SABIN'S ELECTION APPEARS CERTAIN

Today's Vote Will Select Successor of Wittenberg as School Director.

Only One Announced Candidate in Field-I. N. Fleischner to Be Chairman of Board-Seventeen Polling Places Rendy.

Undoubtedly R. L. Sabin will be elected a member of the Board of Education to succeed Herman Wittenberg, the retiring chairman, in today's school election to be held from 2 to 6 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Sabin is the only candidate who has announced himself for the position, and he has the indorsement of many prominent citizens and taxpayers of the district. With the retirement of Mr. Wittenberg, L. N. Fleischner, senior member of the Board point of service, will succeed to the chairmanship.

Women owning property may participate in today's election. In fact, under the law regulating school elections, only taxpayers may vote. A strict interpretation of the statutes permits only persons whose names appear on the last preceding as-sessment roll to take part in the election of school district officials. The State Supreme Court, however, in a test case, held that when a resident of the district, man or woman, can show that he is the owner of a share of stock in a private corporation, whether his name appears on the assessment roll or not, cannot be denied the privilege of voting in school elec-

Taxpayers of the district will hold a meeting in the office of District Clerk Thomas, in the City Hall, when the results of today's election will be canvassed and the director-elect sworn in. The meeting will then be adjourned until the usual time, about the first of the year, when a similar meeting will be held for the purpose of hearing annual reports and fixing the tax levy for school purposes for the ensuing year. ensuing year.

Seventeen polling places, located to conform to the boundaries of the district, have been established for today's election. Two judges and three clerks have been selected and assigned to each voting place. Owing to the lack of interest usually manifested in these elections, particularly where there is no contest, a very light vote is expected today. The location of the various polling places is as follows:

"Merry Widow" at Bungalow.

The attraction at the Bungalow Theater, Twelfth and Morrison streets, tonight at $15 o'clock and continuing every night this week, with matiness Wednesday and Saturday, will be Henry W. Savage's New York production of the world's operatic sensation. The Merry Widow. The advance sale has been exceptionally heavy for the entire engagement, so if, you intend going, it would be well to order your seals well in advance.

"Uncle Heinle's Vacation." Hear Barbara Holland and the beauty-broller chorus sing "Ole Man Moen," and see the nightgown drill in "Uncle Helnie's Vacation," at the Lyric this week. That some of 16 hits in the bill, and the others will be the talk of the town. Matinees Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Two performances each evening, at 8 and 9:15.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS. Another New Bill-Orpheum.

Another new bill will be presented at the Orpheum at the matine today. All indications point to an exceptionally clever one and it looks to be up to the namal high standard of excellence attained by this popular amusement resert. The feature act is a little one-act playlet, "Awake at the Switch," which will be presented by Miss Margaret Moffat & Co.

Commencing with the matinee this afternoon, the management of the Grand win present an entirely new vandeville programme, replete with the best acts on the market. The Dumitrescu Vermette troupe of acrobats from Europe are the headliners and are considered among the best in the world. Lee Cooper will appear in 'The Prince of Power." COMING ATTRACTIONS.

STAR'S SUMMER BILL, MAKES HIT. Just Right Variety in Motion Pictures Provided This Week,

vided This Week,

The Star Theater's mid-Summer bill was exhibited for the first time yesterday, and was premounced a certain hit. It lacked nothing to make it flend completely. There was enough of counsely to lighten the darkness, and just enough of seriousness to make the comedy appreciated.

Going to see a motion-picture show in a real theater like the Star has every advantage. You see the best actors, stage setting and agenery in the whole wide world. You see subjects treated of every kind and in every country.

Among the excellent subjects shown yesterday were "The Diamond-Maker." "A Cry From the Well." "A New Trick." Manufacturing Laces. "Foot Little Kiddies" and several other very excellent films. The new pictorial ballad was of musual merit, and was sung with technique and rare feeling. There will be an entire change of programme Wednesday at the matines. schooner Irene. On the last trip south of the steamship Asuncion that vessel carried 15.000 barrels of oil pumped from the barge. It is expected that the craft will be righted without trouble. Standard Oil barge No. 91 was bumped on the bar while in tow of the steamer Maverick, on the morning of May 13. The Maverick hung onto the barge and brought her as far up the river as Smith's Point. Captain Daniels, of the Maverick signaled to the master of the barge that he would let go the hawer and for the latter to allow the barge to beach.

MASONRY, TEXT OF MINISTER-SHRINER

Dr. Brougher, Recent Initiate, Deplores Prejudice Against Ancient Order.

BAPTISTS ARE LIKE LODGE

Preacher States Misrepresentation of Facts or Ignorance Is Responsible for False Impression of Organization.

Initiated last Saturday night as a nember of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, A. F. and A. M., Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, pastor of the White Temple, preached last night on "Baptists and Masonry." The grand commander's class, recently initiated, accompanied by many other Scottish Rite Masons, attended the service in a body, the im-mense audience crowding the double auditorium to the doors. Many other Masons, including the Shriners, were based on the conference of the Prejudice Due to Ignorance.

The physical, mental and moral develop-ment of the world is hindered more by prejudice and narrow-mindedness than by open wickedness. We are all more or less the creatures of education and circum-stance. Many of our judgments have been stance. Many of our judgments have bee formed upon inadequate information, and once having made up our minds concern ing a certain matter, we hold to that opin ion in spite of all the opportunities w ion in spite of all the opportunities we may have for new information, new light and a more accurate knowledge of the facts. Prejudice is largely the child of ignorance and misunderstanding. There are church members who are opposed to the Masons, who have been prejudiced by some misrepresentation of the facts, or are ignorant of what Masonsy really is.

On the other hand, there are Masons who have been unfortunate in their church relations, or have been misinformed concerning the faith and practice of the church, who oppose the church and assert that the Masonic Lodge is the only church they need. It is my purpose, therefore, tonight to speak with utter plainness, and to show, in part at least, that Masons are one in their fundamental doctrines.

Instead of criticising each other, there

Instead of criticising each other, there should be co-operation in the great work of bringing about that great reign of truth, when the world shall be free from sin and its consequences, and the kingdom of God Founded on First Commandment.

The German steamship Arabia is taking lumber at the Inman-Poulsen Mills for Hankow, China. A holy and loving God as our Heavenly Father has a right to be sovereign. This is the first axiom of religion. It is the fundamental doctrine of Masonry. It is based upon the first and great commandment, "Thou shall love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and all thy soul, and all thy strength, and all thy mind." No atheist can possibly be a true Mason.

all thy strength, and all thy mind." No athelst can possibly be a true Mason.

We believe that all souls have an equal right to direct access to God. The competency of the soul under God in religion is another axiom of religion. It is one of those fundamental truths that cannot be denied. The denial of it has led to the organization of various hierarchies that have robbed the people of their soul freedom and their individual right to worship God according to the dictates of their own concording to the dictates of their own con-science. I do not intend to be unkind in my criticism of any church. But the Roman science. I do not intend to be unkind in my criticism of any church. But the Roman Catholic Church has always regarded the soul as incompetent to deal alone with God. The latty is dependent upon the priesthood. But the fundamental position of Baptists, and of Masons also, is that the individual has the right of access to God direct, without the interference God direct, without the interference of priest or pope, preacher or church. We believe in the right of the individual to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience, without the interference of the state or ecclesisatical authority. The individual should have the right to private judgment.

Every true Mason, like every true Bap-tist, accords to every man the right to his own convictions, and the freedom to express them. While this is a fundamental princi-ple with both, it is not always practiced. ple with both, it is not siways practiced. There are church members who cannot disagree with their brethren without becoming angry and spiteful. There are Masons also who have not attained that position where they are free from spite and hatred. But no man is a true Mason who will permit his personal spite or animosity to lead him to blackball anotifer man for that reason. It is difficult for men and women to accord to their neighbors the equal right to think and speak, which they ask for themselves. But it is a fundamental principle along which the world must progress. Men must be delivered from their littleness and narrowness, and be raised to the standard where they will be willing to yield up their personal grievances and give to every individual the equal right to ifree thought, speech and action.

The individual should have the right to read the Bible for himself. He is accountable to God, and God alone. This fundamental doctrine of religion denies the right of the state to interfere in the matters of religious belief, and calls for the absolute. There are church members who cannot dis able to god, and God alone. This fundamental doctrine of religion denies the right of the state to interfere in the matters of religious belief, and calls for the absolute separation of church and state. It leads to religious liberty. This is something more than religious toleration. I do not want religious toleration. I do not offer to my brother religious toleration. Religious toleration may mean that you may have a state church, as they have in Great Britain, and simply tolerate other religious denominations. But the right of every individual soul to direct access to God calls for unlimited and unfettered liberty. It means that every individual every church, every denomination, every religious sect of whatever name, shall stand equally free before God and the state. They have religious toleration in many lands, but beneath the Stars and Stripes is found that glorious American doctrine, religious liberty, for which Baptists and Masons have always stood.

We believe every soul should love its neighbor as itself. The real solution of the great social problems of life is found in the law of love, expressed in mutual help-

OFFICERS FOR YEAR CHOSEN BY EPISCOPALIANS.

Christian Unity and Higher Salaries for Clergymen Are Advocated in Address.

The twenty-first Diocesan Convention of the Episcopal Church was brought to an end yesterday. Bishop Charles Scadding, delivering his annual message at Trinity Church, congratulated the convention on having attained its majority, and then briefly reviewed the work accomplished by the church during the past 21 years.

Bishop Scadding did not think the church had kept pace with the commercial prosperity of the state, and urged his people to renewed personal consecration and effort. He referred hopefully to the work of St. Helen's Hall, the church school for girls, and to the good work school for girls, and to the good work being done by the Good Samsritan Hos-pital. While this is a church hospital, it is in no wise limited in its rule of service to Episcopalians, he said, but reaches out to all the suffering and needy, irrespect-ive of their religion. The demands upon to all the suffering and needy, irrespective of their religion. The demands upon the hospital are greater than it can well meet, and the bishop strongly advocated the building of a city hospital.

"Our policy as a church must be one of optimistic aggressiveness," he said, "and I charge every layman and clergyman to renew his efforts in the confidence of a certain faith."

The bishop advocated better salaries for dence of a certain falth."

The bishop advocated better salaries for the clergy. "Nine hundred dollars a year and no house." he sald, "is about the wage of a skilled mechanic, but no parish will be content for its pastor to live or dress as does a mechanic. Parishes should see to it that in these days, when the cost of living has increased 37 per cent over ten years ago, that an adequate increase should be made to the pastor's salary. Rally round your clergyman, encourage him, pray for him. He is God's ambassador to you and to your children; sympathize with him, give him of your loyal support, and remember that in the loyal support, and remember that in the ministry, as in other fields of service, 'the laborer is worthy of his hire.' ARCHBISHOP TAKES PART IN EAST SIDE SERVICES.

Sixty Children at Dominican Church Are Advised to Lead Lives Free From Evil.

The feast of the pure in heart and confirmation services were held yesterday morning in the Dominican Church, Clackamas and East Third streets. Archbishop Christie was present at the solemn high mass and confirmed a class of 60 children and a number of adults. The Dominican fathers celebrated solemn high mass. J. D. O'Brien was deacon and Father Schmitt subdeacon. Rev. J. R. Newell, prior of the Dominican Cathedral of San Francisco, assisted at the mass. Rev. Father Lawler took part in the services.

Just before the confirmation Archbishop Christie delivered a short address to those about to be confirmed. He told the young people what the services meant and what the authority of the Catholic Church was to administer confirmation. Archbishop Christie spoke strong words of admonition, and especially urged the class to avoid drink and all evil habits.

Confirmation followed the address, the ceremony being very beautiful and
