

TELL FAKE STORY TO HELP CALHOUN

Detective Says He Was Asked to Manufacture Evidence for Defense.

BY RAILROAD OFFICIAL

Honey Springs More Testimony to Show Attempt to Defeat Prosecution by Perjury—Witness Offered Cash in Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Charges that Patrick Calhoun was party to plot to manufacture evidence favorable to officials of the United Railroads, Assistant District Attorney Francis J. Heney introduced into the trial of the United Railroads president today a new issue, Samuel F. Scott, during a period of three years successively employed by the United Railroads, the Southern Pacific and W. J. Burns, agent of the prosecution, in positions of confidence, was the witness who made the accusation. His testimony, although received by the defense with ridicule and contempt, opened up one of the bitterest controversies of the long trial.

Asked to Fake Evidence. Scott, who admitted that he had become an agent of the prosecution since the trial commenced, said he had been approached by Joseph H. Handon, claims agent of the United Railroads in 1907, and been requested to repeat before Calhoun a story manufactured by Handon. Scott said that Handon asked him to tell Calhoun that he (Scott) had once been in the employ of Burns, that he had accompanied Rudolph Spreckels and Francis J. Heney on an automobile ride to a house, the location of which was not stated, and that Mr. Spreckels had watched through a transect the conduct of two men who had entered an adjoining room. The witness said he had been requested to tell Calhoun that Mr. Spreckels had subsequently joined the two men in the adjoining room and departed in their company.

Sought House to Fit Story. Scott testified that he had been induced to come from Manhattan, Kansas, where he was employed as special agent for the Southern Pacific, by Handon, and occupied a position in the claims department of the United Railroads. He testified that he and Handon walked the streets of San Francisco for two weeks endeavoring to find a house that would be suitable for the purpose of the trial. Handon and Garrett McHenry, one of his attorneys, thought very necessary.

Brown's Bill Paid Blandly. Adam Dahler, acting treasurer of the United Railroads, admitted that he had paid out money for services rendered by John H. Helms and the Detective Agency. Luther G. Brown, Louis M. Hoefler and other detectives and attorneys, who are alleged to have bribed Brown, who is alleged to have bribed an agent of the District Attorney's office, was to give the treasurer cash tags for services rendered, which were not itemized and did not define the services mentioned. These payments to Brown were authorized by Calhoun, by Thorne, well known to the jury, by the secretary or by Calhoun's secretary or stenographer. He was ordered to produce the vouchers in spite of violent opposition from the defense.

BURNING ECZEMA

Started Like Ringworm on Hand—Hand Swelled and Then Humor Spread to Arms, Legs and Face—It was Something Terrible.

PRESCRIPTIONS FAILED: CUTICURA CURED HIM

"I have used the Cuticura Remedies for a very bad case of eczema with complete success. About fifteen or eighteen years ago the disease developed in the shape of a large pinhead on top of my hand. It burned and itched so much that I was compelled to show it to a doctor. He pronounced it ringworm, and made every effort to cure it. He gave me wash and told me to apply it morning and night, and all would be over in the morning. But the next morning my hand was all swollen up and I poulticed it. When the doctor came to his office I showed him the hand and to my surprise he told me that I had never experienced such a case in his practice and said it was well I poulticed it. After trying his different remedies the disease increased and went up my arms and finally to my thighs and legs generally and finally on my face. The burning was something terrible. After I had tried this doctor, as I thought, long enough, I went to another doctor who had the reputation of being the best in town. He told me it was a bad case of eczema and that it would take quite while to cure it. His medicine checked the advance of the disease but no further."

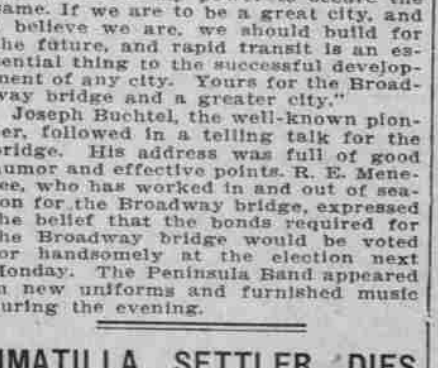

"I finally concluded to try the Cuticura Remedies. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent and found relief in the first trial. I continued until I was completely free from the disease and I have not been troubled with another attack since. I still use the Cuticura Ointment in my family as it is one of the best remedies to heal a sore or other injury rapidly. I can freely and truthfully say that the Cuticura Remedies are the best so far as my experience went with them and I am still recommending them, feeling sure I am not making a mistake. C. Burkhardt, 236 W. Market St., Chambersburg, Pa., Sept. 19, 1908."
