PLAY IS RENDERED UNDER STARRY SKY

Schiller's "Maid of Orleans" Is Performed at Harvard by 2000 Persons.

GREENSWARD FOR STAGE

Students Represent Serfs and Militia Contending Armies—Maid Is Maude Adams—Real Sheep and Actual Trees.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 22.—The experiment of producing Schiller's "Maid of Orleans" beneath starry skies with close approach to the historic details surrounding the bright figure of the 15th century was carried out with considerable success tonight in the Harvard stadium by Miss Maude Adams and a company numbering about 2000 persons. The greater part of the working force of the Frohman syndicate was actually engaged in the production.

The beauties of Schiller's lines and the magnitude of the plan of reproduction combined to make the few hours in the stadium this evening a period of intense pleasure. The historic settings were fully maintained throughout, from the little pastoral scene in Joan's father's home with the flocks of living sheep and actual trees of the forest, the splendor of the French court, the clash of the English and French arms, the coronation pageant and the death scene in the cathedral.

The motley crowds of serfs were made up of Harvard students. Men of the state militia marched as archers and spearsmen in the French and English armies. Horsemen from militia batteries clattered into the arena in coats of mail, while able actors in armor tramped the greensward and clashed in duels in the most realistic manner. And through all the scenes threaded the slim figure of Miss Adams as the French maid—first in a homely peasant's dress, then in a brilliant armor and seated on a milk-white charger, and finally in the knightly costume that at last became her shroud.

The performance moved with remarkable smoothness, considering its immensity and the fact that opportunity for repeated rehearsals had not been found.

SHORT NAMED FOR CADET

Astoria Lad Recommended for Appointment to Annapolis.

ASTORIA, Or., June 22.—(Special.)—Word was received from Washington today that upon the recommendation of Representative Ellis, Edwin T. Short, eldest son of the Rev. William Seymour Short, of this city, has been appointed as cadet at the Annapolis Naval Academy. The alternates named for the position are Oliver B. Cardwell, of Portland; Henry N. Fowler, of Portland, and Hawley Bean, of Portland.

Mr. Short is a native of Astoria, 18 years old and graduates with this year's class from the Astoria High School. He is one of the best-known and most popular young men in the city, and has made an excellent record in his studies as well as being a leader in athletics in the local school.

BEACH RESORT STARTLED

Presence of Tents and Army Officers Disturbs Cottagers.

NEWPORT, Or., June 22.—(Special.)—The Summer tourists residing in cottages at Seal Rocks, ten miles below here, had a shock Sunday morning when they discovered a number of tents resembling a circus pitched in their scenic landscape. The intruders were members of the United States Engineer Corps in command of Lieutenant Hayden, U. S. A., who are surveying the Coast for a war map.

When assured by the soldiers that war had not been declared they were much relieved and swapped stories with the engineers, who lately were stationed in Cuba. Ex-Governor Lord, Mrs. Breyman, Squire Farrar, J. O. Baker, of Salem, and Professor Hawthorne, of the University of Oregon, are the regular visitors to that quiet resort.

TROUBLE IS THREATENED

Nonunion Fishermen Set Upon by Old Employes.

VANCOUVER, Wash., June 22.—(Special.)—Although the strike of the local fishermen called by a walking delegate is supposed to be a "gentlemanly" one, it is known that yesterday 18 non-union men working on the New England Fish Company's boat, Kingfisher, came nearly getting beaten up because they hesitated in getting off the boat.

The Kingfisher left port today with non-union men. The strike was caused by the refusal of one man to join the union, and does not concern the company. The strikers are picketing the docks.

HOTEL PROPRIETOR FINED

Importation of French Chef Held to Be Violation of Labor Laws.

NEW YORK, June 22.—The importation of Robert Creau, a French chef, who was to get a salary of more than $100 a week to concoct French delicacies for patrons of the Hotel Knickerbocker, was held today by the United States District Court to be a violation of the contract labor law. A fine of $1000, therefore, was imposed upon James B. Regan, proprietor of the hotel.

GENTRY RELEASED AT LAST

After Serving 14 Years for Murder, Former Actor Is Pardoned.

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—After serving 14 years in jail for the murder in this city in 1895 of Madge Yorke, an actress in "The Baggage Check" company, James B. Gentry, a former actor, walked out of the Eastern Penitentiary tonight a free man. His pardon was granted yesterday.

CAPE COD CANAL STARTED

August Belmont Turns Up First Spadeful of Earth on New Route.

SANDWICH, Mass., June 22.—In turning a spadeful of earth at Bournedale half way across Cape Cod today, August Belmont, of New York, declared that a formal beginning had been made for the construction of the long looked-for Cape Cod canal.

A canal to obviate the necessity of mariners circling Cape Cod en route to or from Boston, has long been planned, but not until a few years ago did the matter take form. The new canal is to be financed by August Belmont & Co., who have underwritten $6,000,000 in bonds and $6,000,000 in stocks of the Boston, Cape Cod & New York Canal Company, for which a charter was obtained.

A dozen prominent financiers recently joined to construct the canal, and Mr. Belmont was commissioned to raise the funds.

The canal will be about 12 miles long and about 30 feet deep. The new canal will shorten the route from Boston to New York by 74 miles over the Vineyard Sound route and 132 miles over the outside sea route, around the Cape. The distance, therefore, will be equally shortened between Boston and all other South Atlantic ports.

OOLEY COMES TO GRIEF

BELLIGERENT LABORER FINDS HE CAN'T WHIP EVERYBODY.

After Raising "Rough House" at His Home, Starts to Fight Neighbor and Policeman Puts Him Out.

Imbued with amber fluid and confidence in his pugilistic prowess, C. L. Ooley, a laborer residing at 606 Ellsworth street, set out to settle old scores with his unfriendly neighbors shortly after 7 o'clock last night. Today the belligerent Ooley is carrying his right arm in splints undergoing the attendant pains to a compound fracture. Aside from that, he is suffering the mental anguish of being a prisoner under the surveillance of the police.

Ooley left a North End saloon shortly after 6 o'clock and veered his course toward home. His arrival failed to incite any salutations in the hearts of his helpmeet and three of his offspring. This technical oversight aroused the indignation of the man of war. He immediately cleared his decks for action. For several minutes the battle progressed with intensity. Not until his supply of ammunition, consisting of convenient dishes, tinware and furniture, ran out, did he desist in his activities.

Then Ooley's militant efforts took him to the home of an unfriendly neighbor named Raymond. The usual courtesies of battle descended to the plane of Queensberry rules, embellished with a side issue of rocks, clubs and an ax. While the hand-to-hand conflict waged betwixt the unneighborly factions, scores of neutral forces were attracted to the theater of war. Some sympathetic spectator dispatched a messenger to the home of a peace impelling officer. That official in the person of Night Patrolman R. T. Steward, who was making the last leg of a jaunt through slumber land, bounded to the relief of the warring forces some blocks distant. There the officer dived into the midst of the conflict. Failing in his efforts to release the unfriendly clinch Ooley adjusted about Raymond's neck, Officer Steward made one supreme effort and succeeded. Without further preliminary sparring for holds, the incensed Ooley closed in on the officer. For a few moments the two struggled for supremacy, and then came the sickening thud. Both fell heavily to the ground with Officer Steward on top.

Then the activities ceased. Ooley, emitting groans of pain, was assisted to his feet by his adversary. His right arm hung limply at his side. He calmly acknowledged his ultimate defeat and submitted to arrest.

Ooley was taken to police headquarters and charged with disorderly conduct. From there he was removed to the Good Samaritan Hospital, where the fractured member was set by City Physician Ziegler. Ooley will be brought before the Municipal Court as soon as his injury permits.

HARRISON'S HOPES GONE

LOEFFLER'S DEATH DISSIPATES EX-MAYOR'S STRENGTH.

Democratic Chief of Chicago Was Counted Upon to Get Harrison Named.

CHICAGO, June 22.—(Special.)—William Loeffler, ex-City Clerk and for many years a leading Democratic politician, died this morning at Henrotin Memorial Hospital, where he underwent an operation for gallstone a week ago yesterday. The knell for the Mayoralty aspirations of Carter H. Harrison was heard by many politicians today in the announcement of the death of Loeffler, whose ability to deliver delegates and votes has stood the ex-Mayor of the city in good stead in many primaries and election campaigns.

With the passing of Loeffler, Harrison's strength on the West Side will go to pieces, it is predicted. With the direct primary law off the statute books, the leaders say, it would be difficult to make up for this loss unless the enactment of another direct primary law should prevent the Democratic chieftains from nominating a Mayor in caucus and convention, as they always have.

CHANGE APPLE SHOW DATE

Spokane Hopes to Ship Wyoming Exhibit to Chicago Show.

SPOKANE, Wash., June 22.—(Special.)—The date of the National Apple Show, it is believed, will be set ahead three weeks, and the big Spokane show held from November 15 to 20, inclusive, instead of December 6 to 11, the date already announced.

This action may be taken by the board of trustees in order that the exhibits of prize-winners may be shown at Chicago in connection with its great land exhibition November 29.

Secretary Ren H. Rice says "If the prize-winning exhibit is to go to Chicago, we will have to hold our show from November 25 to 20. We expect there will be about seven carloads of apples in the exhibit, and the packers will go from here on a special train."

ELLIS NOT UNION PACIFIC

Washington Supreme Court Dismisses Suit on Technicality.

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 22.—(Special.)—Although E. E. Ellis, of Seattle, uses Union Pacific signs and letterheads, the Supreme Court finds today he is general agent only of the O. R. & N. and Southern Pacific, and therefore orders dismissed a suit of the Arrow Lumber & Shingle Company against the Union Pacific, because the papers were served only on Ellis.

HIS SEAT RICKETY

Reichstag May Force Von Buelow to Resign.

TAXATION SCHEME RIDDLED

House Adopts Tax on Stocks and Bonds and Committee Rejects Inheritance Tax—Election May Be Result.

BERLIN, June 22.—The political situation for the crown is extremely confused by today's events. The Reichstag's adoption of a quotation tax, which Chancellor von Buelow declared the government would never accept, and the finance committee's rejection of an inheritance tax, which he declared to be an essential part of the central scheme of finance reform and which the Conservatives and Clericals are determined to defeat, leaves the Chancellor's position precarious.

Many politicians think the Chancellor will be compelled to resign, unless he has the courage to dissolve the Reichstag and appeal to the country.

Dissolution can take place only on joint action by the Emperor and the Federal Council.

The proposal to impose a yearly tax on bonds and stocks was adopted by 203 votes against 155. The tax is to be calculated on the basis of the average quotation for the preceding year and the rate of interest on this amount which the current dividend yields. The tax will then be deducted by the companies from the dividends before payment.

BRIEF HOPE BLASTED

COURT CLERK'S MISTAKE GIVES PRISONER JOY.

Reads Verdict "Not Guilty," Then Corrects It to "Guilty" With Life Term.

CHICAGO, June 22.—A fleeting hope of freedom held out to a prisoner in Judge Brentano's court today was snatched from him in a way that created much pity when it was discovered the clerk should have read the jury's verdict as "guilty" instead of "not guilty."

The prisoner was Frank O'Donnell, accused of robbing a citizen at the muzzle of a revolver. The foreman of the jury handed the clerk two forms, one for guilty and the other for acquittal.

"Not guilty," read the clerk absent-mindedly, failing to note that he was reading the unsigned form. O'Donnell jumped from his seat, excitedly laughing, and wrung his lawyer's hand. He started from the room with his head in the air and his eyes sparkling. Then the mistake was discovered and O'Donnell was brought back. His head was sunken on his chest as the real verdict was delivered:

"Guilty and condemned to serve the term of his natural life in the Penitentiary."

CITY SCHOOLS IMPROVED

Newport Board Proposes to Increase Pay of Teachers.

NEWPORT, Or., June 22.—(Special.)—An enthusiastic meeting of the local Board of School Directors was held today, when T. C. Holleck was elected chairman to succeed S. G. Irvin, Dr. Minthorn and H. D. Blakely being retained. The citizens of Newport want the city to be a place for homes as well as for tourists, and in consequence have built up a thorough educational system. To the present courses in the high school, namely, scientific, classical and commerical, have been added a department of manual training and school of music. Next year there will be two more teachers, and it is proposed to raise the present salary of the instructors and to retain only capable educators.

Owing to the work of the County School Superintendent, R. P. Goin, who has added $500,000 worth of taxable land to this district, the financial condition is good. The remarkable increase of pupils in the last year who formerly attended schools elsewhere is responsible for the prompt action of the Newport people.

TWO WHO FAIL COMPLAIN

Centralia High School Students Start Much Town Discussion.

CENTRALIA, Wash., June 22.—(Special.)—Considerable discussion and bad feeling has arisen in this city over the failure of two pupils to receive diplomas from the High School.

The pupils in question claim that they knew nothing of their failure to complete the required work until the day of closing, and that had they been notified in time they could have completed even at that late date. The faculty and board assume no responsibility in the matter beyond their duties as outlined by law, and state that the delinquent pupils had not only had the same opportunity as the others to know the requirements of the course of study, but had been warned of their shortage.

Both sides have aired their grievances in the local papers, and in at least one instance the pupil has not only shown by his composition that he was not worthy of a diploma, but has also laid the school open to censure for allowing a pupil of such meager attainments to occupy a position in the senior class.

Silverfield's Storage of Furs

Now is the time to think of furs. The commonest cause of their injury is moths. Let us relieve you of the anxiety of caring properly for your furs.

Before storing them we give them a thorough examination and scientific cleaning. This alone is worth more than our storage charge.

Summer Prices—BIG SAVINGS on Remodeling and Repairing

The prudent person will have the repairing and remodeling of furs done during the Summer. Labor is cheaper and the attention given that cannot be had in the busiest season.

It is also equally advantageous to order new fur garments now. You save money and you get the new Fall styles, as well now as later on.

THIS IS THE BEST TIME OF THE YEAR

FOR A NEW PLATE OR BRIDGE.

As there is little or no danger of sore gums or other troubles while Spring lasts. Our plates give the mouth a natural expression, and will prove a lasting comfort.
