TACOMA, Wash., June 7.—(Special.)—During the first inning, when Hurley, the first tiger up, hit for three bases, a disagreement arose between Seaton and Murray which, coupled with listless playing, was mainly responsible for the Colts losing the opening game of the Tacoma series.

Seaton's wildness happened at critical times, four erratic pitches being responsible for two of Tacoma's runs, while Samuels, who was continually pitching himself into holes, tightened up when there was any danger of the Colts scoring.

Connors, of Spokane, Still Leads the League, With Frisk, of Seattle, Holding Second Place.

Table of Averages. The Northwestern League players show but little change in the relative positions of the leading batemen.

Phil Cooney continues to lead the Portland batemen, in the manner in which that boy, Garry, is coming to the front means that Phil will have to hit some to keep the premiership among Casey's players.

John Bassey has also commenced hitting the ball, and after languishing among the "bums" below the 200 mark since the opening week, the "Count" has started things nicely by bringing himself out of the ruck and into a position where his chances of gaining on the leaders is greatly enhanced.

The batting averages of the Northwestern League players up to and including the games played yesterday are as follows:

WELL, we lost only one game yesterday because only one team played. Both seasons have a long way to go yet, however.

Will Brother Hughes of the Seattle Times kindly notice what happened to Gus Thompson yesterday, and Gus had a five run lead, too. Still he was due to lose after winning ten straight.

That Aberdeen team is a perfect whirlwind on its own grounds, but on the road it is a fright. Two batsmen is not scheduled for about three straight weeks at Aberdeen, for the race might be closer at the end than it is now.

The plugs who are agitating the proposition to divide the season are a bunch of quacks, and will give Seattle a rub for the honors yet, and he is not the least feazed by the big lead Lynch has taken. "The higher they get the harder they will fall," says Walker.

Walter McCredie refuses positively to listen to any proposition to shorten or divide the season. He maintains that Joe Greig's series match yesterday, as after the match, he is not the least feazed by the big lead Lynch has taken. "The higher they get the harder they will fall," says Walker.

Christopher Columbus Carnes and Roy Willett were handed the blue envelope yesterday, and Johnny Fournier was sent to join Casey's team at Tacoma. Fournier's transfer means the dismissal of Jerry Sheehan.

The arrival of Carl Druhot and the good showing made by Guyn caused Manager McCredie to dismiss Willett and
