Quaker City Politicians Act as Mediators With Traction Lines.

PHILADELPHIA, June 3 .- The strike of the motormen and conductors of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company is in process of settlement. having the matter in charge confidently assert that the trouble will be over within 24 hours.

Serious rioting was renewed today. Most of the disturbances occurred during the noon hour, when the workers threw bricks at passing motormen and conductors. For the first time since the strike began a number of the em ployes of the elevated road joined the strikers. The surface cars ran at irregular intervals until nightfall, after which no attempt was made to continue the service.

Politicians as Mediators.

Influential politicians today took steps to end the struggle. Senator McNichol, recognized as the Repub-McNichol, recognized as the Republican leader of this city, and Senator Vare, who controls the down-town section, announced that they sympathized with the men and were trying to bring the strike to an end. Mr. McNichol presented demands of the men to the company. Twenty-two cents an hour, instead of 25 cents originally asked by the men, is said to be the new proposition. A conference was held this afternoon between State Senator McNichol, the Republican leader, Director Clay, Mayor Reyburn and the representatives of the trolley men.

Mobs Again Grow Rampant.

The report that the strike probably would be settled within 24 hours spread quickly, but not before rioters in the Kensington district had started on their errand of destruction. Early in the evening a mob of nearly 2000 persons formed on Kensington avenue and started for the main barn of the company, intending to destroy it. By the time the barn was reached there were nearly 4000 in the mob. The mob was met by 500 policemen at the barn. This had a quieting effect and only a few stones were thrown.

mg effect and only a few stones were thrown.

Demonstrations were made in other portions of the city almost as serious as those in the Kensington district Wednesday night. Cars were wrecked and motormen, conductors and polleamen attacked. Several persons were injured. No attempt was made to burn the cars, the mob being content with breaking the windows and splitting the seats.

If the men agree to accept a counter proposition by the transit officials they probably will return to work late Friday. The employes of the 18 barns throughout the city will meet tomorrow morning and elect delegates, who will meet later and vote on the proposition of the company. The decision will be regarded by the men as final.

The motorman and conductor were dragged off and beaten and for a while the air was filled with missiles. The car windows and the windows and showcases of a drug store were smashed. A policeman was hit on the head by a brick and seriously injured. Policemen scattered the crowd and made scattered the crowd and made several arrests.

At 10 o'clock this morning the elevated and subway system which had been a bulwark of strength for the company since the strike began, became tied up by a partial strike of its employes. The trouble started when a westbound train reached the Fortysixth street station. Here the crew described and the train was run to the Sixty-ninth street terminal by men sent out from that point. Subsequently other crews described their trains at the Sixty-ninth street terminal. The ticket windows were closed and the crewds on the platform took to the streets. At 10 o'clock this morning the elevated

At 11 o'clock C. O. Fratt. the strike leader, announced that he had called out the elevated and subway men and that 80 per cent of the service on that system was ited up. The company claims there is no strike: that two crews quit and their places were filled. It is understood that some of the men who stopped work this morning returned to their trains when assured of protection.

Four hundred additional substitute police were sworn in this morning. Timothy O'Loughry, assistant super-intendent of police, who has been in active charge of the policing of the city since the strike bogan, said today that if necessary to preserve order 10,000 extra men would be enrolled for police duty.

Benjamin Rice, the first motorman to abandon his train, said his wife found a note on the porch of his little home this morning, reading:

"If you go to work we will blow up your house." This unnerved him. When the train was abandoned the passengers set up a loud cheer, and this influenced the crew to quit also.

This afternoon the Mayor ordered the suspension of Captains Dungan and Thompson, veterans in the city's police force. It is presumed they are charged with failure to push the orders against rioting.

His hold on Barker was so tight that the latter was forced to release his grasp on the hoat and they went down, crying for help. They came up twice, struggling and crying and then drifted down stream a few feet, where they disappeared beneath the surface. 'It was horrible. I feel that had I held out against them and refused to enter the canoe this would all have beer averted." he concluded.

Bodies Are Not Found.

A younger brother of Barker was the only person near the boafbouse at the time and he ran for help. By the time other members of the club arrived from the clubhouse, which is half a block away, the bodies of both boys had disappeared. View then swam to the shore. An effort was made last night for several hours to find the bodies of the drowned boys, but without success. The news of the drowning was reported at police headquarters and Captain Moore sent an officer to see if anything could be done by the city toward recovering the bodies, but owing to the fact that the city has no apparatus for engaging in such work, the officer returned.
