LIMIT IS IMPOSED

Justice Olson Sentences Cruel Teamster to 60 Days.

PLEA GUILTY, NO APPEAL

Magistrate Makes Example of Man Who Boasts He Will Do With His Beast as He Likes—Friends Will Seek Pardon.

Expressing a supreme contempt for any man who can be unmercifully cruel to a dumb beast, Justice of Peace Clean yesterday in passing sentence on H. I. Itkin, a fruit vender, of 68 First street, severely arraigned the man for his heartlessness and gave him the full imprisonment limit of the law, which is 60 days in jail. Itkin was charged with overloading and beating a small pony which he was driving to a fruit wagon Thursday morning. He was arrested by Constable Wagner after information of the cruelty had been received by him by telephone from a woman, who witnessed it. "I hope this will serve as a warning to other teamsters of Portland. I know personally that many are unmercifully cruel to their horses. I intend to give them the full limit of the law when they are brought before me and the case is found to be flagrant," said the justice. "I have taken it on myself," continued Justice Olson, "to go out on the bridges and watch these teamsters. I have seen several instances where the law should interfere, because of his plea of guilty, and his only hope lies in a pardon from Governor Benson. A movement was started yesterday by his friends to that end. One of these expostulated with Justice Olson over his sentence, which he characterized as "harsh."

The argument is being used by those interested in his pardon that he has a wife and aged mother to support and that the family is in destitute circumstances. This argument was advanced to Justice Olson as a reason for withholding sentence and he offered to be one of the contributors to a fund for the wife and mother's support, but remained steadfast in his determination to give Itkin the limit.

TALKS OF TRIP ABROAD

Edward Dekum Brings Back Lesson in Civic Cleanliness.

Edward Dekum, member of the well-known Portland family, arrived here about a week ago after a 14 months' trip to Europe, during which time he visited Germany, Switzerland, France and Northern Italy. While in Lucerne last April he met Mr. and Mrs. George Russell, of Portland. Later he met Max Loeb at Wiesbaden and Mrs. Lewis Russell at Nice, France. He will remain in Portland until fall, when he will go to Honolulu for a prolonged stay. "Germany appealed to me more than any other country I visited," said Mr. Dekum yesterday. "Perhaps that was because I can speak German and spent a longer time there. Nothing impresses the traveler in Europe so much as the cleanliness and order of the streets and parks. Such obstructions as we have here, utility poles and scores of wires, are never seen there. They would not be tolerated. Where wires are not laid underground they are strung across the housetops and thus do not mar the beauty of the street. The cleanliness, too, is a characteristic that we cannot boast in this country. Large advertising billboards are not allowed. At the intersections of streets there are small boards, but only theatrical advertisements are permitted to be posted. "The most interesting city I visited was Nuremberg. Tourists generally agree that this is the most quaintly picturesque city in all Germany. In spite of the commercial prosperity which has had such a pronounced effect on most German cities, Nuremberg has retained much of its medieval character. Moreover, it is rich in historical associations."

TAFT SENDS HIS THANKS

President Appreciates Bouquet of Portland Roses.

Appreciation of the splendid bouquet of Portland roses sent President and Mrs. Taft at the opening of Rose Festival week is expressed in a communication from the President received yesterday by the Rose Festival Association. The message is as follows: Washington, D. C., June 12.—Rose Festival Association, Portland, Or., Gentlemen—I am requested to transmit to you the appreciation and thanks of the President and Mrs. Taft for the kind thoughts from your association expressed by the roses they received on June 10. Very truly yours, WILLIAM F. TAFT.

OFFICERS HOLD OVER

EPISCOPAL WOMEN CONTINUE THEM IN SERVICE.

Convention Is Most Largely Attended Yet Held and Good Gain Is Reported.

At the annual meeting yesterday afternoon of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal Churches in the diocese of Oregon the following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year: Honorary president, Mrs. A. R. Hill; acting president, Mrs. Charles Scadding; vice-president, Mrs. W. J. Burns; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. M. Oakes; recording secretary, Mrs. A. G. Barker; organizing secretary, Mrs. W. A. M. Brock; treasurer, Mrs. P. W. Berry; organist, Mrs. Bunhan Van Dusen Astoria; triennial unit offering, Mrs. Joseph A. Selwood, Salem; secretary junior classes, Mrs. A. C. Nevill; secretary study classes, Mrs. M. S. Miss Caroline P. Sheffield. Reports were rendered by the secretaries and treasurers of the various parish branches, which showed that the work had materially increased during the past year. About 300 delegates were present, the largest number in the history of the organization. Archdeacon Chambers, of Portland, and Rev. F. P. Bartlett, of Grants Pass, will conduct missions at various points in Central Oregon during the summer.

WARM WEATHER AGAIN

Mercury Climbs to 76 After Short Cool Spell.

A fair weather with northwesterly winds is predicted for Portland and vicinity for today. Following the cool spell of Wednesday and Thursday, the temperature crawled up a little yesterday and by 3 o'clock in the afternoon had reached 76 degrees. Yuma, Ariz., was the warmest spot recorded in the United States yesterday. In the desert town the thermometer went four degrees over the 100 mark. The lowest maximum temperature was at Sibley, Or.
