Open Highway to Farrylew.—Between the Reams and the Fairylew roads, along the course of the proposed Villa avenue extension, the farmers desire to have the avenue opened, and will join in a patition to the County Court to have the work dene as soon as possible. Petitions are now being prepared and will be in circulation during the coming week. Villa avenue has been opened to the Reams road and between Montavilla and along this road there has been a great development. Practically all the land has been cleared aed put under a high state of cultivation, but beyond to the Fairylew road there is little development. However, by opening the road it is thought all the land will be cleared. If opined to the Fairylew road as proposed, Villa avenue would at once be a long street to the river, as it is to be opened through the Ladd Fairm. It will afford a more direct route to the city from the Columbia slough country. A large area of uncleared land is to be cleared between the Base Line and the O. R. & N. tract. One tract of 160 acres is now being cleared. being cleared.

OLSON AND BELL GET COIN

County Court Orders Justices' Salaries Pald-Fight Ends.

The County Court issued an order yesterday directing County Clerk Fields to draw warrants for the May salaries of Justices of the Peace Olson and Bell Justice Olson recently brought suit in the Circuit Court to have the Commissioners mandamused, and Judge Gatens set the time for hearing. The mandamus suit will now be dropped.

The right of the Justices to retain marriage fees was the question over which the County Court heeltated. Judge Webster and Commissioners Lightner and Barnes decided to hold up the salaries until they reached enough to cover the amounts of fees retained by the Justices. The right to retain marriage fees may yet be settled in court, as Commissioner Barnes has intimated that the Commissioners wish to satisfy themselves upon the question.

THEFT CHARGE FALLS FLAT

Former Deputy City Engineer Explains Use of Municipal Fuel.

George F. Bodman, formerly Deputy City Engineer, was exonerated in short order yesterday morning of a charge of theft. The case was tried before Circuit Judge Gantenbein. Bodman having waived tury tried.

theft. The case was tried before Circuit Judge Gantenbein. Bodman having waived jury trial.

Bodman explained to the Judge that during the silver thaw he was unable to buy any coal, but that he always kept an emergency supply at the city barn on the East Side for use by the city. He said that in the presence of all the employes under him he had one sack hauled to his house, later another sack, and afterward eight sacks. He showed a receipted hill to prove that he returned the coal to the city long before he was charged with stealing it. He said he had been in the city's employ for 13 years and eight months. Judge Gantenbein decided from the bench that he had committed no crime in fact, although technically he might be guilty of theft. Attorney Gus C. Moser appeared as counsel with the cuse for the state.

C. C. VAUGHN, BAIL $1500, OC. CUPIES CELL.

Realty Dealer Faces Charges in Two Courts, Divorce and Partner Complaint.

C. C. Vaughn, a member of the Vaughn-Wilson healty Company, occupies a cell in the County Jail in default of $1500 ball, as a result of his latest embroglio in connection with his muchaired domestic infellicities. Robert Dunkle, a laborer, of $33 East Yamhill street, who says he was attacked Wednesday night by Vaughn with a gaspipe, yesterday filed a complaint accusing Vaughn of attempting to kill him.

After the conflict, Vaughn and Dunkle were arrested. They were released on $25 ball cach, and after being arraigned yesterday morning, Judge Van Zante raised Vaughn's ball to $500. He was then rearrested in the courtroom by county officers on the complaint of assault with intent to kill, filed by Dunkle, and his bond on that charge was placed at $1000.

The Municipal Court cases were continued until Santalay bond on that charge was placed at $1000. The Municipal Court cases were continued until Saturday, as was also the preliminary examination of Vaughn on the assault charge. The reason for this is that the divorce proceedings instituted against him a short time ago by his wife will be called in the Circuit Court today. Vaughn's partner, Mr. Wilson, visited him in the City Jail yesterday afternoon with a view of effecting a dissolution of their partnership. "I would like to be
