admissions in his pleadings (but not in his affidavits) and he is not satisfied with the ordinary fellow in the legal profession to retire as.

San Francisco's Alleged Nobleman Is Locked Up in Police Station for Night, However.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30.—(Special.)—Still asserting that he is Lord Carrington, the reputedly rich British Consul-General Hearn and Burke's Peerage, H. Rosewater Carrington, who registered at the St. Francis on May 14 and whose indentures there amounted on Friday to a little over $200, was placed on the detinue book at the Central Police Station last night and was locked up for the night. The particular charge against him was sworn to by J. Ferguson, agent for the St. Francis Automobile Company, who declared that Carrington owed him $90 for automobile hire.

Carrington attempted to explain last night how it happened that the British Consul-General pronounced him an impostor.

"It was all a mistake," he said. "I never claimed I was Lord Charles Carrington. I simply said I am Lord Carrington. That is absolutely correct. My father is the Earl of Carrington. His home is Castle Par, in Cornwall, England. He has lived in retirement for the last 30 years."

He was unable to explain why neither Burke's Peerage nor Whitaker's Almanac mentioned any mention of any Earl Carrington, except Earl Charles Robert Wynne-Carrington.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—There is practically no change in the strike situation in this city. Cars are running on every line in the city, but the service is considerably crippled.

None of the conductors or motormen who struck, the strike leaders say, has made application for his old position. It is asserted by the labor leaders that by Monday there will be a complete halt. Streetcar officials, on the other hand, say three-fourths of the cars will be in operation Monday morning.

There was but little disturbance today. The motormen and conductors on the elevated railroad, who get 2 cents an hour more than the surface carmen, and have better hours, have refused to join in the strike.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—There is practically no change in the strike situation in this city. Cars are running on every line in the city, but the service is considerably crippled.

None of the conductors or motormen who struck, the strike leaders say, has made application for his old position. It is asserted by the labor leaders that by Monday there will be a complete halt. Streetcar officials, on the other hand, say three-fourths of the cars will be in operation Monday morning.

There was but little disturbance today. The motormen and conductors on the elevated railroad, who get 2 cents an hour more than the surface carmen, and have better hours, have refused to join in the strike.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—There is practically no change in the strike situation in this city. Cars are running on every line in the city, but the service is considerably crippled.

None of the conductors or motormen who struck, the strike leaders say, has made application for his old position. It is asserted by the labor leaders that by Monday there will be a complete halt. Streetcar officials, on the other hand, say three-fourths of the cars will be in operation Monday morning.

There was but little disturbance today. The motormen and conductors on the elevated railroad, who get 2 cents an hour more than the surface carmen, and have better hours, have refused to join in the strike.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—There is practically no change in the strike situation in this city. Cars are running on every line in the city, but the service is considerably crippled.

None of the conductors or motormen who struck, the strike leaders say, has made application for his old position. It is asserted by the labor leaders that by Monday there will be a complete halt. Streetcar officials, on the other hand, say three-fourths of the cars will be in operation Monday morning.

There was but little disturbance today. The motormen and conductors on the elevated railroad, who get 2 cents an hour more than the surface carmen, and have better hours, have refused to join in the strike.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—There is practically no change in the strike situation in this city. Cars are running on every line in the city, but the service is considerably crippled.

None of the conductors or motormen who struck, the strike leaders say, has made application for his old position. It is asserted by the labor leaders that by Monday there will be a complete halt. Streetcar officials, on the other hand, say three-fourths of the cars will be in operation Monday morning.

There was but little disturbance today. The motormen and conductors on the elevated railroad, who get 2 cents an hour more than the surface carmen, and have better hours, have refused to join in the strike.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—There is practically no change in the strike situation in this city. Cars are running on every line in the city, but the service is considerably crippled.

None of the conductors or motormen who struck, the strike leaders say, has made application for his old position. It is asserted by the labor leaders that by Monday there will be a complete halt. Streetcar officials, on the other hand, say three-fourths of the cars will be in operation Monday morning.

There was but little disturbance today. The motormen and conductors on the elevated railroad, who get 2 cents an hour more than the surface carmen, and have better hours, have refused to join in the strike.

PLAN IS COMPLETE

Taft Ready to Open Seattle Fair From Capital.

GUNS WILL FIRE SALUTE

President Taft to Deliver Address and Secretary Ballinger to Make Response—Wheels Whirr at Great Exposition.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 30.—(Special.)—The Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition officials were notified today of the programme to be carried out in the East Room of the White House Tuesday, when President W. H. Taft will present the golden key which will formally open the fair. The ceremony of presenting the key will be performed exactly at 2 o'clock, Washington, D. C. time, which will be noon in Seattle. At the moment the signal is flashed across the continent a salute of 18 guns will be fired at the National Capitol.

After the Exposition has been formally opened President Taft will deliver an address. Secretary of the Interior R. A. Ballinger will respond for the Exposition, and some member of the Washington delegation will speak for the Pacific Coast.

With every nook and corner of the main Government building spick and span, and with the floors oiled and the machinery whirling, the Federal exhibit was inspected by the Exposition officers today. The big lights in the Government light-house exhibit were flashing and the cartage-making machines from the Frankfort Arsenal were turning out shells loaded with flaxseed.

Aside from the officers of the Exposition more than 100 persons who had been invited to the grounds to be photographed improved the opportunity to take the first view of the Fair, which will be held in other buildings where snaking touches were needed, there was the rattle of hammers and the noise made by many workmen. The Exposition needed about 30 carpenters today, and so insistent was the demand that wages went up to 75 cents an hour. The carpenters had been laid off in great numbers since Saturday, and it was difficult to fill the orders, notwithstanding the attractive wages. More than 50 men were at work taking up the grounds. Refuse was removed from the asphalted streets and piles of boards were also removed.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—There is practically no change in the strike situation in this city. Cars are running on every line in the city, but the service is considerably crippled.

None of the conductors or motormen who struck, the strike leaders say, has made application for his old position. It is asserted by the labor leaders that by Monday there will be a complete halt. Streetcar officials, on the other hand, say three-fourths of the cars will be in operation Monday morning.

There was but little disturbance today. The motormen and conductors on the elevated railroad, who get 2 cents an hour more than the surface carmen, and have better hours, have refused to join in the strike.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—There is practically no change in the strike situation in this city. Cars are running on every line in the city, but the service is considerably crippled.

None of the conductors or motormen who struck, the strike leaders say, has made application for his old position. It is asserted by the labor leaders that by Monday there will be a complete halt. Streetcar officials, on the other hand, say three-fourths of the cars will be in operation Monday morning.

There was but little disturbance today. The motormen and conductors on the elevated railroad, who get 2 cents an hour more than the surface carmen, and have better hours, have refused to join in the strike.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—There is practically no change in the strike situation in this city. Cars are running on every line in the city, but the service is considerably crippled.

None of the conductors or motormen who struck, the strike leaders say, has made application for his old position. It is asserted by the labor leaders that by Monday there will be a complete halt. Streetcar officials, on the other hand, say three-fourths of the cars will be in operation Monday morning.

There was but little disturbance today. The motormen and conductors on the elevated railroad, who get 2 cents an hour more than the surface carmen, and have better hours, have refused to join in the strike.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—There is practically no change in the strike situation in this city. Cars are running on every line in the city, but the service is considerably crippled.

None of the conductors or motormen who struck, the strike leaders say, has made application for his old position. It is asserted by the labor leaders that by Monday there will be a complete halt. Streetcar officials, on the other hand, say three-fourths of the cars will be in operation Monday morning.

There was but little disturbance today. The motormen and conductors on the elevated railroad, who get 2 cents an hour more than the surface carmen, and have better hours, have refused to join in the strike.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—There is practically no change in the strike situation in this city. Cars are running on every line in the city, but the service is considerably crippled.

None of the conductors or motormen who struck, the strike leaders say, has made application for his old position. It is asserted by the labor leaders that by Monday there will be a complete halt. Streetcar officials, on the other hand, say three-fourths of the cars will be in operation Monday morning.

There was but little disturbance today. The motormen and conductors on the elevated railroad, who get 2 cents an hour more than the surface carmen, and have better hours, have refused to join in the strike.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—There is practically no change in the strike situation in this city. Cars are running on every line in the city, but the service is considerably crippled.

None of the conductors or motormen who struck, the strike leaders say, has made application for his old position. It is asserted by the labor leaders that by Monday there will be a complete halt. Streetcar officials, on the other hand, say three-fourths of the cars will be in operation Monday morning.

There was but little disturbance today. The motormen and conductors on the elevated railroad, who get 2 cents an hour more than the surface carmen, and have better hours, have refused to join in the strike.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—There is practically no change in the strike situation in this city. Cars are running on every line in the city