Democrats Say Their Man Will Not Be Lower Than Second-Kellaher Conducts Streetear Campaign. Simon Workers Are Busy.

That one or more of the Mayoralty candidates in the field against Joseph Simon will yet get out of the way is the substance of a rumor which continues to be circulated industriously. Neither its origin nor the persons re-sponsible for it can be located, and for that reason it is not regarded seriously in any quarter. All three of the ion candidates are still in the race and their friends smile when it is suggested that either will lie down at this stage.

Simon, through active workers in every precinct, is conducting the same earnest campaign that he did in the campaign preceding the primary elec-Albee is conducting a quiet campaign from headquarters which he has established in the Waldo building, Sec and Washington streets. The friends of Judge M. G. Munly, the Democratic candidate, are doing hard work in support of their man's candidacy. When asked as to the outlook they very soberly predict, and they act as though they really believed what they were saying, that if Judge Munly is not elected he will be second man in the four-handed contest,

Dan Kellaher is playing his own game. He is conducting what might game. He is conducting what might be styled a streetcar campaign. This candidate spends the greater part of each day on the streetcars, not that he is altogether enthusiastic over that means of transportation, but because he says he finds this plan the best he could adopt for coming in personal contact with the voters. Kellaher has reduced the transfer-obtaining game to a science and in that manner probably rides farther for every 5-cent piece he expends than the average citizen ever thought possible.

Kellaher does not wait for the for-

Kellaher does not wait for the formality of an introduction. Entering a car he introduces himself principally to all male passengers, and when his calling list on that particular car is exhausted, he procures a transfer from the conductor and leaves the car at a convenient stopping place and invades another section of the city. This programme he follows with remarkable porsistency until the day ends, only to resume his somewhat novel canvass for votes early the following morning. By reason of the remarkable indifference manifested by electors in the pend-Kellaher does not wait for the for-

BRIDGE RALLY TONIGHT

FRIENDS OF BROADWAY PROJ-ECT WILL HOLD MEETING.

Advocates of High Structure for North Portland to Redouble Activity Till Election.

Advocates of the proposed high bridge at Broadway have arranged for a final rally of their forces, which will be held in the Woodmen Hall, Rodney avenue and Russell street, at 8 o'clock tomorrow-night. This demonstration will be under the auspices of the North East Side Im-provement Association, which intitated provement Association, which initiated the agitation for a new bridge across the Willamette in that section of the city. The officers and the members of all of the other East Side improvement associations and push clubs have been invited to attend and participate in the exercises.

The principal speaker will be Judge M y, who will review the bridge as it exists in this city and resituation as it exists in this city and rectice what he considers are the imperative reasons why the bonds should be voted next Monday for the Broadway bridge. Other speakers will be: Dr. J. R. Wetherbee, president of the Portland Commercial Club; Herman Wittenberg, George W. Bates, John Pittinger, A. B. Manley, D. L. Povey, J. Woods Smith and S. C. Beach. These gentlemen constitute the membership of the committee which has directed an active campaign in presentdirected an active commutes which has directed an active campaign in presenting before the voters the merits of their plan in asking for funds for a river bridge which will connect the business district of the East Side, north of Sulli-

Clubs Go on Record.

The Mount Scott Push Club held a special meeting Tuesday night to consider the Madison bridge question. As that section is affected directly by the closing of the Madison bridge, there is much concern over the movement to change its location. The club adopted the following expression on the subject: Whereas, the Mount Scott district is suffering great inconvenience by reason of poor car service caused by the delay in the construction of the Madison-arreet bridge; said. Whereas, real estate values have been greatly affected and unless this bridge is soon built, will receive a permanent setback; and The Mount Scott Push Club held a

There is a lively contest on for election of Councilman from the Ninth ward. Councilman R. E. Menefee was recommended by the Republican assembly and received the nomination from that party in the primary election. In the election next Monday he will be copposed by E. Versteeg, who is a member of a pioneer Portland family. He has resided in Portland for 44 years and during the last 18 years has been a resident of the ward from which he seeks election as Councilman. Mr. Versteeg is a firm friend of the direct primary law, a large property-owner.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The low pressure area yesterday over eastern Washington has moved east to Montana. It caused light to heavy showers last night in eastern Washington and northern Idaho. Fair weather now prevails everywhere on the Pacific Slope with warmer weather in southwestern Oregon and cooler weather in northeastern Washington. Elsewhere the changes in temperature have been unimportant.

The indications are for fair and warmer weather in this district Thursday.

THE RIVER. The river at Portland will reach a stage of about 16 feet by Saturday afternoon. FORECASTS.

Portland and vicinity—Fair and warmer; northerly winds. Oregon and Washington—Fair, warmer, except near the Coast; northerly winds. Idaho—Fair, warmer north portion.

Lane and Van Zante Decline to Serve on Commitees in Munly's Behalf.

THOMAS TAKEN TO TASK

Attempt to Defeat Simon With Three Opponents in Field Is Nonsense, Declares Municipal Judge in Letter to Thomas.

Lack of harmony among the Democratic hosts is disclosed in letters issued yesterday by Mayor Lane and Municipal Judge Van Zante, and addressed to The Oregonian and to George H. Thomas, chairman of the Democratic City Central Committee, respectively, in which they decline to serve as members of standing committees for the minority party in the pending municipal campaign. The letters, particularly that of Van Zante, are regarded as significant in that they reveal a condition within the Democratic party that has been suspected ever since the primary election. The inference, judging from Van Zante's letter, is that the Lane forces will knife Munly, the regular Democratic party Lack of harmony among the Democratic from van Zante's letter, is that the Lane forces will knife Munly, the regular Democratic nominee, and in Monday's election support one of the independent Republican candidates—Albee or Kellaher.

Events leading up to the apparent rupture between Lane and Van Zante and the faction headed by Chairman Thomas really began two years aso, when the friends of Lane wrote his name on the ballot and nominated him for Mayor over Thomas, who had been indorsed by the ballot and nominated him for Mayor over Thomas, who had been indorsed by the central committee as the man who should be supported by all Democrats in the primary election. At the recent primary election. Thomas and his friends took advantage of Lane's repeated announcements that he would not accept a renomination and brought about the nomination of Judge M. G. Munly.

Not Formally Notified.

Immediately after the primary election the Democratic warhorses got together and appointed an advisory committee of five members, as follows: Chairman Thomas, Mark O'Neill, Jefferson Myers, John Montag and D. M. Watson. Later this committee held another meeting and recommended that the Democrats make an aggressive campaign in the interest of recommended that the Democrats make an aggressive campaign in the interest of Judge Munly's candidacy. At still another meeting last Friday night the customary list of standing committees was annothered. Mayor Lane was assigned to the chairmanship of the committee on speakers, while Judge Van Zante was given the chairmanship of the committee on campaign literature. The list of committees was published the following Sunday in The Oregonian, but the appointing authority did not take the trouble formally to notify the different members of their appointment.

In his note of declination, which is addressed to The Oregonian, Mayor Lane writes very formally and begs off owing to "pressing public duties and engagements." The letter follows:

Letter From Mayor Lane.

My attention has been called to an announcement in the daily press that I have been appointed chairman of the committee on speakers for Judge Munity's campaign. This has not been mentioned to me by or on behalf of Judge Munity or his committee, and since the publication of the item, Mr. Montag, a member of the campaign committee, informs me that no such action was taken, to his knowledge.

They certainly would not put a person who has pressing public duties and engagements upon a committee without even consulting him.

leave for Scattle.

In his letter Van Zante takes Chairman Thomas to task for not seeking to concentrate the opposition to Simon on one man, and denounces as pure "non sense" the attempt to defeat the regular Republican nominee by keeping three opposition candidates in the field. Other causite statements are included in Judge Van Zante's letter, which fol-

What Van Zante Says.

Since Sunday morning I have been waiting for some information—other than from The Oregonian—of my appointment on one of a batch of committees selected at Democratic hesadquarters.

The advisory committee, which appears to have made the appointment, was created for the sole and only purpose of finding some way to unite the opposition of Mr. Simon's candidacy upon some one person, and for that purpose was given full power to act.

The attempt to defeat Mr. Simon with three candidates in the field is nonsense, and your argument that independent candidates are responsible therefore and should have no standing before the electorate is puerile; Mr. Simon could not and does not ask for better campaign matter.

I have nothing but words of praise for the personnel of the committee as published, but the object of such appointment at this time, is too apparent, and I decline to serve, if it was ever intended I should serve.

I want to tell you that the independent has been the bulwark of this city in the past, and has smashed machines, and may again.

Thomas Has Little to Say.

Neither of the letters of declination caused any great consternation at Democratic headquarters. Chairman Thomas manifested not the slightest concern, but said that it was up to the two Democratic office-holders to act as they saw fit and take the consequences. they saw fit and take the consequences. "Such committee appointments as were tendered Mayor Lane and Judge Van Zante," said he, "are altogether honorary, and were made in recognition of the positions they hold. It is true formal notices were not mailed to the different members of their appointment on the various committees. That is not customary, publication of these committees in the public press on all other occasions being considered ample notice of such appointments. Of course of such appointments.
