KLAMATH FALLS IS HOST TO 7000

"Railroad Day" Attracts People From Portland and California Cities.

UNIQUE PARADE FEATURE

All Types in March of Civilization Are Represented-Roasted Ox and Hot Coffee Served Free to All Visitors.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., June 14 .- (Special.)-With 7000 visitors in the city today. Klamath Falls celebrated "Railroad day," in token of the completion of the new railroad from Weed, which will open up this section of the state to full con mication with the rest of the world, Special trains brought visitors from Portland and from California towns, even as far as Sacramento. From the country surrounding this city came hundreds on horseback, by wagon, carriage or any other conveyance that would serve. Klamath Falls threw open her doors to entertain her guests and every contin-gency had been planned to make the greatest day in the history of the city a Parade Typifies Past and Present. At sunrise blowing of whistles and booming of guns ushered in the day. Just before the parade, F. T. Sanderson, Mayor, and Judge Griffith, in short addresses, welcome the visitors and in-formed them they were entitled to the freedom of the city.

The parade was a spectacle unique in the history of the state. All types in the march of civilization were represented.

Typical of the "Wild West" days came cowboys, stage coaches and freight wagons, with Indians from the Klamath wagons, with Indians from the Klamath Reservation, to represent the past. Modern times were typified by automobiles, handsome horses hitched to fashionable turnouts and a streetcar. Prominent men among the visitors were in line, as were the men most widely known throughout this section of the state.

A feature that accreted to the section of the state.

A feature that appealed in its peculiarity was the barbecue, when two of the finest steers that could be obtained were roasted whole and served to the crowd by the women of Klamath, who assisted the Chamber of commerce. Two monstrous coffee urns held the beverage, and the guests ate and drank till they could hold no more.

Lakeview Helps Celebrate.

All through the day sports of various natures were on the card. A baseball game was played between the home team and one from Lakeview.

Not only Klamath Falls, but the country surrounding, realizes the importance of the completion of the branch of the Southern Pacific that runs from Weed, in Northern California, to this city. A party of business men came from Lakeview to make arrangements to have all their freight shipped by way of Klamath Falls. Work on an automobile road between the two towns is under way, and will be pushed as is under way, and will be pushed as fast as possible. Where the 100 miles separating them had formerly to be traversed with the greatest difficulty and at certain seasons of the year not at all, a hard, smooth highway will replace the old stage roads.

Ranchers and stockmen realize the importance of the railroad. In the parade were freight wagons loaded with wool, typifying one of the industries that will thrive in this part of the state. The cattle ranchers are implicant, for they are the nearbilities. jubilant, for they see the possibilities of shipping their livestock easily.

Visitors Royally Entertained.

Klamath Falls has made every preparation to entertain its visitors. In addition to the homes that have been thrown open to take care of them an ideal camping ground has been fitted up. Many families brought tents and camp outfits in preparation for their holiday. Although the road to wonderful Crater Lake is at this season of the year covered with snow, yet it is packed hard and the lake is easily reached on horseback. Many have taken

SOCIAL FEATURES OF PORT-LAND DAY CUT OUT.

Committee Arranging for Trip to A-Y-P, July 20, Meets and Makes Various Plans.

Portland day, July 20, at the A-Y-P will be devoid of social features. The committee in charge of arrangements, composed of Dr. J. R. Wetherbee, Joseph Simon, Ralph Hoyt, W. J. Hofmann, C. C. Colt, Edward Ehrman and William MacMaster, at a meeting held at the Commercial Club last night, concluded it would be imperative to dispense with all social formalities on that day. This action was deemed necessary after the various details as to the amusement of the thousands of Portlanders who will visit the Exposition that day were discussed. The action of the convenitors cussed. The action of the committee selected several weeks ago to dispense hospitalities on Portland day.

The committee is working hard to make the occassion a success for that body estimates at least 5000 Portlanders will visit the Exposition then. With that end in view, provisions are being made with the Northern Pacific to provide spe-cial trains to leave Portland on July 19 and 20. Sub-committees were appointed at the meeting last night to provide for the comforts of the visitors while in Seat-ile. FORMAL EXERCISES ARE HELD BY ELK'S LODGE.

Patriotic Airs Are Also Sung in Public Schools, but Without Regular Programme.

Flag Day, the 132d anniversary of the adoption of the National Emblem by Consress, was observed in the public schools yesterday with the singing of patriotic songs and short reviews of the flag's history. The occasion was also commemorated last night by the Portland Lodge of Elks, with an elaborate programme of musical and literary numbers. The patriotic address before the Elks was delivered by Alfred E. Clark, who reviewed the history of the flag and its significance as a symbol of National consciousness. He said celebrations of Flag Day were intehded to inculcate lessons of patriotism; that patriotism, however, meant more than hatred of other nations, not a mere catchword, but our standing meant more than hatred of other nations, not a mere catchword, but our standing for purity in civil life and a passionate devotion to the Nation's welfare.

SALOONS DEFY NEW LAW

Owners of Tacoma Liquor Shops Refuse to Remove Door Screens.

TACOMA, Wash., June 14.—(Special.)
—Although four days have elapsed since the new law prohibiting saloon screens went into effect, Tacoma saloonkeepers show no disposition to obey. In fact, this is the general sentiment throughout Western Washington.

Members of churches have already started a movement toward making the saloonkeepers be good, and Prosecuting Attorney McMurrary declares he will prosecute everyone if information is filed with his office. "The law will be enforced," he declares.

The saloonkeepers are anxious for a test suit. They declare that under the provisions of the law it will cost them large sums of money to make the proper alterations. There is not a saloon in the city not affected, and many of them will be forced out of business if the law is rigidly enforced, which requires that the interior of their places must be in full view of pedestrians.

There is evidence also that the "redlight district" is again coming to light, several of the places opening yesterday, despite the fact that Dec. day, despite the fact that Pete Sand-berg and Mayor Linck were recently indicted. Both Mayor Linck and Sandberg were cleared, and this is taken as an indication that things will be
