MORTGAGE CUTS BIG DEBT Conveyance of Marquam Building for $300,000 Aids Defunct Bank.

By floating a mortgage for $300,000 on the Marquam building at Sixth and Morrison streets, and on the three-story shack at Sixth and Alder streets, Receiver Howard, of the defunct Title Guarantee & Trust Company, has made possible the payment of another dividend to its creditors. This will reduce the indebtedness of the bank to about $1,000,000, half the original liability.

The Equitable Life Insurance Company, of which Paul Morton is president, made the investment, and, according to Thad Swock, will invest $450,000 additional in Portland mortgages as a start. Its other investments to total $2,000,000 or $2,000,000.

It is thought the mortgage will bring about the early sale of the Marquam property, with the consequent improvement of the block by the erection of permanent structures.

Arraigned for Alleged Fraud. C. M. Robinson was arraigned yesterday on a charge of having misrepresented that he was the owner of property and induced the Union Guarantee Association to go on his bond, when in fact he did not own the property. Judge Bronaugh set the time for pleading at 2 P. M. Friday.

FLOWERS FOR TEACHERS

ALBANY PLANS UNIQUE ENTERTAINMENT THIS YEAR.

State Instructors Will Hold Four-Day Session to Discuss Work Methods.

ALBANY, Or., June 15.—(Special)—Active plans are under way for the entertainment of the State Teachers' Association, which will meet here this month for four days. It is estimated that 800 Oregon teachers will be here to attend the convention, which will be marked by lectures and classes of instruction, conducted by some of the most prominent educators of the country.

The Albany Commercial Club will present each teacher with a neat souvenir. Manager Struble has designed a booklet, with celluloid covers, showing Albany as the "Hub of the Willamette Valley." The booklet contains a number of facts about the city which will interest the visiting teachers, including some educational data, and it will be found in the colors of the Albany High School. The Commercial Club also plans to have a committee of girls present each teacher with one of Albany's choicest roses every morning during the convention.

The general sessions of the convention will be conducted in the big Tabernacle, at the corner of Third and Ferry streets, and several buildings conveniently located within a few blocks of the Tabernacle, have been secured for the different departments of instruction.

The officers of the state Teachers' Association, who will be in charge of the big convention, are: President, W. W. Wiley, superintendent of the Newberg public schools; first vice-president, E. T. Moores, of Salem, superintendent of the Oregon Blind School; second vice-president, H. D. Shon, of Eugene, professor of education in the University of Oregon; secretary, L. A. Wiley, principal of the Shaver school, of Portland; treasurer, E. P. Carleton, of Salem, assistant superintendent of public instruction of Oregon.

Executive committee—J. H. Ackerman, of Instruction; W. W. Wiley, of Newberg, both of whom are ex-officio members, and J. M. Powers superintendent of the public schools of Salem, term expiring in 1910; P. L. Campbell, of Albany, term expiring in 1910; and W. L. Jackson, of Albany, County School Superintendent of Linn County, term expiring in 1911.

The committee of Albany teachers which is in charge of arrangements for the entertainment of the convention consists of W. L. Jackson, County School Superintendent; A. M. Sanders, superintendent of Albany public schools; H. M. Crooks, president of Albany College; Lloyd Marquam, principal of the Madison-street school; Letha McCullough, of the Maple-street school, and Lottie E. Morgan, of the Central school.

The committee which will have charge of the department of rural schools at the convention is composed of Professor L. R. Alderman, of the University of Oregon, chairman; Professor L. R. Traver, of McMinnville, County Superintendent of Yamhill County; J. Percy Wells, of Jacksonville, County School Superintendent of Clatsop County; W. M. Bunch, of Coquille, County School Superintendent of Coos County; J. H. Collins, of Rainier, County School Superintendent of Columbia County; and W. M. Smith, of Salem, County School Superintendent of Marion County.

The attendance at the schools this season has been large, and very successful results have been obtained. There has been a great deal of trouble with scarlet fever, measles and kindred diseases, but aside from that misfortune everything has gone well. A report was started yesterday in Chapman school, but this is denied by the City Health officer.

CONVENTION IS CLOSED METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL DELEGATES ADJOURN.

Mrs. A. A. Lamoreaux Completes Series of Lectures on Study of Children.

The closing of the Methodist North-west Sunday school convention at the First Methodist Church at Third and Taylor streets, yesterday, was marked by a large attendance and great enthusiasm.

Mrs. A. A. Lamoreaux, of Chicago, spoke at the morning and afternoon sessions. Her remarks were presented in an interesting manner, and received close attention.

In the morning session, after devotional services led by Rev. C. L. Hamilton, Rev. E. S. Lewis, D. D., delivered an address on "Making the Sunday School Go." He urged the fostering of athletics, handwork and social clubs, as an aid in Sunday school work.

Mrs. Lamoreaux followed, her theme being, "A Study of the Intermediate Pupil." This formed the third of her series of addresses on the study of children, and the methods to be used in rearing them to useful manhood and womanhood. In her afternoon address on "A Study of the Junior," she declared three important crises through which a child passes, to be physical, emotional and intellectual. She said encouragement was needed rather than reproach for the sensitive child.

Rev. David G. Downey, D. D., corresponding secretary of the board of Sunday schools, was heard in an address on "The Teacher's Equipment."

At the close of the convention, Mrs. Lamoreaux, of Chicago, spoke at the morning and afternoon sessions. Her remarks were presented in an interesting manner, and received close attention.

VACATION ONE DAY OFF

PORTLAND'S PUBLIC SCHOOLS WILL CLOSE TOMORROW.

Lincoln and Washington High to Hold Graduation Exercises. To Announce Results.

Portland's public schools will close tomorrow, at which time the pupils will know whether they passed the term's examination. There will be no exercises attending the graduation in the grammar or trade schools, but in Lincoln and Washington High Schools appropriate ceremonies will be held. Today is really the finishing-up period, but tomorrow the official announcement of successes and failures will be made, and the many thousands of children who have been at their studies for the last school year will be at liberty until next September.

At the Lincoln High School a class of 64 will be graduated, an appropriate program having been arranged for the occasion, which will be held tomorrow night. Professor Ackerman, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will deliver the address to the successful ones. At the Washington High School, the exercises will take place Friday night, and Circuit Judge Bronaugh will be the chief speaker. A class of 65 will be graduated there.

The attendance at the schools this season has been large, and very successful results have been obtained. There has been a great deal of trouble with scarlet fever, measles and kindred diseases, but aside from that misfortune everything has gone well. A report was started yesterday in Chapman school, but this is denied by the City Health officer.
