

NEW CAPITOL MAY BECOME AN ISSUE

Senator Rydstrom Does Not Believe Plans for Washington Statehouse Adequate.

HAS NEW GAME LAW READY

Tacoma Legislator Will Introduce Bill to Take Place of One Voted After Last Session as Result of Clerk's Error.

Some legislation concerning the proposed new state capitol in Olympia in the coming special session of the Washington Legislature is looked for by State Senator Arvid Rydstrom, of Tacoma.

The last Washington Legislature created a capitol building commission and authorized it to dispose of the state capital land grant variously estimated to be worth from $2,000,000 to $7,000,000 and to erect a new capitol on the plans adopted in 1894. These plans call for a building to cost $1,000,000 or more and the foundation for the structure was completed during Governor John R. Rogers' first administration, but work ended there.

Senator Rydstrom is chairman of the Senate committee on game. A game bill prepared by his committee had a stormy time in the regular session, but was finally passed in both houses in amended form. That was satisfactory to the majority of sportsmen throughout Washington. The bill, however, had a peculiar fate. It was introduced in the Senate on a joker which fixed a closed season on all upland game birds until 1912. This clause was stricken out in the House and an amendment committing it out. But by error of clerks, the clause remained and the mistake was not discovered until after the governor had signed the bill. Sportsmen were threatened with abatement of upland bird hunting for three years, protested and Governor Hay called the bill back and vetoed it. Thus the laws of 1907 prevail in Washington.

Senator Rydstrom will introduce a new bill in the special session if any new legislation is attempted. He has consulted with sportsmen all over Washington and believes he has a bill that will satisfy the sportsmen. He expects to have 350 copies printed so that the state will not be put to that expense. This new bill will restrict the new bill in the special session if any new legislation is attempted. He has consulted with sportsmen all over Washington and believes he has a bill that will satisfy the sportsmen. He expects to have 350 copies printed so that the state will not be put to that expense.

Would Adjourn Promptly. "The special session is called for a time that is very inconvenient to me," said Senator Rydstrom. "And, personally, I would like to vote to adjourn on the opening day, it seemed to be the impression in Olympia when I was there that Governor Hay is particularly anxious for the investigation of Land Commissioner Ross. That is what he wants the committee to do for. I was told he had had his private secretary working in Ross' office for several weeks going over records. Senator Fatland, of Tacoma, who has been doing some detective work on Ross, too.

"I don't know anything about any of the charges against the state officers and have no idea how I shall vote in the Schively case. I understand that some of the lawyers in the Senate will raise constitutional questions as to the right of the Senate to impeach Schively for acts alleged to have been committed before he was a state officer. "In my opinion, a better plan than continuing the investigating committee, would be to pass a law authorizing the State Board of Accountancy, which was created by the Legislature, to go over the books and accounts of the present and preceding state officers. I know two members of this board well, and know them to be good accountants. They tell me, however, that the new law does not give them the right to examine records for the period preceding the enactment of the law. These men are already on salary and I think would be better fitted for the work than a Legislative committee.

Wants Ruth for President. "I am for Ruth for president of the Senate. I don't know anything about the claim of Rosenhaupt, of Spokane, that he has enough votes pledged to defeat Ruth. Several weeks ago the opposition was talking Paulhamus, of Pierce County, but he did not last long. Then they brought out Falconer, of Snohomish. Then Falconer was dropped and Meyers, of Lincoln, was suggested. And now it is Rosenhaupt. I don't think there is much in it. If they should beat us, you can look for some lively times in Olympia. The factional feeling was pretty strong in the regular session. "Senator Rydstrom is one of the officers of the Pacific Contracting & Construction Company of Tacoma, which has a contract for the construction of eight miles of state road in Clark County. He is here on business connected with that and other work which he is in view.

FIGHT AGAIN IN COURT Injunction Against Removal of McLoughlin Home to Be Asked.

OREGON CITY, Or., June 20.—(Special.)—Undaunted by their failure to secure an injunction restraining the officers of the McLoughlin Memorial Association, Contractor F. S. Baker from moving the historic McLoughlin home from Main street to the public square at the top of Singer Hill, the people who are fighting to prevent the house from going on the block will tomorrow morning file an amended complaint, accompanied by an application for a temporary restraining order. Attorney John F. Clark, who is handling the case for the remonstrators, does not propose to slip up this time and will endeavor to amend his complaint in a manner that will stand the test of the courts. The complaint filed yesterday did not embrace grounds sufficient to obtain a temporary injunction, in that it failed to show that Caleb Cross, who appeared as plaintiff, would be materially injured by placing the building on the square. This amended complaint will get around this defect by providing that not only Cross but other citizens of Oregon City will be injured by the building being placed on the ground that was given to the city by McLoughlin.

Block 40, which is the official name of the public square, where the McLoughlin Memorial Association expects to place the home, contains about 25,000 square feet and the building will occupy 1500 square feet, leaving 24,000 square feet of space for the public. Contractor Baker laid off his men today and it is expected that active steps will be taken in moving the structure while the matter is pending in the courts.

will affect the spawning of the shad, and if next week is full of warm days there is every prospect of a heavy egg take. "The work is being carried on under the direction of Superintendent Henry O'Malley. There are now about 2,000,000 trout fry at the Clackamas station, and these are being distributed throughout Oregon and Washington. Three million steelhead eggs were taken at the Cazadero hatchery and the season closed last Friday.

LAD'S A-Y-P TRIP BARRED

Portland Youngster Confesses Stealing Horse to Ride to Seattle.

Eleven years old and bound for the A.-Y.-P. on a stolen horse, H. McKinstry, a Portland lad, was arrested at Vancouver last night, the runaway confessing when quizzed by a livery stable man to whom he offered the steed for $5. Knowledge of the capture of the youngster at Vancouver was reported to the local police last night. The lad stated he had hired the horse at Sixteenth and Jefferson streets in Portland last Saturday morning and started out on Exhibition bent. Disturbing the neighbors he had undergone in reaching Vancouver, he decided to sell the horse and finish his proposed trip to Seattle by train. His attempt to dispose of the horse for a tiny sum was his undoing. Young McKinstry has a penchant for running away, having been reported to the police several times for leaving his home on fly-by-night sojourns.

Catholic and Episcopal Clergymen See No Harm in Sport.

ELGIN, Ill., June 21.—Rev. J. J. McCann, pastor of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, announced from the pulpit yesterday that he was not opposed to Sunday baseball. "As long as a man attends to his religious duties," said Father McCann, "I can see no harm in watching or participating in a game of baseball on Sunday. Sunday is a day of rest and after religious duties have been attended to an innocent pastime does no harm." I. W. Beal of the Episcopal Church, also said Sunday baseball is not objectionable.

Weaver is accused of wrecking the buggy he was driving near Grand Mound, taking the horse down the harbor branch and selling it. The animal was recovered. S. Enoch, who had been ranching near Centralia, was also landed in jail. He is charged with obtaining money under false pretenses and is accused of check forgery. Enoch was captured in Portland.

COURT KEEPS CHANGE

YAKIMA JUDGE GIVEN EXTRA FIVE CENTS.

Cigarette Smoker Pays Fine and Lawyer Insists Jurist Accepted Tip.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., June 20.—(Special.)—Justice Herman D. Hunt fined a man arrested for smoking a cigarette five cents. The costs amounted to $2.35 and the convicted man handed the Judge $3, remarking as he was leaving the room, "Keep the change."

An out-of-town lawyer exclaimed: "Why the Justice took that tip." He stoutly maintained that the Sheriff present at the time failed in his duty for not arresting the court.

A Yakima lawyer, interviewed today, thought this might be interpreted as a tip, but that the intent of the tipper and the tipped were to be considered before coming to conclusions. It is not of record that the Judge kept the money, which undoubtedly is now in the county treasury. The Yakima Valley is hostile territory for the cigarette smoker from one end to the other. Cigars, chewing tobacco, pipes or any description of snuff are allowed, but the cigarette is condemned.

For a day last week it was reported that the prosecuting Attorney of Kittitas County would not prosecute offenders against the new law. He has since changed his mind. The Sheriff in Kittitas County seems enthusiastic. In Yakima County Sheriff Lancaster and his assistants have been active. In Benton County one arrest has been made at Prosser and the case has been temporarily continued. At Cornucopia, the town Constable announces that he will not prosecute anyone he sees smoking cigarettes. Across the river in Franklin County Prosecutor Hinman says the cigarette must not be used.

MANY TO ENTER BIG SHOOT

John Philip Sousa Will Contest at Chicago Event.

CHICAGO, June 20.—"Practice" started today at the traps of the Chicago Gun Club, near West Pullman, and marked the opening of the 16th grand American handicap tournament. While the big event of the meeting is not to be shot until Thursday, more than 600 marksmen already are on the grounds. Of these 400 have sent in entries to Secretary Shaner of the Interstate association, who will be in charge of the preliminary shooting.

TWO DOCTORS RECOVER

We have a letter from Clarence W. Clark, Esq., of No. 440 Twentieth street, Ogden, Utah, temporarily stopping at Hot Springs, Arkansas, who takes us over the case of two patients at Hot Springs for not letting laws be enforced. The two patients who there are specifics for Bright's Disease and Diabetes. We quote: "I came to Hot Springs for Diabetes Mellitus. After I arrived I met two physicians who cured themselves of Diabetes by taking the compound. One of these was Dr. D. P. Shattuck, of Independence, Iowa. The name of the other I do not remember. I figured that if it was good for doctors it would be good for me, so I commenced taking it and am much gratified. I have been taking the compound and drinking Mountain Valley Water and taking these baths for four weeks, and have not a trace of sugar. The physician who made this claim was unable to explain the marked change. I did not tell him what I was doing. I have had too much trouble in obtaining your compounds here. It is too little understood and I don't see why you don't put it more extensively before the public at such places as this, where patients congregate from all over the country. I have saved every wrapper I could and gave them to patients or sent them out to them."

Office May Be Abolished.

It is suggested that those after Schively realize this and will not attempt law enactment but will instead offer a law abolishing the office to enact which would simply require a majority vote of the Senate. This will lose Schively, but it is contended on one hand that he would under the law be entitled to draw the full $5000 annual salary for the balance of a four-year term and on the other hand that the salary would stop with the abolishment of the office.

Chance for Politicians.

There are possibilities in this politicians are not overlooking. The present committee, for instance, has probably so far discovered absolutely nothing that was not generally known so long ago as last session, or possibly further back. Schively's is the only case the committee has closed and while the committee has assembled details and gathered the matter into legal form, the facts generally are simply those charged publicly against Schively during the primary campaign of a year ago. Yet while the committee has been in session, dozens of charges have gained currency reflecting upon as many other state officers and employees and these men are today under more or less suspicion. It is pointed out that to continue the investigations will be but to stir up public suspicion anew and more extensively, until, if any, of the present officers escape being under a cloud.

Report Is With Printer.

The committee report has reached Olympia and with the message which Governor Hay will send with it to the Legislature, is in the hands of the printer. Several hundred copies are to be printed, some of which will be mailed out to the newspapers for release and others will be delivered to the members of the Legislature Wednesday. Already those who opposed the investigation are complaining bitterly they have not been advised of the committee's report and asserting it is being purposely withheld so it may be sprung Wednesday and snap action taken before the opportunity may examine the report in detail.

Schively Strikes at Hay.

"You may quote me as saying those who think Governor Hay is honest and doing what he is doing from pure motives and to accomplish what he thinks best for the people but what they are mistaken. Hay is neither patriotic nor honest. First, last and all the time he seeks not what will benefit the state nor the people but what will make for his personal aggrandizement. He is all the time looking out for M. E. Hay, personally, socially and financially. He would sell out the state, his friends and his family any time if it would help him to do so. He cannot be trusted in any way and the people of the state will learn this fact to their sorrow."

Which would seem to indicate one J. H. Schively is some worried. But he still swears he will not resign until he may do so. Sam Nichols talked the same way up to a few hours before he surrendered the office of Secretary of State.

TWO GRAFT CHARGES FAIL

Officials of Pacific County Accused on Filmy Pretext.

SOUTH BEND, Wash., June 20.—(Special.)—In the Superior Court today the case of the state against W. R. Gray, an ex-County Commissioner, who was indicted last fall on a charge of larceny, was dismissed by Judge Rice. Mr. Gray was accused of taking with him, on his removal to Centralia, a compass belonging to the county and valued at $100. The testimony showed that Gray did not know that the compass was packed with his goods, and his only offense was, in not promptly returning it. The case of the state against A. P. Leonard, against whom informations were filed on a charge of embezzling money paid for hunters' and saloon licenses, was continued. It transpires now that Sheriff Clark had Leonard charged with $300 in a case where no money was paid in. The license was simply transferred from one man to another.

If you've been smoking five cent cigars you will wonder why PUCK tastes so much better. PUCK tastes better because it's a good smoke—a free smoke—a smooth well blended cigar with a long well blended filler and thoroughly seasoned binder wrapped in a genuine imported Sumatra leaf.
