Bolunbri started to jump from the platform between the two cars but evidently changed his mind, but not until he had been thrown from the steps by the movement of the car. He retained his grasp on the hand rall and was dragged about 60 feet before his predicament was discovered by the conductor and the car stopped. HARRIMAN LINES HOPE TO SAT-ISFY SHIPPERS.

Unless More Protests Result Commission Will Consider Controversy at End.

The general freight department of the Harriman lines in Oregon is at work on a readjustment of wool rates affecting all shipping points in the state, which rates, it is expected, will meet the objections of the woolgrowers and manufacturers.

tions of the woolgrowers and manufacturers.

This statement was made to the Railway Commission yesterday by W. E. Coman, assistant general freight agent of the O. R. & N. and Southern Pacific lines in Oregon. The new tariff sheets will be out in a short time and unless protests are made by shippers within a very short time thereafter, the controversy will be considered by the commission as adjusted.

versy win be considered by the commission as adjusted.

The investigation of wool rates was held by the Commission on its own initiative and was the result of complaints of inequalities in rates made by growers and manufacturers. All the testimony, except that of the railway companies, had been taken at Salem prior to yesterday, when the concluding hearing was held in Portland. It was at this session that Mr. Coman announced the desire of the companies he represents to adjust the differences with the shippers.

The new rates, it is understood, will apply generally throughout the state. The main shipping points of scoured wool are Pendicton, Echo and The Dalles. Most of the large manufacturers do their own wool scouring, however, and these buy and ship wool in quantities from most of the stations in the ship country of Eastern Oregon.

The Railway Commission, The Railway Commission, has also closed the Linuton hearing by ordering the United Railways Compuny to stop its cars for passengers and freight at Second and D street in Linuton. The company has erected its depot opposite Clark Terrace and the order will probably result to the company terrace and the order will probably Clark Terrace and the order will probably result in the cars making two stops at that town. Evidence yesterday from a dozen or more witnesses indicated that there was something of a factional fight involved. It was insisted by most of the residents that the corner of Second and D street, because of being in the main business center of the place, was the best stopping point. No question was raised as to the sufficiency of the depot and the company officers asserted that it was located where it would serve the most patrons of the road.

The investigation of the Portland-Sea-patrons of the road.

The investigation of the Portland-Seaside rates will be concluded by the Commission today with a hearing at 11 o'clock in Portland. The testimony of the shippers has been taken and the railroad company will have its innings today. The any will have its innings today. The nvestigation involves commodity and class rates and rates on building materials n particular from Portland to Senside and from Astoria to Seaside over Astoria & Columbia River railroad

"Tusker," Strange Freak Animal With Parts of a Hog and a Deer, Trois at Missier's Heels.

THERE passed through Portland yesterday an animal freak, which in most respects resembled a wild pec-cary or wild boar, but which had other marks which were entirely foreign to the peccary family. The animal was in possession of Dr. C. W. Stone, from Tucson, Arizons, who stopped in Port-land on his way to Seattle.

land on his way to Seattle.

"Tusker," as Dr. Stone calls his unusual pet, has a hog's hind feet and a deer's front feet. The front part of her body is set low, and she is built for running at a great speed. Her bristles instead of being tough like those of the peccary are porous and brittle. The navel is on the back. She has an affectionate expression and seems to be of a loving disposition.

One of her most remarkable traits is her cleanliness. The box in which she was kept for 48 hours on the trip. is her cleanliness. The box in which she was kept for 48 hours on the trip from Arizona was absolutely free from dirt when Portiand was reached. There is no odor whatever in her pen, and she seems to take pride in keeping things neat.
