WILL IS FORGERY SO EXPERT SAYS

Demonstrates That Signatures of Young Were Secured by Tracings.

EACH ONE IS DUPLICATE

Handwriting Expert From Portland Springs Sensation in Trial at Pendleton-Mrs. Warner Not in the Least Disturbed.

PENDLETON, Or., June 17.—(Special.)—Professor W. W. Williams, a handwriting expert of Portland, sprang a big sensation in the famous Warner-Young will contest here today, by declaring the alleged will, the contract and the sensational letter, introduced by Mrs. Mabel Warner, were all forgeries, beyond the shadow of a doubt. Williams, when placed on the stand. Williams, when placed on the stand, proceeded to demonstrate how the forg-eries had been made and why there could be no doubt that the signature could be no doubt that the signatures to the will and other documents could not be genuine. After declaring that it was impossible for any person to write any name two times exactly alike, he produced five tracings of Young's alleged signatures taken from the will, from the contract and the letter, and showed that all five of them could be superimposed one upon the other, and that every line would fall upon the similar line underneath, there not being more the underneath, there not being more than the width of a pencil mark difference in any of them. He therefore insisted that each of the signatures had been forged by being all traced from the same model. The demonstration was all the more striking by reason of the fact that the sternish the same mone, was all the more striking by reason of the fact that the rignature to the letter was supposed to have been written 12 years after the one on the will Traces Made Over Light.

Taking a box with a glass top and containing an electric light he proceeded to make tracings before the court just as he declared they must have been done on the documents in

Williams says this case offers one of the boidest and most extensive pieces of forgery ever brought to light in the United States. He insists that not only United States. He insists that not only has the entire will with its signature been forged, but that a page contract, a two-page letter and other documents have been forged to make the will appear genuine. While the witness declared all the signatures had been furged by means of tracings, he held that only small parts of the will and the contracts had been forged in this manner, the remainder of these documents and the whole of the letter had been written off-hand with samples of Young's writing before the forger as a model.

Writings Are Dissimilar.

He then proceeded to analyze the writing of J. W. Young and that of the dis-puted documents making it appear im-possible for one person to have written them all, while it was apparent that the same person had written all of the dis-puted documents. It was shown that whereas Young always wrote in angles, there were many instances in the disputed writings where graceful curves appeared. Especially was this true in the connections between letters. Individual letters were shown to be uniformly similar in all of Young's writings and disminist in many respects to the connections. similar in many respects to the same let-ters found in the disputed documents. Another telling point brought out was the fact that in all of Young's writings there is not to be found a single period, while two periods appear in the alleged will. Practically an entire day was con-sumed by Williams on direct examination when he was turned over forms.

when he was turned over for cross-ex-amination. So far the attorney for Mrs. Warner has been unable to muddle him in the slightest. When he has finished, Professor M. A. Aibin, of Portland, will be placed upon the stand to confirm the testimony of Williams.

Woman Not Disturbed.

Mrs. Warner makes light of the testimony offered by the expert and declares her experts will make Williams look sick. She has more than 80 witnesses to introduce in rebuttal, indicating that the present trial is to be of indefinite length.

Sixty-first Commencement Is Largely Attended at Lincoln High School.

ACKERMAN GIVES ADVICE

Divides Functions of Public Education Under Four Heads and Urges Graduates to Use Care in Choosing Life Work.

Before an audience that packed the sembly hall to overflowing, Lincoln High School held its 61st commencement exercises last night, when 64 students received diplomas. The young people were the recipients of great quantities of flowers and presents sent them by friends and relatives, who filled the hall and gal-

As a march was played by the school

As a march was played by the school orchestra the graduates marched onto the platform in double file and were greeted with applause. After they were seated an interesting programme was rendered. The Lincoln High School orchestra played a selection from Rubenstein. Under the direction of Mrs. Rose Coursen Reed, the German class sang two songs from Heine. "Die Loreli" and "Die Wacht am Rhein."

Following these J. H. Ackerman, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. delivered the address to the class of 1909, the subject being "The Mission of the Public School." Mr. Ackerman said that the public schools were not for the benefit of the individual aione, but for the benefit of the state in general. He divided his address into four parts, saying the objects of the high school were that the young may get the power and the inclination to earn an honest living by honest work; to give sufficient intelligence to understand the position. the inclination to earn an honest living by honest work; to give sufficient intelligence to understand the position and duties of citizens of a free state; self-restraint, so as not to abuse power at the expense of others; and ambition to do the best work, both in kind and degree, of which one is capable.

Mr. Ackerman advised the class that one of the great lessons in life is to learn one's capabilities. Too many people, he said, try to do that for which they are totally unfitted. It should be the object of each member of the class to select those things which are in his power to do especially well and then, when the vocation has been ascertained, to have an honorable pride in doing it well, the speaker concluded.

LIKE A REAL

INTENSE INTEREST CENTERS IN THREE EVENTS AT EILERS

Sale and Demonstration of "Merry Widow" Records for Talking Machines and Pianola Pianos-Cut Prices on Standard World-Renowned Upright and Grand Pianos-Pianola Piano Display and Sale Extraordinary.

If ever this establishment was en-titled to be called "The Always Busy Corner," it certainly is so nowadays. Three distinct attractions make Ellers Plano House the objective point for all music lovers now.

Scores of buyers keep the Talking Machine Department on the jump these days. "Die Lustige Witwe" selections—the greatest operatic success of Europe and America—are much in demand, and since Eilers Plano House is the only place where all makes of talking machine records are to be obtained for all the various talking machines—Red Seal Records and regular disc records, and Edison Amberol Records, and the new Victor and Columbia Double-faced Records, etc., etc., it stands to reason that discriminating buyers will give their preference to the establishment affording opportunity for carefully comparing one make with another.

Merry Widow music rolls for the planola and other plano players equipped with standard mouthpiece, are the special attractions in the music-roll library, second floor.

THESE AROUSE INTENSE INTEREST FIRST OFF, THE MERRY WIDOW.

THESE AROUSE INTEREST Never heretofore, not even in New York, has it been possible to show such a tremendous number of latest Pianoia Pianos of each of the various styles and in the various superb and costly woods and finishes used only by the world-renowned makers of this magnificent art product.

Six solid carloads of Genuine Pianola Pianos, all of them the latest styles, were shipped to Eilers Piano House through an awkward misunderstanding on the part of our buyer and the manufacturers.

on the part of our buyer and the manufacturers.

Rather than to return the bigger portion of these instruments to the factories at additional cost for freight charges, insurance, etc., we have decided to accept them. All of these instruments are now being displayed at Rilers Piano House.

Never again will Portland witness a showing of so extensive and superb a variety of styles and designs.

MAKE YOURS A MUSICAL HOME

There's many a "silent" piane in many a home where there ought to be a Planola Piano, a genuine Pianola Piano, an instrument that is not "mechanical," but, on the contrary, makea it possible for every member of the family to produce the choicest of music with perfect individuality and expression.

We are now prepared to take such "silent pianos" in part payment for one of these very latest Metrostyle and Themodist Pianola Pianos, and we will make it an object for any owner of such old style piano to do business with us now.

Will arrange most unusual liberal terms of payment for any responsible buyer not wishing on the spur of the moment to pay the difference in cash. If you ever expect to own a Pianola Piano, now is the time to see about it, second floor.

AND FINALLY THE P. E. & B. R. MAKE YOURS A MUSICAL HOME

AND FINALLY THE P. E. & B. R.

AND FINALLY THE P. E. & B. R.

Never heretofore has opportunity been presented to buy highest grade standard makes of upright planos so very much under price. Most of these planos came to us, not because used so much, but because used so little, in part payment for the wonderful Planola Plano.

Others have been left on sale by people who wanted to dispose of them. Still others are factory samples and sgain there are some exhibition planos, prize-winners every one, that must be closed out.

The Plano Exchange and Bargain must be closed out.

The Plano Exchange and Bargain we need the room for other purposes; hence, our prices, regularly and always away below whatever may be offered elsewhere, are so low now that to see one of these instruments invariably means for any one to immediately to arrange to own it.

When we offer a $475 mottled walnut Hallet & Davis for $238, and the fanciest manogany for $17 more money, when for $22 a Fischer upright, good tone, is offered that would anywhere else bring $200, when a $500 Stelnway in good order goes for $255, and a beautiful very latest $550 slightly-used Kimball is but $296, we should get all cash for these planos.

But no one is ever ready on the spur of the moment to pay all cash for a plano. TWENTY CENTS DAILY DOES IT. plano.

We, therefore, arrange payments by the month or almost any way a purchaser prefers. $6 a month or its equivalent paid every three months will secure a plano at these cash sale prices for the mere additional simple interest.

CAN'T NAME 'EM ALL. We cannot enumerate all of the beautiful pianos that still remain un-sold in the Bargain Room. Undoubt-edly every standard make, every high class American make is represented here.

There are Baby Grand Chickerings, and Kranich & Bach, and Steck; there are Kimbalis and Chickerings and Webers, and Deckers, and Steinwaysgood, serviceable upright planos, ranging in price from $84 upwards. THESE FOR SCHOOLS, CHURCHES,

There are some organs included in this sacrifice, too.
Some splendid instruments for the home; also for schools and for churches. We'll let them go for a song. We want them out of the way.

SQUARE PIANOS, $38, ETC. There are a number of square planos, $38 buys a sweet-toned one—payments $1.50 a month buys it—other square planos are $45, $64 and $78—same little payments to dispose of them quickly. Remember, we say everything shall be found here exactly as advertised. Don't put off investigating until too late. late.
Come at once or write or telephone.
