RUTH IS CLAIMING CINCH

Declares He Is Without Opposition, Except Desire of Governor Hay to Have Man of Own Choice in President's Chair.

SEATTLE, Wash. June 14.-(Special.) In spite of the fact that J. W. Slayden professes to have a clear majority of two votes for the Speakership of the next Legislature, it is known here tonight that Mr. Slayden's particular friends have arged him to withdraw from the contest and leave the field open to L. O. Meigs, of North Yakima. This conclusion has the Legislature shall be as short as pos-sible. However, Mr. Slayden is not in-clined to admit his defeat, and says; "Reorganization of the House at the extra session will not take more than a few minutes."

Slayden Is Confident.

Slayden arrived in the city this morning from Tacoma and is a guest of the Hotel Arlington. continued Slayden. "In the first place,
I firmly believe it is absolutely incumbent to reorganize, Governor Hay or anybody else to the contrary netwith-

"I am confident I will be elected. Enough members of the House have promised me their votes to guarantee that."

Ruth Has Cinch, He Says.

Slayden during the past few days has been working in the interests of his condidacy in Whatcom, Skagit and Snohomish counties. His supporters claim those countles, with the exception of two or three votes.

Senator A. S. Ruth, of Olympia, also is a guest of the Hotel Arlington. The efforts of Governor Hay to prevail on some members of the Senate to contest his return to the presidency of that body "I have what is technically known as cluch," said Senator Ruth this morn-is. "So far the Governor seems to have failed to induce anybody to come out against me. For that matter, I don't care whether I am returned to the chair or not, and have consequently asked n member to vote for me. Governor Hay, should be follow out his programme and get the Legislature to appropriate a large sum to finance the continuance of the in would like to be able to dictate the appointment of the two Senators who will be members of such a committee. That explains why he thinks reorganization in the House to be a waste of time and in the Senate a crying necessity."

Tariff Schedule to Be Independent of Association's Figures.

MAKES FOR COMPETITION

President Earling Hopes There Will Be No Rate War, but Says He Will Be in Positoin to Bid for Business.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 14 .- (Special.) -For the first time in the history of any Western railroad, the Chicago, Milwau-kee & Puget Sound Railway will publish a complete set of tariffs independently of the Transcontinental Freight Association, President A. T. Earling, of the Milwau-kee, who arrived on a special train to-night over the new line, said his line would make its own rates without referwould make its own rates without reference to the freight association. The new tariffs arrived today with Traffic Manager R. M. Calkins, and will be published in Seattle within a few days. The rates have been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission and are already in effect.

"I have just come over the Pacific Coast extension," said President Warling tonight, "and I am satisfied with the road. It will speak for itself within a fortnight. The Milwaukse has decided not to go into the Transcontinental Freight Association. We shall make our own rates and nublike our own targets. own rates and publish our own tariffs. We shall be in a position to make rates promptly without reference to any association or to any other line."

Easier to Change Rates.

Asked if the position of the Milwaukee meant a freight rate war with other lines, President Earling said:

"I should hope not. It is not the purpose of the Milwaukee to distrub the situation, but the occasion may arise when we shall desire to change our rates, and it may be done more promptly by acting independently. We shall of course observe the statutory requirements of 30 days notice to the Interstate Commerce Commission, but we shall be free to act without a conference with other lines."

Roswell Miller, chairman of the board of directors of the Milwaukee; Mrs. Roswell Miller, R. M. Calkins, traffic manager; A. L. Fluelling, of Spokane, who has charge of the Milwaukee timber interests; H. B. Earling, general superintendent; George Earling, son of the president, and H. R. Williams, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound, were in President Earling's party, The special arrived at Black River Junction at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. Miller, Mr. Fluelling and George Earling. Asked if the position of the Milwaukee the special arrived at Black River Junc-tion at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. Miller, Mr. Flueiling and George Earling came to Seattle, while President Earling, President Williams, Superintendent H. B. Earling and Mr. Miller went to Ta-coma to inspect the work in that city. The party arrived at the Hotel Wash-ington shortly after 9 o'clock tonight.

Action Means Competition.

That the Milwaukee will be a strong factor in ratemaking, not only for transcontinental hauls, but for overseas traffic, railroad men believe. By acting independently new rates can be made within 30 days, while the operation is much slower where the Transcontinental Freight Association must be consuited. The Milwaukee is a new road and the officials are not convinced that the freight association could meet the needs of the public and of the road. That the Milwaukee will make a strong bid for business is understood in railroad circles, and that it will be possible to compete with That the Milwaukee will be a strong hess is understood in railroad circles, and that it will be possible to compete with the Atlantic seaboard lines for freight which goes to the Orient. While there will be no tearing up of existing sched-ules, the result will be competitive freight rates for Seattle and for the Pacific Northwest.

President Earling said last night that he had no announcement to make con-cerning the passenger station for his rail-road. Temporarily the road will use the Columbia & Puget Sound station. "I cannot say when through passen-ger trains will be run." he said.
