LUMBER OUTPUT SMALLER IN 1908

United States Produced 17 Perd Cent Less in Consequence of Panic.

WASHINGTON LEADS ALL

Banner State in Industry, With Oregon Eighth-Louisiana Is Now Second-Yellow Pine Leads All Kinds of Lumber.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, June 21.—During the year 1908 51,221 sawmills in the United States manufactured 52,239,269,000 feet of lumher, according to a preliminary report just issued by the Bureau of the Census. Just issued by the Bureau of the Census. These mills also cut 12,106,483,000 shingles and 2,886,884,000 lath. Lumber manufacturing, like every other industry, feit the effects of the business depression which began in October, 1907. Consequently the production in 1908 was below that for the previous year. In 1907 the cut of 28,850 sawmills was 40,256,154,000 feet, the highest production ever recorded. Notwithstanding. therefore, that in 1908 reports were received from 8 per cent more mills than an 1907, the decrease in lumber cut reported by them was slightly over 17

Washington Leads States.

Washington, as for several years past, still ranks first among the states in lumber production, its cut in 1308 being 2,915,928,000 feet—a decrease of 22.8 per cent from the cut in 1907. Nearly all the lumber manufactured in Washington is Douglas fir, the market for which was seriously affected by the panic.

Louisiana ranks second, with 2,722,-Louisiana ranks second, with 2,722,421,000 feet, a decrease of 250,000,000 feet, or 8.4 per cent from the cut in 1907. Louisiana is first in the production of both yellow pine and cypress.

manufacturers of yellow pine and Douglas fir.

Mississippi was the third state in lumber production in 1908, with a total of 1,861,916,000 feet—a decrease of 11 per cent from the cut in 1907.

Arkaneas ranked fourth, with 1,656,-991,000 feet—a decrease of nearly 17 per cent, and Wisconsin fifth, with 1,618,315,000 feet against 2,003,279,000 feet in 1907.

In Texas, where the lumber industry

In Texas, where the lumber industry is confined almost exclusively to yellow pine, the falling off was very neavy. The total cut of the state in 1908 was 1,524,008,000 feet—a decrease of 31.6 per cent from the cut in 1907.

Oregon Ranks Eighth.

Eight other states manufactured more than 1,000,000,000 feet each of iumber last year. In the order of importance they were: Michigan, Oregon, Mianesota, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Alabama, North Carolina and West Virginia. California and Maine, other states which reported more than 1,000,603,000 feet each in 1907, went just below that figure in 1908.

The totals for a few states were great-ma, North the finite California and fates which reported more than Luciente specific with the figure in 1908.

The totals for a few states were greater in 1808 than in 1807, but this was chiefly due to the larger number of reports secured in those states in 1808. In Georgia, for instance, a particularly close canvass increased the number of mills reporting nearly one-third, while the resulting increase in reports of total production was only 6 per cent. While there are many very large saw-mills in the United States, the small mills far outnumber the large ones, and it is particularly interesting to note how many of these small mills there are in the states which are not now of first rank in lumber production. The statistics for in lumber production. The statistics for New York were collected by the Forest, Fish and Game Commissions of that state, which secured reports from 2291 mills. In Permsylvania 2224 mills reported to the census, and in Virginia 1837 mills. In North Carolina reports came from 1740 mills, and in Kentucky from 1530 mills. The number of mills reporting from Tehnessee was only 40 less than from Kentucky. In West Virginia, Georgia, Missouri, Ohio and Indiana between 1000 and 1100 mills each were engaged in cutting lumber last year. The average output per mill was 350,000 feet in New York and 5,220,000 feet in Louisiana, these two states presenting nearly the extremes of production by small and large mills.

Yellow Pine Ranks First.

Yellow Pine Ranks First.

Yellow pine, Douglas fir, white pine, cak, hemiock and spruce in the order named, were the woods cut into lumber in the largest quantity. Yellow pine has ranked first since it surpassed white pine in the lead. More recently white pine has also been superseded by Douglas fir, so that now it occupies third place.

Washington has been the principal shingle-producing state since the use of red cedar shingles became general, and it supplied three-fifths of the total output of shingles last year. Among the other shingle-producing states Michigan Louislana and Maine and California were the most important. The shingles cut in Michigan and Maine are chiefly of white cedar, those in Leuislana of cypress, and those in California of redwood. Lath are generally a hyproduct of lumber manufacture, and are made to some extent from almost every wood that is cut into lumber. Among the kinds of lath which are almost every wood that is cut into lumber. Among the kinds of lath which are most prominent are white pine. Douglas fir, spruce, yellow pine, cypress and hemlock.

DESCENDANT OF LA PAYETTE LIVES IN NEW YORK CITY

Copyright 1969 by Geo. Grantham Bain. COUNT LA FAYETTE.

NEW YORK, June 21.—(Special.)—Count LaFayette, representative of the family bound so closely to the American Nation by its record during the War of the Revolution, has been living in New York for six months, engaged in business enterprises. His last visit to the United States was when he came to Washington as the representative of his family at the unveiling of the Rochambeau monument at Washington and visited the World's Fair at St. Louis. After he had been in this country for a short time, the Count began to receive inquiries concerning an organization formed for civic betterment which gave a dinner recently at one of the big restaurants and had some eminent men in its list of speakers. The organizer of this association was a man calling himself "Lafayette-Savay," who chimmed to be a representative of the LaFayette family. No one knew anything about Mr. Lafayette-Savay except what he claimed for himself, but everyone took him at his word and he gained a good deal of prominence and probably a good deal of cash through his public dinner. Some time afterward, Count LaFayette met "Lafayette-Savay" and asked him on what grounds he claimed membership in the LaFayette family. Mr. "Lafayette-Savay" said he had always been told by his mother that he was a member of the family He had no other proof to offer and Count LaFayette says he wants it understood that the LaFayette family is not offering the people of the United States gratuitous advice on affairs of government, whether National or municipal. Pay for Water for That Purpose. OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, June 21.—Representative Hawley has been advised by Secretary Ballinger that settlers on the Klamath irrigation project, whose lands are crossed by public roads, must pay for water for the roadways included in their farms, though exception is made in the case of lands crossed by railroads or big irrigation canals. The Secretary also advises Representative Hawley that no serious difficulty can arise from the fact that the Government surveys and plats of the units on the Klamath project fall to coincide with actual charts of the farms. In case of difference in this respect the settler must pay for water according to the actual area of his land, and not according to the area recorded on the plat. The fact that there is a discrepancy, it is said, will not interfere with sales of lands, as they are sold according to metes and bounds and by measurement, rather than from Government plates. igton, June 21.-Representative Hawley
