OTIS W. SAUNDERS DEAD.—Otis W. Saunders, at one time one of the wealth-lest lumbermen of Duluth, Minnesota, passed away yesterday in that city. For many years Mr. Saunders was one of the strong men of that section, and is well known to the lumbermen of Oregon and Washington. Heavy losses in the early was forced Mr. Saunders to dispose of valuable real estate in Duluth at ridiculously low prices. In 1962 Mr. Saunders and his wife removed to Portland where his widow still resides. Mr. Saunders about a year and a half ago, went to Duluth to visit his daughter. He soon after began to fall in health, and never recovered. Attorney Arthur Langguth, of Portland, and Attorney John B. Arnold, of Duluth, representing Mrs. Saunders, and the guardian of Mr. Saunders, are just completing negotiations by which a one-tenth interest in 1400 acres of valuable iron land in the Messaba range will come to the Saunders estate, the widow, and a daughter to a Mesaba range will come to the Saunders estate, the widow, and a daughter by a former wife of Mr. Saunders, being the only beneficiaries.

WAS PIONEER MERCHANT. - Francis Chilvote Protzman, who died June 2, at the home of his son at Waverly, Wash., was for 30 years—1862 to 1893—one Wash., was for 30 years—1862 to 1883—one of the leading business men of Portland. He will be remembered as the senior member of the late firm of Protxman & DeFrance. After his retirement from active business life, he made his home with his brother, Eugene, in this city. For some time past he had been in failing health and was visiting his son, hoping that a change of climate would prove beneficial. He was born near Hagerstown, Md., October 23, 1827, went to California in 1889, and came to Portland in 1882.

PREPARING CHURCH PLANS.—Plans are being drawn for a new modern edifice to take the place of the present building, at East Market and East Sixth streets, for the First English Evangelical Church. The present building will be moved to a vacant lot and occupied while the new church is under construction. The cost of the new church has not even been estimated, but a building fund was started some time ago before the conference. It is expected to get the building under way so it can be completed this Fall.

POOR FARM BIDS READY

COUNTY COURT TO OFFERS TODAY.

Only Two Submitted-Old Site to Be Sold, Having Become Barren.

The County Court will open the bids for the purchase of the old poor farm at 10 o'clock this morning. So far only two bids have been submitted. If the amount offered for the site is found insufficient, at the discretion of the court the bids may be accepted or rejected and readvertised. It was deemed wise by the County Court to sell the old farm on the Canyon road and to purchase a new one, as Judge Webster and the Commissioners believe the ground chase a new one, as Judge Webster and the Commissioners believe the ground at the old site to have been worked until it is not as productive as formerly. They estimate the property to be highly valuable for residence purposes, as that section of the city is being opened up by local real estate firms.

A. Briggs, formerly in charge of Kelly Butte, is superintending the construction of the new county rock quarry at Linnton. It is thought this will be ready for work about July 1. City prisoners, it is understood, are to be worked in place of county prisonbe worked in place of county prison-ers. The machinery for the rock crusher is on the ground, ready to be installed, and the erection of the build-ings is progressing rapidly.

the "Van Rensselaer Memorial." She also bequeathed to the Good Samaritan Hospital $3500 to endow a bed.

After directing that her debts be paid, and bequeathing her personal property to her niece, Anna R. Kadderly, Mrs. Van Rensselaer wills $5000 to each of her five nieces and nephews—Anna R. Kadderly, Edward J. Vedder, George V. R. Vedder, James Cortlandt Vedder and John B. Vedder. To her cousins, Louisa Van Schaick, of New York City, and Sarah A. Biston, of Albany, she gives $2000 each, and to Catherine V. C. Van Rensselaer, widow of Gratz Van Rensselaer, she gives $4000, Lucy O. Schuyler, widow of Philip C. Schuyler, is to receive $3000, and her husband's three nieces $1000 each, They are Henrietta S. Gardner, Mary M. Schuyler and Francis V. R. Sampson. The property is to be soid as soon as practicable, and the proceeds applied to the payment of the bequests. The balance, if there is any, is to go in equal proportions to Mrs. Van Rensselaer's nieces and nephews.

FIND DAYLIGHT THIEF GUILTY

Man Serving Year at Kelly Butte Faces Another Sentence.

Charles Scott Robinson was found guilty yesterday evening, of daylight rob-bery of a rooming-house, by a jury in Judge Gatens' department of the Circuit Judge Gatens' department of the Circuit Court. The jury was out two and a half hours, and recommended the prisoner to the mercy of the court. Sentence will be pronounced Friday morning.

Robinson admitted that on May 14 he walked into the recoming-house, at 68 Seventh street, but said he was looking for a place to sleep, and that he was intoxicated at the time. The evidence did not show that Robinson stole anything, although Marie Veal said he had a trunk tray in his hand when disa trunk tray in his hand when discovered. He is serving a year at Kelly Butte, having pleaded guilty to a charge of simple larceny in another case.

Boy Accused of Bleycle Theft Gives Juvenile Court Queer Case.

An Italian boy claiming a Swede as his father, was the case presented to Judge Bronaugh in the Juvenile Court yesterday afternoon. Dan Camillo, 16 years old, took his wheel to Hummer's bicycle shop for repairs, and was given a bicycle to ride in the meantime. Giving the name of a certain Swede as his father, he is said to have offered the wheel for sale to Elbert Ethridge at $15. Elbert, the story goes, bought it for $7, and took it to Hummer's shop to be repaired, and found that it was not Camillo's wheel, but belonged to the shop. The Juvenile Court was called on to straighten the tangle. An Italian boy claiming a Swede
