

THE POOLERA'S MURDERER FOUND

Mexican, Aged 60, Confesses Slaying 9-Year-Old Girl.

IN JAIL AT RIVERSIDE

Sheriff Hammill Leaves Los Angeles for Prisoner, Jose Martinez. Piece of Dress Worn Around Neck—Seems Irrational.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 3.—Sheriff Hammill and a deputy left this city in an automobile tonight for Riverside, where the authorities are holding a Mexican who has confessed that he is the murderer of Annie Poolera, 9 years old. The girl was murdered at the entrance to Griffith Park, at the north limits of this city, three weeks ago, and for whose murder the Sheriff, officers and many citizens have been searching since the finding of the body on May 9.

ARRESTED FOR AN ASSAULT

He Tells of Discarding Bloody Shirt Near Scene of Crime.

RIVERSIDE, Cal., June 3.—Jose Martinez, about 60 years of age, a Mexican, has been arrested here for an attempted assault upon a woman at her home. He answers in many respects the description of the Mexican suspected of the murder of Annie Poolera at Los Angeles, and told the Sheriff that he committed the crime. He tells of having thrown away a bloody shirt found by Los Angeles officers near the scene of the murder, and around his neck was found a strip of cloth, evidently torn from a dress worn around the neck of the victim, and which he says he discarded in an irrational way regarding his movements, and a physician has been called to examine him. He is more than 6 feet tall and of powerful build.

SNOWS FILL BIG RIVERS

13-foot stage in the Willamette at Portland Sunday noon, and possibly a 20-foot stage by Monday. A rise of two feet at Lewiston, on the Snake River, and the same at Wenatche, on the Upper Columbia yesterday, will bring the Willamette up rapidly between now and Monday morning. What the rise will be after that time is only a matter of conjecture. It depends on weather conditions and what they will be the weather man refuses to tell. "If I had property at stake which would be endangered by a rise of 20 feet, I would take precautionary measures and get it out of the way," said Mr. Beale yesterday. "While I cannot state what will be the actual stage of the river after Monday, I think it will continue to rise for several days after that time." Ash-streets dock is under water to present and Alaska dock will be under by noon today. An additional two feet will place the lower Alsworth out of business and a 10-foot stage will submerge Couch street. At the latter dock there is no upper deck and the business of the steamer Alliance will be transferred to the Columbia No. 1.

BRITISH COLUMBIA SUFFERS

Kootenay Tableland Snow Swells Streams to Flood Proportions.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 3.—Heavy rains, followed by warm weather, have caused all the rivers and streams in the Kootenay tableland of British Columbia to rise in flood, and, according to advices received from interior points today, the waters are still rising. Along the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway between Nelson and Stocan City there have been a number of washouts, with the result that rail communication is interrupted. Passengers are being handled by boats between Nelson and Roseberry, but freight traffic is at a standstill. The Columbia River is reported to be rising more rapidly than any of the other streams in the interior. The Fraser River is reported to be steadily rising, but it is stated that it has not as yet shown any indication of breaking its normal fresher bounds. Five miles out of Nelson the water overflowed and washed out 200 feet of Canadian Pacific track and 200 feet of Great Northern track, cutting off communication by train with Spokane, except via Marcus and Roseland. It will be several days before the service is resumed. The biggest washout is at Patrick's dam on the Slovan River. Here the water overflowed the dam and, breaking it, carried away 400 feet of Canadian Pacific track in two places. This cuts off direct communication with Slovan. The water is still rising rapidly and all previous records are likely to be broken. At West Fernie, in the Crow's Nest Pass, serious damage has been done. Many people have been forced to flee from their homes. Several bridges are submerged, and the Elk River Lumber Company's office is surrounded by water. Considerable loss has been caused by the logs being carried away.

COLUMBIA UP FOUR INCHES

Big River Gaining Steadily at Vancouver and Goes Over 15 Feet.

VANCOUVER, Wash., June 3.—(Special.)—The Columbia River has risen eight inches in the last 24 hours and four inches in the last 12 hours. It is now 15 feet 3 inches above low water. At this point the river is two and one-fourth miles wide. The highest point reached by the river last year was 20 feet and 2 inches above low water.

SNAKE FLOOD IS NEAR RECORD

River Within Foot of Highest Mark and Bridges Threatened.

SPOKANE, June 3.—A special to the Oregonian from Lewiston, Idaho, says the Clearwater River is a raging torrent and is rapidly reaching the high water stage of 1884. The Commercial Trust Company's bridge at Lewiston is liable to go. The Snake River is 17 feet above low water, and one foot below the highest record. Several houses on the lowland are flooded. At Kamiah one stone pier for the new steel bridge has been washed away. At Proser a rise of another foot will block the railroad. There is little hope that the water will go down for several days, as there is much snow in the mountains and the warm weather is melting it rapidly.

RAILS BREAK LOOSE ON COWLITZ.

KELSO, Wash., June 3.—(Special.)—Two rafts of fir logs which were held at the boom of the Ostrander Railway & Timber Company, at Ostrander, Portland, here, awaiting a scaler from Portland, broke their moorings this morning and were carried down to the big boom at the mouth of the Cowlitz. The rafts held together until they struck the banks of the stream. The westbound passenger train of the Canadian Pacific's Sno-Spokane service was held at Fernie been reached regarding the United States tariff. The Montague and Minnesota left Yokohama together. That secret trials of Japanese experts held in northern Japan have been successfully demonstrating that guns and heavy loads can be carried, the story brought by the Montague. It is stated that a number of experts have been engaged for some time past in perfecting an airplane invented by Yamada Isaburo, whose airplane was successful during the Russo-Japanese war, and it is stated that the new flying machine invented by Mr. Isaburo is capable of transporting a heavy load and mounting guns of moderate calibre and also can be stored readily. Another invention, perfected at the trials held before the army experts, is an airplane fitted with shells which explode automatically on contact with another airplane, being practically a counterpart of the marine torpedo destroyer applied to aerial navigation. Both inventions have been acquired by the military authorities.

WOODMEN TO HONOR DEAD Will Unveil Handsome Memorial in Vancouver Next Sunday.

VANCOUVER, Wash., June 3.—(Special.)—The Woodmen of the World of this city will, on Sunday next, unveil two monuments at the city cemetery which have been erected in memory of the members of the camp who have died during the past year. The ritualistic exercises connected with the unveiling will take place in the afternoon, the Woodmen degree team being in full dress, and music being furnished by the city band and a male quartet. Sunday morning the graves of all Woodmen will be decorated with flowers. The following officers of the local camp have been elected for the ensuing six months: Consul commander, Jerry Rior-dan; advisor lieutenant, George B. Simpson; escort, E. Soden; watchman, A. T. Leeds; sentinel, R. S. Paynter. The banker and clerk are hold-over officers, they being Jacob Westhoff and J. H. Sugg, respectively.

LEWISTON, Idaho, June 3.—J. E. Chapman, former teller of the Lewiston National Bank, who was attached to the bank during the period of the alleged theft of $127,000 from the institution, arrived here from a two weeks' trip to the Coast today. A telegram had been sent to him by his father as soon as the statement of the bank defalcation was made, and he started here immediately. On his arrival here he authorized this statement. "In connection with the statement made in the Tribune of June 2 by E. W. Kettnerbach, president of the Lewiston National Bank, Mr. Chapman stated that the first intimation he had of Mr. Robnett's defalcation was about two months ago, when a general checking up of the books was made by Mr. Smith, the cashier, and Mr. Hyde. "At that time it appeared that there was a shortage of some $100,000. Mr. Robnett's attention was called to the matter and he so explained it that it was thought the actual shortage was between $100 and $200. This shortage was subsequently apparently reduced to $20. The fact of the actual defalcation came with as much surprise to Mr. Chapman as to everyone else connected with the bank. The individual deposit ledger which was manipulated by Robnett in carrying out his scheme was kept by him solely. Mr. Chapman having nothing to do therewith. "Relative to the statement in Mr. Kettnerbach's interview that Robnett as bookkeeper checked the teller and Chapman as teller checked the bookkeeper, Mr. Chapman states that no such a system was in vogue in the bank, and that he had no check whatsoever on the bookkeeper's records. "Relative to the statement that the routine course of the bank's mail was through his (Chapman's) hands, Mr. Chapman states that owing to a press of other duties he has had nothing to do with the handling of the general mail for some months, and that during the time he did care for the mail no checks of a suspicious character connected with Robnett or any of his business ventures were presented at the bank. "Mr. Chapman states further that Robnett frequently when apparently in need of money drew drafts on the Spokane Orchard Company and upon Spokane banks, which drafts were uniformly honored. "Mr. Chapman has secured the services

When you buy Lard you get more than you bargain for--It's heavier in your stomach than on the scales. Lard is a foe to digestion. If you had the stomach of an ostrich you could hardly withstand the ravages of lard-soaked pastry. You have probably found this out and already given up the eating of pastry. 'Tis wholly unnecessary! Anyone can eat and digest food cooked with Cottolene, the perfect shortening. It is a pure vegetable product, made from the choicest refined vegetable oil. When you buy lard you have no protection as to quality—you simply know you are getting LARD—never mind the grade, it's just L-A-R-D. On the other hand, every pail of Cottolene is uniform—the product is guaranteed. You take no chances whatever. In the face of these facts just ask yourself if you can afford to use hog lard when you can get pure, healthful, nutritious Cottolene.

COTTOLENE is Guaranteed. Your grocer is hereby authorized to refund your money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test. Never Sold in Bulk. Cottolene is packed in pails with an airtight top to keep it clean, fresh and whole, and prevent it from catching dust and absorbing disagreeable odors, such as fish, oil, etc. Cook Book Free.
